Scarlett O'Hara in the Novel and the Film Jennifer Koss, 2010-04 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2 0 Ruhr University of Bochum language English abstract 1 Introduction to the topic The following paper tries to introduce one of the most remarkable American novels of the 20th century and its most outstanding character Scarlett O'Hara Gone with the Wind was written by Margaret Mitchell and was published in 1936 It is a novel that combines the events of the 19th century American Civil War with the story of Scarlett O'Hara her family her friends and her foes It was followed by a film that was released in 1939 and two authorized sequels which were published in 1991 and 2007 Gone with the Wind plays in the Old American South and also reflects a Southern point of view of the events of the Civil War It begins when Scarlett is 16 years old and ends when she is 28 The paper will try to give an insight to the character of Scarlett and will try to analyze what Scarlett stands for or if she stands for anything more than herself in the novel and the film Screen Savors Hernan Vera, Andrew Gordon, 2003 Screen Savors studies how the self of whites is imagined in Hollywood movies by white directors featuring white protagonists interacting with people of another color This collaboration by a sociologist and a film critic using the new perspective of critical white studies offers a bold and sweeping critique of almost a century's worth of American film from Birth of a Nation 1915 through Black Hawk Down 2001. Screen Savors studies the way in which the social relations that we call race are fictionalized and pictured in the movies. It argues that films are part of broader projects that lead us to ignore or deny the nature of the racial divide in which Americans live. Even as the images of racial and ethnic minorities change across the twentieth century, Hollywood keeps portraying the ideal white American self as good looking, powerful, brave, cordial, kind, firm, and generous, a natural born leader worthy of the loyalty of those of another color. The book invites readers to conduct their own analyses of films by showing how this can be done in over 50 Hollywood movies. Among these are some films about the Civil War: Birth of a Nation, Gone with the Wind, and Glory; some about white messiahs who rescue people of another color: Stargate, To Kill a Mockingbird, Mississippi Burning, Three Kings, and The Matrix; the three versions of Mutiny on the Bounty 1935, 1962, and 1984; and interracial romance: Guess Who's Coming to Dinner. Forty years of Hollywood fantasies of interracial harmony from The Defiant Ones and In the Heat of the Night through the Lethal Weapon series and Men in Black are examined. This work in the sociology of knowledge and cultural studies relates the movies of Hollywood to the large political agendas on race relation in the United States. Screen Savors appeals to the general reader interested in the movies or in race and ethnicity as well as to students of com

The Parent-School Board Feuds Gerard Giordano, 2024-10-02 During the COVID 19 pandemic, parents were able to observe their children in online classes. They were surprised by classroom discussions and assignments related to gender, race, ethnicity, and religion, along with the policies that were guiding curricula, tests, technology, athletics, discipline, safety, transportation, funding, and numerous other aspects of schools. Parents began giving their advice to their school boards, but when they were ignored, they disrupted meetings, wrote editorials, created blogs, staged rallies, and lobbied state officials. They were hoping to attract media attention and acquire political power and were stunned by their success. The Parent School Board Feuds: Essential Steps by Parents to Improve Schools recounts parent school board feuding about controversial classroom topics such as gender and race, their disagreements about school policies including those affecting tests, technology, athletics, and discipline, and the impact that parents had during the pandemic and continue to have today.
