Illusion Fables Fantasies And Metafiction An Anthology:

The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2017-04-20 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro

The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany

The Best of Canadian Fiction Magazine Geoff Hancock, 1997 For 25 years Canadian Fiction magazine has been premiering Canada's best authors of short fiction including W P Kinsella Mavis Gallant Leon Rooke Guy Vanderhaeghe Margaret Atwood Jane Urquhart Alice Munro Douglas Glover Rohinton Mistry Barbara Gowdy Thomas Wharton and others This special silver anniversary anthology presents not only some the best fiction ever written in Canada but also serves as a testament to the emergence of the short story genre from provincial obscurity into international acclaim during the past two decades in North America With the publication of this silver anniversary anthology Canadian Fiction has been transformed from a quarterly magazine to a semi annual anthology Each spring Canadian Fiction will feature new and experimental work each fall the focus will be on an emerging theme genre or trend
