Speaking in the Past Tense Herb Wyile, 2006-12-15 Speaking in the Past Tense participates in an expanding critical dialogue on the writing of historical fiction providing a series of reflections on the process from the perspective of those souls intrepid enough to step onto what is practically by definition contested territory Herb Wyile from the Introduction The extermination of the Beothuk the exploration of the Arctic the experiences of soldiers in the trenches during World War I the foibles of Canada s longest serving prime minister the Ojibway sniper who is credited with 378 wartime kills these are just some of the people and events discussed in these candid and wide ranging interviews with eleven authors whose novels are based on events in Canadian history These sometimes startling conversations take the reader behind the scenes of the novels and into the minds of their authors Through them we explore the writers motives for writing the challenges they faced in gathering information and presenting it in fictional form the sometimes hostile reaction they faced after publication and perhaps most interestingly the stories that didn t make it into their novels Speaking in the Past Tense provides fascinating insights into the construction of national historical narratives and myths both those familiar to us and those that are still being written

Ethics Beyond War's End Eric Patterson, 2012-03-02 The wars in Afghanistan and Iraq have focused new attention on a perennial problem how to end wars well What ethical considerations should guide war s settlement and its aftermath In cases of protracted conflicts recurring war failed or failing states or genocide and war crimes is there a framework for establishing an enduring peace that is pragmatic and moral Ethics Beyond War s End provides answers to these questions from the just war tradition Just war thinking engages the difficult decisions of going to war and how war is fought But from this point forward just war theory must also take into account what happens after war ends and the critical issues that follow establishing an enduring order employing political forms of justice and cultivating collective forms of conciliation Top thinkers in the field including Michael Walzer Jean Bethke Elshtain James Turner Johnson and Brian Orend offer powerful contributions to our understanding of the vital issues associated with late and post conflict in tough real world scenarios that range from the US Civil War to contemporary quagmires in Afghanistan the Middle East and the Congo
