An Illustrated Record of Ordnance Survey in Ireland Ordnance Survey of Ireland,1991 This book marks the 200th Anniversary of Ordnance Survey it is a pictorial record of the evolution of surveying and mapping in Ireland and in particular the role of the Ordnance Survey in Ireland since 1824 Foreward Ordnance Survey in Ireland ,1991 History in the Ordnance Map John Harwood Andrews,1993 This book describes the principal maps of Ireland and parts of Ireland produced by the Ordnance Survey of the United Kingdom over a period of nearly a hundred years beginning with the establishment of the Survey s first Dublin headquarters in 1824 and ending in 1922 with the creation of separate government survey offices for the Irish Free State and Northern Ireland Its aim is to indicate the type of information available to researchers from maps and associated documents at different scales in different formats and for different times and places Preface Catalogue of the Library at Lough Fea, in Illustration of the History and Antiquities of Ireland Evelyn Philip Shirley,1872 Literacy,

Language and Reading in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Rebecca Anne Barr,Sarah-Anne Buckley,Muireann O'Conneide,2019-06-04 This volume explores the multiple forms and functions of reading and writing in nineteenth century Ireland It traces how understandings of literacy and language shaped national and transnational discourses of cultural identity and the different reading communities produced by questions of language religion status education and audience

Wordsworth and the Writing of the Nation James M. Garrett,2016-02-17 Shedding fresh light on Wordsworth s contested relationship with an England that changed dramatically over the course of his career James Garrett places the poet s lifelong attempt to control his literary representation within the context of national ideas of self determination represented by the national census national survey and national museum Garrett provides historical background on the origins of these three institutions which were initiated in Britain near the turn of the nineteenth century and shows how their development converged with Wordsworth s own as a writer The result is a new narrative for Wordsworth studies that re integrates the early middle and late periods of the poet s career Detailed critical discussions of Wordsworth s poetry including works that are not typically accorded significant attention force us to reconsider the usual view of Wordsworth as a fading middle aged poet withdrawing into the hills Rather Wordsworth s ceaseless reworking of earlier poems and the flurry of new publications between 1814 and 1820 reveal Wordsworth as an engaged public figure attempting to write the nation and position himself as the nation s poet Civilizing Ireland Stiofán Ó Cadhla,2007 A unique contemporary analysis of the huge imperial mapping project of the British Government in nineteenth century Ireland which describes as well as re interprets the value of science and modernity as practiced by the British empire The book raises questions about representation and academic discourses and highlights and interprets colonial techniques of observation and description The nature of evidence within colonial archive is also questioned Focussing on the main aspects of the survey from a contemporary theoretical perspective it both enlivens the original documents and serves as a sensitive critique of it The main themes are ethnographic description translation and cartography and the relationship between them in the nineteenth century Central to this is the emerging view of Ireland and the Irish and the idea of the project as representative of early Irish ethnography The book contains new findings in relation to renowned scholars such as John O Donovan and re engages with the Friel vs Andrews debate on Translation and Irish Culture The book should be of wide interest to folklorists cultural sociologists geographers historians ethnologists cultural studies Irish language scholars and the general reader with an interest in Ireland
