Inter-professional Approaches to Young Fathers Jane Reeves,2008 With one of the highest teenage pregnancy rates in Europe young fatherhood as a site of economic and personal adversity has become a focus of concern in Britain during the late 1990s However despite this policy interest there is surprisingly little British empirical evidence to review One of the aims of the book is to draw together contemporary research evidence social theory and policy which may effect how practitioners students and academics

conceptualise and work with young fathers Consequently each chapter illustrates the points it makes using discrete evidence from that particular field Moreover in order to make this process more OCuser friendlyOCO each chapter provides a summary of this literature and evidence Finally in order to make the book come alive it draws on case studies which are drawn variously from two studies conducted by the editor

New Developments in Cancer Research Lee P. Jeffries,2006

Cancer is a group of different diseases over 100 characterised by uncontrolled growth and spread of abnormal cells Cancer can arise in many sites and behave differently depending on its organ of origin If a cancer spreads metastasizes the new tumour bears the same name as the original primary tumour Significant progress has been made in recent years in the battle against cancer and in understanding its underlying biological mechanisms This research progress has resulted in many experimental treatments and cures which establish hope for wide spread cures The book brings together important research from around the world in this frontal field

In Sickness and In Power David Owen,2022-03-17 In Sickness and In Power looks at illness in heads of government business and military leaders between 1901 and 2007 It considers how illness and therapy both physical and mental affect the decision making of heads of government engendering folly in the sense of foolishness stupidity or rashness Owen is particularly interested in leaders who were not ill in the conventional sense whose cognitive faculties functioned well but who developed a hubristic syndrome that powerfully affected their performance and their actions As we learn here they suffer a loss of capacity and become excessively self confident and contemptuous of advice that runs counter to what they believe or sometimes of any advice at all Long fascinated with the inter relationship between politics and medicine David Owen uses his deep knowledge of both to look at sickness in political leaders Owen expertly scrutinises such diverse political personalities as Sir Anthony Eden at the time of Suez in 1956 John F Kennedy and the Bay of Pigs fiasco in 1961 the last Shah of Iran and President Mitterrand of France who suffered from prostate cancer The author also devotes a chapter to the hubristic behaviour and relationship between President Bush and Prime Minister Blair The book ends by outlining some of the safeguards that society needs to address as a consequence of illness in heads of government Revised and Updated Edition for 2016 including a new chapter entitled Hubris Syndrome in the Military Contextualised open educational practices Jako Olivier,Charlene du Toit-Brits,Byron J. Bunt,Amit Dhakulkar,2022 This book covers original research on the implementation of open educational practices through the use of open educational resources at the university level The emphasis on open education in this book is on contextualising resources supporting student agency and fostering self directed learning specifically within a South African milieu The envisaged chapters cover conceptual and review research and empirical work focussing on open educational practices and the use of renewable assessments The work starts off with an overview of an institutional wide open education project that prompted the research followed by research on open education in terms of various modules in the health science music education law philosophy dietetics anthropology French language learning journalism and political science There is a clear gap in the literature on open education in terms of open educational practices specifically in terms of contextualising resources supporting student agency and fostering self directed learning in a South African context Despite the existence of some general works on open education in terms of policy social justice and open textbooks this book will be unique in exploring the intersections of openness specifically with contextualisation student agency and self directedness
