Some Sort of a Life Miriam Karlin, 2014-03-19 I have never ever wanted to write an autobiography The number of times I have been approached and every time I said no no it s a wank Miriam Karlin is that rare creature a pillar of the British acting establishment who is at the same time a thoroughgoing maverick During sixty distinguished workaholic years of acting she has been a West End regular and RSC company actor a pioneering performer on live television half of a radio double act with Peter Sellers a stand up comic a scene stealing character actor in such films as The Entertainer and A Clockwork Orange and of course the truculent whistle blowing shop steward Paddy in the long running TV sitcom The Rag Trade with her catchphrase Everybody Out Parallel to her career as an actor are her lifelong socialist beliefs her unerring sense of justice and her political activism Miriam s life also has been a long battle against addiction to alcohol prescription drugs gambling cigarettes and dieting she recently revealed herself in the Observer as the world s oldest bulimic challenges she describes in Some Sort of a Life with great humour and irreverence

Dictated to Jan Sargent as Miriam was recovering from mouth cancer an experience she describes in a chapter typically entitled Sans teeth sans f ckin everything she is compellingly candid about the people in her life her family part of which perished in the holocaust her friends and the eminent figures she has worked with such as Laurence Olivier Peter Sellars Stanley Kubrick Tony Hancock and Barry Humphries Above all though she is utterly honest about herself her love affairs and abortions her battles with eating disorders and illness her gradual disillusionment with the Labour Party and the state of Israel and her own compulsive nature which accounts for many of the highs and lows of her fascinating life Some Sort of a Life is an autobiography refreshingly free of self justification and recrimination and full of the passion and earthy humour of one of our finest character actors

A Taste for Comfort and Status Christine Adams,2000-01-01 The Lamothes were an ordinary family in eighteenth century Bordeaux Well to do and well respected by their neighbors they were local notables whose private and public lives suggest the importance of family kin and friendship networks professional activities and cultural interests as well as a desire to serve the public good In this portrait of the Lamothes Christine Adams explores the development of middle class identity among urban professionals and reconsiders the role of this social group in the coming French Revolution The most striking feature of this family history is that it is based on more than three hundred personal letters that circulated among the Lamothes parents and seven siblings over a period of twenty five years Such a collection is rare for this period and Adams makes the most of it Her study lends remarkable texture to provincial middle class life She weaves these letters into every aspect of the Lamothes experience professional literary intellectual social and civic She demonstrates a sustained mobilization of all family skills and resources to maintain the status of the males of the family and preserve rather than risk the family s emotional and material stability While their conservative lifestyle suggests that the Lamothes were not revolutionary they were nonetheless part of the bourgeoisie Adams thus taps into a potent debate about middle class consciousness and identity in the eighteenth century arguing against those historians who doubt that such a social class existed in France before 1789
