Siegel, 2006 The first ever guide to 3 800 primary and secondary sources that explore radio's contribution to America's cultural heritage Index integrates separate listings in Special Collections Bibliography and Internet chapters and can be searched by program title person or subject

Lum and Abner Randal L. Hall, 2021-12-14 In the 1930s radio stations filled the airwaves with programs and musical performances about rural Americans farmers and small town residents struggling through the Great Depression One of the most popular of these shows was Lum and Abner the brainchild of Chester Chet Lauck and Norris Tuffy Goff two young businessmen from Arkansas Beginning in 1931 and lasting for more than two decades the show revolved around the lives of ordinary people in the fictional community of Pine Ridge based on the hamlet of Waters Arkansas The title characters who are farmers local officials and the keepers of the Jot Em Down Store manage to entangle themselves in a variety of hilarious dilemmas The program's gentle humor and often complex characters had wide appeal both to rural southerners who were accustomed to being the butt of jokes in the national media and to urban listeners who were fascinated by descriptions of life in the American countryside Lum and Abner was characterized by the snappy verbal comedic dueling that became popular on radio programs of the 1930s Using this format Lauck and Goff allowed their characters to subvert traditional authority and to poke fun at common misconceptions about rural life The show also featured hillbilly and other popular music an innovation that drew a bigger audience As a result Arkansas experienced a boom in tourism and southern listeners began to immerse themselves in a new national popular culture In Lum and Abner Rural America and the Golden Age of Radio historian Randal L. Hall explains the history and importance of the program its creators and its national audience He also presents a treasure trove of twenty nine previously unavailable scripts from the show's earliest period scripts that reveal much about the Great Depression rural life hillbilly stereotypes and a seminal period of American radio

Finkelstein,2000-12-01 NULL The Golden Age of Radio Jennifer Estabrooks,20?? Let's Pretend and the Golden Age of Radio Arthur Anderson,2004 Let s Pretend actually went under a different title and slight variations of formats before settling down to the now familiar children s program heard today through surviving recordings On October 27 1928 a Saturday morning children s program offering whimsical tales of fantasy and fairy tales premiered under the title of Aunt Jymmie and Her Tots in Tottyville Very little is known about this program except for the format The hostess of the series Aunt Jymmie would introduce each week s drama to the juvenile audience which would be enacted by a cast of young children known as the tots The young tots would then travel to Tottyville a make believe world of king and queens princesses witches and magic spells This series lasted for eighteen broadcasts from October 27 1928 to February 23 1929 originating from the WABC studio in New York City the flagship station for CBS Aunt Jymmie was replaced by a second children s radio program known as The Children s Club Hour with Howard Merrill Merrill functioned as both the host and the scriptwriter Later during the 1940s Merrill would write scripts for The Gay Nineties Revue Secret Missions and detective series such as Sherlock Holmes Leonidas Witherall and the Abbott Mysteries Just as the title suggests The Children s Club Hour also featured fairy tales enacted by juvenile cast members but why the word hour is in the program s title is not all too clear the program was only on the air for a thirty minute time slot After seventeen broadcasts of The Children s Club Hour the time slot was handed over to Estelle Levy and Patricia Ryan who created a third Saturday morning children s program this one titled The Adventures of Helen and Mary Third time was the charm The Adventures of Helen and Mary has been documented in encyclopedias such as John Dunning s On the Air as the forerunner of Let s Pretend and this statement is correct but it should be known that Aunt Jymmie and the Children s Club Hour programs were not previous incarnations of Let s Pretend The producers directors cast and staff of those two previous were totally different programs The only similarity was the fact that they both offered renditions of fairy tales for young radio listeners The Children s Club Hour began on March 2 1929 The exact date of the final broadcast of The Children s Club Hour is June 22 1929 The first broadcast of The Adventures of Helen and Mary was June 29 1929 The Adventures of Helen and Mary was very successful and was heard for a total of 229 broadcasts Interesting trivia For a very brief time during December 1930 and January 1931 the name of the program changed from The Adventures of Helen and Mary to Land O Make Believe There is no evidence explaining why the program changed its title for the few brief weeks and back again and it s not clear how many broadcasts went by the name Land O Make Believe After 229 broadcasts Nila Mack who by then was heavily involved with the program took over the reins and changed the title from The Adventures of Helen and Mary to Let s Pretend Anyone slightly confused can recall the example of how Counterspy and David Harding Counterspy are the same program it s just that the title changed over the years The best book about radio I ve read since Mary Jane Higby s Tune in Tomorrow You have made the whole golden age of radio come alive Ron Lackmann author The Best of Old Time Radio Golden Age Radio (Firm),1979
