Unconditional Democracy Toshio Nishi, 2013-09-01 The difficult mission of a regime change Toshio Nishi gives an account of how America converted the Japanese mindset from war to peace following World War II

The Road to Quality Control Nicholas Fisher, Yutaka Tanaka, William Woodall, 2018-12-28 Professor Woodall's essay shows that this book represents a remarkable contribution even by today's standards because of its contemporary thinking about the relationship between the specific topic of SQC and the broader company context of Quality Management It also demonstrates the remarkable awareness of at least some young US engineers in the post war period about the vital role of Statistical Quality Control in establishing and maintaining a competitive position The book reveals that there was unsuspected knowledge extant immediately post war about the importance of Statistical Quality Control when appropriately applied in an industrial setting It also helps to correct wide spread historical misconceptions about who specifically was responsible for helping Japanese industry get back on its feet post war a task assigned to General Douglas MacArthur by President Truman and how MacArthur was indebted to Sarasohn

Selected Letters of William Empson John Haffenden, 2006-03-09 This edited collection of letters by William Empson 1906-1984 one of the foremost writers and literary critics of the twentieth century ranges across the entirety of his career Parts of the correspondence record the development of ideas that were to come to fruition in seminal texts including Seven Types of Ambiguity The Structure of Complex Words and Milton's God The topics of other letters range from Shakespeare's Dark Lady to Marvell's marriage and Byron's bisexuality Empson relished correspondence that was combative if not downright aggressive As a result parts of this edition take the form of a serial disputation with other critics of the period including Frank Kermode Helen Gardner Philip Hobsbaum and I A Richards Other notable correspondents include A Alvarez Bonamy Dobr e Leslie Fiedler Graham Hough C K Ogden George Orwell Kathleen Raine John Crowe Ransom Christopher Ricks Laura Riding A L Rowse Stephen Spender E M W Tillyard Rosemond Tuve John Wain and G Wilson Knight All readers of literary history and criticism will stand to benefit from this edition Empson is universally credited as the man who invented modern literary criticism so that all of his writings make a signal addition to the canon of his works This selection provides a context for the evaluation of Empson's total literary output and in many letters Empson seeks to defend his ideas against both published and personal attacks This volume not only fills in all the missing links it adds up to a completely new volume of critical writings by Empson

Combat Ready? The Eighth U.S. Army on the Eve of the Korean War Thomas E. Hanson, 2010 Historians and sliders have not been kind to either General Douglas MacArthur or the soldiers whom he placed in harm's way in the summer of 1950 This study seeks to redress the imbalance that exists between fact and interpretation For too long historians and soldiers have roundly criticized Task Force Smith's performance extrapolated from its fate a set of assumptions about what constitutes readiness and then used those assumptions to condemn the entire Eighth Army The reality is much more complex A proper examination of the historical record reveals wide disparities in the readiness and combat effectiveness of the subordinate units of America's first forward deployed Cold War field force. This work will demonstrate how units achieved that readiness by means of case studies of four infantry regiments, one from each of the four infantry divisions that constituted the Eighth Army in 1950. It synthesizes contemporary training doctrine, training records generated by maneuver units, unit histories, reports of inspections by outside agencies, contemporary self-assessments, and the observations of veterans who served in Japan in the fifteen months before the outbreak of the Korean War. It challenges the long-standing reputation of the Eighth Army as flabby, dispirited, and weak.

Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure, 1984 Progress of Education Reform in Japan Japan. Monbushō, 1950 Eastern Phoenix Mikiso Hane, 2018-02-05

