Letters To Mother From A Ww11 Raaf Pilot:

Letters to Mother Len Williams,1990 A collection of World War II letters written by an RAAF pilot during his training in Southern Rhodesia and active service in England while attached to No 58 RAAF Squadron The writer failed to return from an anti submarine patrol over the North Sea His letters are edited by his younger brother Letters to Mother from a WWII RAAF Pilot Keith Williams,1990 'Boredom is the Enemy' Amanda Laugesen,2016-04-15 War is often characterised as one percent terror 99 per cent boredom Whilst much ink has been spilt on the one per cent relatively little work has been directed toward the other 99 per cent of a soldier s time As such this book will be welcomed by those seeking a fuller understanding of what makes soldiers endure war and how they cope with prolonged periods of inaction It explores the issue of military boredom and investigates how soldiers spent their time when not engaged in battle work or training through a study of their creative imaginative and intellectual lives It examines the efforts of military authorities to provide solutions to military boredom and the problem of discipline and morale through the provisioning of entertainment and education but more importantly explores the ways in which soldiers responded to such efforts arguing that soldiers used entertainment and education in ways that suited them The focus in the book is on Australians and their experiences primarily during the First World War but with subsequent chapters taking the story through the Second World War to the Vietnam War This focus on a single national group allows questions to be raised about what might or might not be exceptional about the experiences of a particular national group and the ways national identity can shape an individual s relationship and engagement with education and entertainment It can also suggest the continuities and changes in these experiences through the course of three wars The story of Australians at war illuminates a much broader story of the experience of war and people s responses to war in the twentieth century Australian national bibliography ,1961 Great Escaper Louise Williams,2015-11-15 He survived the air war and broke out of Germany s toughest POW camp Now his fate lies in Hitler s hands Australian Books in Print 1999 K G Saur Books,1999-04 Excellent coverage essential to worldwide bibliographic coverage American Reference Books Annual This comprehensive reference provides current finding ordering information on more than 123 000 in print books published in Australia You ll also find brief profiles of more than 12 000 publishers distributors whose titles are represented as well as information on trade associations local agents of overseas publishers literary awards more From Thorpe A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945. Volume 2 Christopher Shores,Giovanni Massimello,Russell Guest,Frank Olynky,Winfried Bock,2014-07-19 This second volume in the seminal series on aerial combat pilots and tactics in Libya and Egypt in the middle of World War II In volume two of this series historian Christopher Shores begins by exploring the 8th Army s movements after Operation Crusader when they were forced back to the Gazala area in northeastern Libya as well as their defeat in June 1942 the loss of Tobruk and the efforts of Allied air forces to protect their retreating troops Shores continues with the heavy fighting that followed in the El Alamein region This features the Western Desert Air Force and the arrival of the first Spitfires The buildup of both army and air forces and the addition of new commanders on the ground aided the defeat of Rommel's Deutsche Afrika Korps at Alam el Halfa after which came the Second Battle of El Alamein With the arrival of the United States Army Air Force the Allied air forces gained dominance over the Axis Shores recounts the lengthy pursuit of the Italo German forces right across Libya including the capture of Tripoli and the breakthrough into Southern Tunisia This allowed a linkup with other Allied forces in Tunisia whose story appears in Volume 3 Included with the action are stories of some of the great fighter aces of the Desert campaign such as Jochen Marseille and Otto Schulz of the Luftwaffe Franco Bordoni Bisleri of the Regia Aeronautica and Neville Duke Billy Drake and Eddie Edwards of the Commonwealth air forces Finally Shores touches on the Allied and Axis night bombing offensives and the activities of the squadrons cooperating with the naval forces in the Mediterranean Aces High, Volume 1 Christopher Shores, Clive Williams, 2008-09-18 First in the Aces High series a military reference of the fighter pilots who had five or more confirmed victories while serving in the Royal Air Force Introduced by the French quite early in World War I the term ace was used to describe a pilot credited with five or more aerial victories But in the United Kingdom the term was never officially recognized Becoming an ace was partly luck especially considering the campaigns in which they flew and the areas of combat There are three distinct kinds of aces the defensive ace the offensive ace and the night fighter This book is a revised collection of the biographies of the highest scoring Allied fighter pilots of World War II including those with the confirmed claims of shooting down five aircraft and those pilots with lower scores but whose wartime careers prove them worthy of inclusion All details of their combat are arranged in tabular form Included are a selection of photographs from hitherto private collections There are some authors whose name alone is sufficient reason to buy a book and Christopher Shores is surely one of these By profession a chartered surveyor he served in the Royal Air Force in the 1950s so his writing bears the stamp of authenticity HistoryNet Shirtsleeves to Shirtsleeves in Two Generations Gerard Leahy, 2015-09-18 The first of these two books covers J J Leahy's generation You need to read the story of the First Generation before you go on to read this book It is the story of his youngest son's generation Gerard is the only surviving member of J J Leahy's nine children His is a very different story as he was fortunate to spend most of his life on one property working and bringing up his family in a small and isolated rural community In the early days few community members travelled far but wars improved transport and communications gradually changed this sense of isolation and opened up the community With the changes toward the centralising of the management of health services bush fire management and the many other services local communities managed in the past it would now be difficult to be as involved in the community as the author was in this story This Second Generation did not build up great wealth but possibility ended up better off in other ways Gerard Leahy was born in 1930 and was educated at St Ignatius College Riverview in Sydney He worked for a year in the International Harvester tractor factory at Geelong in Victoria After a year's jackerooing on his father's property Oban in north western Queensland out from Mt Isa he spent all his working life on Burra Station near Tumbarumba in the Snowy Mountains of New South Wales He was involved in many sporting and community activities in the Tumbarumba District After selling his property he moved to the Blue Mountains west of Sydney The Bulletin ,1982-11 494th Bombardment Group (H) History WWII David H.
