Image Of The Architect:

The Image of the Architect Andrew Saint, 1983-01-01 Traces the history of the status in society and public image of the architectural profession from the eighteenth century to the present

Architecture and the Image at the Turn of the 21st Century Sanja Rodeš, 2024-06-28 This book examines architecture image and media relationships as productive for architecture and architectural discourses By arguing that the relationships between architecture and media cannot be dismissed via linear criticism of architecture and media or image these relations are instead seen as a part of a sphere a mediasphere of complex relationships In lieu of anything like a consensus on the contemporary condition of architecture referring to the late twentieth and the twenty first centuries the starting point of this book is that the relationships between architecture media and images continue to multiply owing to continuous technological advancements Contemporary architecture considered in this book is related to the selected circumstances of high visibility where architectural images are propelled into visibility and conflated with non architectural images This takes architecture outside of architectural only discourse and into the public realm By granting higher visibility to both the architectural images and architecture in the public realm architecture can also be influenced by the various perceptions of the general public and can enter public consciousness via non architectural media With increased visibility architecture s far reaching presence calls for more structured analysis of its nature and potential As the analysed architecture in this book is associated with the discourses outside of architecture some of which relate to terrorism natural disaster and branding and consumption the limits of contemporary architectural discipline are questioned and extended This book is written for academics and students in architectural history theory and criticism particularly those interested in visual and media studies

Signal. Image. Architecture John May, 2019 Architecture is immersed in an immense cultural experiment called imaging Yet the technical status and nature of that imaging must be reevaluated What happens to the architectural mind when it stops pretending that electronic images of drawings made by computers are drawings When it finally admits that imaging is not drawing but is instead something that has already obliterated drawing These are questions that in general architecture has scarcely begun to pose imagining that somehow its ideas and practices can resist the culture of imaging in which the rest of life now either swims or drowns To patiently describe the world to oneself is to prepare the ground for an as yet unavailable politics New descriptions can under the right circumstances be made to serve as the raw substrate for political impulses that cannot yet be expressed or lived because their preconditions have not been arranged and articulated Signal Image Architecture aims to clarify the status of computational images in contemporary architectural thought and practice by showing what happens if the technical basis of architecture is examined very closely if its technical terms and concepts are taken very seriously at times even literally It is not a theory of architectural images but rather a brief philosophical description of architecture after imaging

The Architect Francesca Hughes,1996 The Architect Reconstructing Her Practice examines how the introduction of women to the main body of architecture might bring about a reconstruction of the orders that pervade architectural production and consumption At a moment when the architectural profession is beginning to shift from its traditionally male domination The Architect Reconstructing Her Practice examines how the introduction of women to the main body of architecture might bring about a reconstruction of the orders that pervade architectural production and consumption In a collection of autobiographical essays in which practice is both the site and the vehicle for change twelve American and European architects reflect on the nature of critical practice and its relation to architecture The contributors were chosen not only for the distinguished quality of their work but also for the range of architectural practices they collectively encompass from the intersection of theory and philosophy to the intersection of building process and industry Together they present a compelling and provocative critique of architectural culture All show a willingness to transgress the various mediums and territories of architecture to recover and reopen certain discussions lost in the architectural discourse they have inherited
