Hollywood's Image of the South David Ebner, Larry Langman, 2001-09-30 From the 1920s and 1930s when American cinema depicted the South as a demi paradise populated by wealthy landowners glamorous belles and happy slaves through later more realistic depictions of the region in films based on works by Erskine Caldwell Tennessee Williams William Faulkner and Robert Penn Warren Hollywood's view of the South has been as ever changing as the place itself This comprehensive reference guide to Southern films offers credits plot descriptions and analyses of how the stereotypes and characterizations in each film contribute to our understanding of a most contentious American time and place Organized by subjects including Economic Conditions Plantation Life The Ku Klux Klan and The New Politics Hollywood's Image of the South seeks to coin a new genre by describing its conventions and attitudes Even so the Southern film crosses all known generic boundaries including the comedy the women's film the noir and many others This invaluable guide to an under recognized category of American cinema illustrates how much there is to learn about a time and place from watching the movies that aim to capture it

Southern Sounds From The North Richard L. Doran, 2008-11-06 Historically the state of Ohio has maintained an active role in the promotion of southern gospel music Many gospel artists including some of the Nation's finest were either born or lived a portion of their life in Ohio Development of these ministries and the events that have taken place along the way has become a valuable part of Ohio's history Over the past two years desiring to preserve a portion of this history I have completed extensive research interviewing gospel artists throughout the state I then compiled this information into a unique collection of history to be shared with everyone To help the reader more fully appreciate life on the road the stories of these gospel artists are presented within the context of eight road tours covering the entire state of Ohio Travelling along on each tour we will experience a variety of emotions from laughter to frustration At each stop we will learn some fascinating facts about the town and while in town we'll stop by and visit with a few of those southern gospel artists and or groups who claim the town as part of their heritage Each tour will end with a short walk down memory lane as we view photos of those gospel artists whom we have just visited So come on Open the book climb on board and prepare yourself for eight exciting tours across the great state of Ohio where we'll meet some truly inspiring people Hope you enjoy the book

Matthews,2018-10-26 In his expansive history of documentary work in the South during the twentieth century Scott L Matthews examines the motivations and methodologies of several pivotal documentarians including sociologist Howard Odum photographers Jack Delano and Danny Lyon and music ethnographer John Cohen Their work salvaged and celebrated folk cultures threatened by modernization or strived to reveal and reform problems linked to the region's racial caste system and exploitative agricultural economy Images of alluring primitivism and troubling pathology often blurred together neutralizing the aims of documentary work carried out in the name of reform during the Progressive era New Deal and civil rights movement Black and white southerners in turn often resisted documentarians attempts to turn their private lives into public symbols The accumulation of these influential and occasionally controversial documentary images created an enduring complex and sometimes self defeating mythology about the South that persists into the twenty first century