It has been fifty years since Japan admitted defeat and accepted the terms of the Potsdam Declaration following World War II. At the time, Japan was in shambles; its imperial dream shattered and its people reduced to scrounging for sufficient food to stay alive. Yet over the past half century, Japan has remade itself and emerged as one of the leading economic powers in the world. How did Japan achieve this success, and what has this remarkable rebirth meant for the Japanese people? In Eastern Phoenix, Mikiso Hane closely examines historical factors that have contributed to Japan's postwar development: politically, economically, socially, and culturally. Beginning with the occupation by U.S. forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Hane shows how American reforms and initiatives combined with the political actions of subsequent Japanese leaders to create a country able to forge ahead economically while retaining many traditional aspects of prewar Japanese society. In addition to presenting a narrative overview of important events since 1945, Eastern Phoenix provides insight into the evolution of Japan's foreign relations, internal effects of prosperity on Japanese society, and problems that remain despite extraordinary progress. The book critically examines such media hot topics as education, environmental degradation, organized crime, racial and class discrimination, the Japanese work ethic, and the role of women in society. To provide useful context for student readers, Hane frequently punctuates his discussion by contrasting Japanese statistics with those of the United States. The book also excels in examining how artists and writers have grappled with Japan's rapidly evolving contemporary history, and Hane points the reader toward books and films that can shed additional light on Japanese perceptions of the past fifty years.

Guide to Microforms in Print, 1980 Mr. X and the Pacific Paul J. Heer, 2018-05-15

George F. Kennan is well known as the preeminent American expert on the Soviet Union during the Cold War and the author of the doctrine of containment. In Mr. X and the Pacific, Paul J. Heer chronicles and assesses Kennan's work in affecting U.S. policy toward East Asia. Heer traces the origins, development, and bearing of Kennan's strategic perspective on the Far East during his time as director of the State Department's Policy Planning Staff from 1947 to 1950. The author follows Kennan's career and evolution of his thinking as he subsequently became a prominent critic of American participation in the Vietnam War. Mr. X and the Pacific offers readers a new view of Kennan revealing his importance and the totality of his role in East Asia policy his struggle with American foreign policy in the region and the ways in which Kennan's legacy still has implications for how the United States approaches the region in the twenty first century

Comparing Post War Japanese and Finnish Economies and Societies Yasushi Tanaka, Toshiaki Tamaki, Jari Ojala, Jari Eloranta, 2014-11-13 This book compares two countries with striking parallels in economic and political outcomes yet with some distinct features in terms of institutional structures relative size and culture Therefore this book forms a fruitful platform for the study of the similarities and differences in the economic and societal development of Japan and Finland Despite their geographic distance from one another and the aforementioned differences both countries experienced rather similar economic and societal development patterns after the Second World War The study of these societies both individually and through commonalities will provide a unique perspective on the emergence of modern economies and institutions The book provides comprehensive coverage on issues such as welfare state formation and society security and military spending education system industrial development international trade governmental economic policies energy solutions and bubbles and their collapse thus issues typical for these countries as well as most modern states studied from a longitudinal perspective The book aims to answer a fundamental question in social science Why do there seem to be common trends and developmental paths among countries differing in size culture and economic structure This book will provide insights for those seeking to decipher how the developments in their own countries came about and where they may be headed to

French Banking and Entrepreneurialism in China and Hong Kong Hubert Bonin, 2019-06-07 Many books have addressed the economic and financial history of Hong Kong and the imperialist conflicts in the key Chinese port cities but very few books have explored French initiatives and performance in this area beyond diplomacy geopolitics or cultural issues In this book Hubert Bonin confronts arguments about the great divergence the first globalisation and forms of economic patriotism He gauges the competitive edge of French companies and banks their struggle with British domination HBSC Chartered shipping trade houses hongs and their resistance against competitors from other countries Japan Germany Netherlands Belgium USA or Russia The book delves into studies of management abroad therefore mixing broad geo economic issues with precise business history and deep banking history The connections between French interests in China and Hong Kong and the colony of Indochina are established too A second part of the book is dedicated to the case study of Hong Kong as the British colony acted as a hub for Asian and European interests at the heart of connections with mainland China and some neighbouring territories Indochina etc This is essential reading for academics interested in banking and business history the history of entrepreneurship as well as those involved in the contemporary history of China and Hong Kong in the assessment of world wide geo economic competition between European powers in Asia Great Britain and France and in the first stages of economic modernity along European models in emerging modern China
