Going to America Chuka Clement Ndubizu, 2013-03-25 Going to America A struggle of an ex Biafran soldier to attain his American dream is a true story of the authors struggles to achieve his passionate desire for obtaining higher education in the United States The struggles started in Nigeria right after the Nigeria Biafra war in 1970 The situation then made it extremely difficult for a young Igbo man to get a Nigerian passport and a United States students visa This personal story reflects the lack of sincerity on the part of the people who ran the Nigerian Federal government at that time This story also reveals the difference between the expectations of the young African student as he struggled to come to the United States and the realities he experienced on arrival in the United States of America He lacked the money to pay for an Ivy league education but he had tremendous faith and determination to succeed At the end he succeeded I Go to America Joy K.

Lintelman, 2009-06-25 An intimate and detailed portrait of young Swedish women who chose to immigrate to America in the nineteenth century why they left what they found and how they survived AMERICA Going, Going... David

Bailly, 2019-08-03 What has happened to America since the postwar era of the late 1940s 1950s and early 1960s Obviously there have been a lot of changes great good bad and worse There were challenges growing up with fellow baby boomers under the guidance of the greatest generation But we were taught to expect and even welcome roadblocks in life because solving those problems would make us a better and stronger person I and my peers male or female rich or poor urban or rural were encouraged to be whatever we wanted to be in life That the only barriers in our life would be those we created for ourselves Our teachers started with our parents followed by the schools and churches The sources of learning were different but each played an important role in building the complete person The preface twenty seven chapters and conclusions in this book identify what I have considered as some of the major issues of today As I point out in the beginning this book is not about me I even personally disdain all the first person writings out there that are not based on current news This writing is about the loss of us that has now permeated everything surrounding our world You will be challenged along the way to make your own decisions about how we arrived at this place and what we all need to do to bring sanity back into a mostly insane culture Let s return to one of our old adages Together we stand divided we fall We can and will survive this mess A Trip
