Nineteenth-century women illustrators and cartoonists Joanna Devereux,2023-05-16 Nineteenth century women illustrators and cartoonists provides an in depth analysis of fifteen women illustrators of the later nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Jemima Blackburn Eleanor Vere Boyle Marianne North Amelia Francis Howard Gibbon Mary Ellen Edwards Edith Hume Alice Barber Stephens Florence and Adelaide Claxton Marie Duval Amy Sawyer Eleanor Fortescue Brickdale Pamela Colman Smith and Olive Allen Biller The chapters consider these women s illustrations in the areas of natural history periodicals and books as well as their cartoons and caricatures Using diverse critical approaches the volume brings to light the works and lives of these important women illustrators and challenges the hegemony of male illustrators and cartoonists in nineteenth century visual and print culture Women, Art and Money in Late Victorian and Edwardian England Maria Quirk,2019-05-16 Women Art and Money in England establishes the importance of women artists commercial dealings to their professional identities and reputations in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Grounded in economic social and art history the book draws on and synthesises data from a broad range of documentary and archival sources to present a comprehensive history of women artists professional status and business relationships within the complex and changing art market of late Victorian England By providing new insights into the routines and incomes of women artists and the spaces where they created exhibited and sold their art this book challenges established ideas about what women had to do to be considered professional artists More important than a Royal Academy education or membership to exhibiting societies was a woman's ability to sell her work. This meant that women had strong incentive to paint in saleable popular and middlebrow genres which reinforced prejudices towards women's naturally inferior artistic ability prejudices that continued far into the twentieth century. From shining a light on the difficult to trace pecuniary arrangements of little researched artists like Ethel Mortlock to offering new and direct comparisons between the incomes earned by male and female artists and the genres commissions and exhibitions that earned women the most money Women Art and Money is a timely contribution to the history of women's working lives that is relevant to a number of scholarly disciplines Trollope and His Illustrators N John Hall, 1980-09-25 The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature Joanne Shattock, 1999

The Moxon Tennyson Simon Cooke, 2021-01-19 A new perspective on a book that transformed Victorian illustration into a stand alone art. Edward Moxon's 1857 edition of Alfred Lord Tennyson's Poems dramatically redefined the relationship between images and words in print. Cooke's study the first book to address the subject in over 120 years presents a sweeping analysis of the illustrators and the complex and challenging ways in which they interpreted Tennyson's poetry. This book considers the volume's historical context examining in detail the roles of publisher engravers and binding designer as well as the material difficulties of printing its fine illustrations which recreate the effects of painting. Arranged thematically and reproducing all the original images the chapters present a detailed reappraisal of the original volume and the distinctive culture that produced it The Visual Dictionary of Illustration Mark Wigan, 2009-06-18 A revealing guide to the numerous terms associated with the art of illustration. The book has been designed for art students aspiring and professional illustrators and all those interested in this constantly evolving discipline. Publisher Visualisation in Popular Fiction 1860-1960 Stuart Sillars, 2005-06-29 Visualisation in Popular Fiction 1860-1960 explores the important but neglected tradition of illustrated fiction in English. It suggests new analytical approaches for its study by offering detailed discussions of a range of representative texts including Mary Webb's Gone to Earth and Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca. Among the issues and genres Sillars explores are Victorian narrative paintings Edwardian fictional magazines comic strips illustrated children's stories the translation of novels into film. An insightful and highly informative work Visualisation in Popular Fiction will be of value to students of literature cultural studies visual art and film The Selected Works of Margaret Oliphant, Part VI Volume 23 Joanne Wilkes, 2016-07-15 Margaret Oliphant 1828-97 had a prolific literary career that spanned almost fifty years. She wrote some 98 novels fifty or more short stories twenty five works of non fiction including biographies and historic guides to European cities and more than three hundred periodical articles. This is the most ambitious critical edition of her work. This volume includes her 1872 novel At his Gates with editorial notes by Joanne Wilkes including a new introduction headnote and explanatory notes which provide key information about the book and its publication history The Victorian Mind's Eye Julia Thomas, 2025-01-12 The Victorian Mind's Eye Reading Literature in an Age of Illustration. The Victorians lived in an age of illustration. In a matter of decades words and images had become enmeshed and entangled printed alongside each other in a spectacular array of printed forms The exponential growth of illustration not only radically changed literature but also changed the way that literature was read This book offers a major conceptualisation of the difference that pictures made to the reading of words Analysing an extensive range of illustrated material and drawing on the accounts of Victorian readers reviewers authors artists and psychologists the book describes how the Victorians characterised the effects of illustration and how illustrations in turn elicited and anticipated responses from their readers What emerges from these sources is the notion of a distinct mode of reading that determined readers material and mental engagements with illustrated literature The presence of images on the page was said to impact on whether readers created images in their mind as they read Illustrations generated feelings of pleasure or displeasure they determined what was read first what was recalled and what was etched in the memory By peering into the recesses of the mind's eye this book identifies the cognitive mechanisms and cultural politics that were central to how the Victorians described their reading of illustrated literature It suggests the significance of these ideas of reading for understanding the place of illustration in Victorian culture and the relation between words pictures and historical values and meanings Illustration was fundamental to how the Victorians read and to how we read the Victorians
