Contemporary Indonesian Fashion Alessandra Lopez y Royo, 2019-10-31 Indonesian fashion has undergone a period of rapid growth over the last three decades This book explores how through years of social political and cultural upheaval the country's fashion has moved away from colonial fashion and national dress to claim its own distinct identity as contemporary fashion in a global world With specific reference to women's wear Contemporary Indonesian Fashion explores the diversity and complexity of the country's sartorial offerings which weave together local textile traditions like batik and ikat making with contemporary narratives The book questions concepts of tradition and modernity in the developing world taking stock of the elite consumption of luxury brands and the large scale manufacturing of fast fashion and introduces us to the rise of new trends such as busana muslim or modest wear creating a portrait of a vibrant and growing national and increasingly international industry Exploring clothing in shopping malls on the catwalk in magazines and online the book examines how Indonesian fashion is made presented and consumed combining research in Indonesia with analysis and personal reflection Contemporary Indonesian Fashion ultimately questions the deeply entrenched eurocentrism of global fashion simultaneously interrogating current homogenizing beauty and body image discourses posited as universal by pointing to absences silences and erasures as reflected by contemporary Indonesian fashion hence the looking glass of the title Aptly illustrated the book offers a new perspective on a rapidly developing new fashion capital Jakarta

Writing the Past, Inscribing the Future Nancy K. Florida, 1995 Located at the juncture of literature history and anthropology Writing the Past Inscribing the Future charts a strategy of how one might read a traditional text of non Western historical literature in order to generate with it an opening for the future This book does so by taking seriously a haunting work of historical prophecy inscribed in the nineteenth century by a royal Javanese exile working through this writing of a colonized past to suggest the reconfiguration of the postcolonial future that this history itself apparently intends After introducing the colonial and postcolonial orientalist projects that would fix the meaning of traditional writing in Java Nancy K Florida provides a nuanced translation of this particular traditional history a history composed in poetry as the dream of a mysterious exile She then undertakes a richly textured reading of the poem that discloses how it manages to escape the fixing of tradition Adopting a dialogic strategy of reading Florida writes to extend as the work's Javanese author demands this history's prophetic potential into a more global register Babad Jaka Tingkir the historical prophecy that Writing the Past Inscribing the Future translates and reads is uniquely suited for such a study Composing an engaging history of the emergence of Islamic power in central Java around the turn of the sixteenth century Babad Jaka Tingkir was written from the vantage of colonial exile to contest the more dominant dynastic historical traditions of nineteenth century court literature Florida reveals how this history's episodic form and focus on characters at the margins of the social order work to disrupt the genealogical claims of conventional royal historiography thus prophetically to open the possibility of an alternative future Malay-Indonesian Islamic Studies Majid
