considering the perspectives and actions of people who participate in or are affected by minority language politics the contributors aim to provide a comparative and nuanced analysis of the complexity and tensions inherent in minority language standardisation processes Echoing Fasold 1984 this involves a shift in focus from a sociolinguistics of language to a sociolinguistics of people The book addresses tensions that are born of the renewed or continued need to standardize language in the early 21st century across the world It proposes to go beyond the traditional macro micro dichotomy by foregrounding the role of actors as they position themselves as users of standard forms of language oral or written across sociolinguistic scales Language policy processes can be seen as practices and ideologies in action and this volume therefore investigates how social actors in a wide range of geographical settings embrace contribute to resist and also reject aspects of minority language standardization Commerce Reports United States.
