Image Of The World 20 Centuries Of World Maps:

The Image of the World Peter Whitfield, 1994 Examines the history of world mapmaking through 70 outstanding individual examples discussing the maps and their makers in relation to their age and placing them within the context of the wider history of ideas

The Image of the World Peter Whitfield, British Library, 1994 This illustrated work charts the history of the world map from classical times up to the satellite images of the present day The 70 examples included are accompanied by an informative commentary

World-maps for Finding the Direction and Distance to Mecca David King, 2021-09-06 Two remarkable Iranian world maps were discovered in 1989 and 1995 Both are made of brass and date from 17th century Iran Mecca is at the centre and a highly sophisticated longitude and latitude grid enables the user to determine the direction and distance to Mecca for anywhere in the world between Andalusia and China Prior to the discovery of these maps it was thought that such cartographic grids were conceived in Europe ca 1910 This richly illustrated book presents an overview of the ways in which Muslims over the centuries have determined the sacred direction towards Mecca qibla and then describes the two world maps in detail The author shows that the geographical data derives from a 15th century Central Asian source and that the mathematics underlying the grid was developed in 9th century Baghdad

Globalization Jan Aart Scholte, 2017-03-16 This highly acclaimed bestselling textbook quickly established itself as one of the leading texts on the subject worldwide in its 1st edition Now substantially revised and updated Scholte provides students with a comprehensive introduction to globalization and questions why this phenomenon has occurred to what extent it changes the world and whether it is a force for good or ill Accessibly written by a leading authority both as an academic researcher and a policy consultant this second edition draws on the author's research in more than 20 countries over 5 continents Split into 3 parts the text first outlines a critical framework for understanding globalization before exploring its impact on society and the key debates surrounding its normative impact Exploring questions such as what globalization is how it has emerged and what effect it has had on society this text is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students seeking a thorough study of globalization New to this Edition A broader perspective on all the dimensions of globalization Makes use of the extensive new data and research findings since the first edition was released Draws more widely from other fields such as Business Studies Law and Economics

Eastward Bound Rosamund Allen, 2004 Eastward Bound looks at travel and travelers in the medieval period An international range of distinguished contributors offer discussions on a wide range of themes from the experiences of Crusaders on campaign to the lives of pilgrims missionaries and traders in the Middle East It examines their modes of travel equipment and methods of navigation and considers their expectations and experiences en route The contributions also look at the variety of motives public and private behind the decision to travel eastwards Other essays discuss the attitudes of Middle Eastern rulers to their visitors In so doing they provide a valuable perspective and insight into the behavior of the Europeans and non Europeans alike     Convivial Worlds Tina Steiner, 2021-07-29 This book discovers everyday forms of conviviality in fiction and life writing from Eastern and Southern Africa It focuses on ordinary moments of recognition of hospitality of humour and kindness in everyday life to illuminate the significance of repertoires of repair in a world broken by relations of power Through close readings of specific capacities of living with difference the book excavates ideas of world making personhood and the possibilities of alternative social imaginaries from African perspectives It highlights evanescent and more durable attempts at building solidarity across local and translocal settings by focussing on modes of address that invite reciprocity in contexts of injustice which include Apartheid colonialism racism patriarchy and xenophobia Putting current research on conviviality in conversation with the literary texts the book demonstrates how conviviality emerges as an enabling ethical practice as critique and survival strategy and as embodied lived experience The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of Literary and Cultural Studies especially Postcolonial Literature African Studies and Indian Ocean Studies

Mercator Nicholas Crane, 2014-09-02 An enthralling biography of the man who created the first real map of the world and changed civilization Born at the dawn of the age of discovery Gerhard Mercator lived in an era of formidable intellectual and scientific advances At the center of these developments were the cartographers who painstakingly pieced together the evidence to create ever more accurate pictures of the planet Mercator was the greatest of all of them a poor farm boy who attended one of Europe's top universities was persecuted and imprisoned by the Inquisition but survived to coin the term atlas and to produce the so called projection for which he is known Devoutly religious yet gripped by Aristotelian science Mercator struggled to reconcile the two a conflict mirrored by the growing clash in Europe between humanism and the Church Mercator solved the dimensional riddle that had vexed cosmographers for so long How could the three dimensional globe be converted into a two dimensional map while retaining true compass bearings The projection revolutionized navigation and has become the most common worldview Nicholas Crane a fellow geographer has combined a keen eye for historical detail with a gift for vivid storytelling to produce a masterful biography of the man who mapped the planet

Depth Effects Brooke Belisle, 2024-01-09 In this bold rewriting of visual culture Brooke Belisle uses dimensionality to rethink the history and theory of media aesthetics With Depth Effects she traces AI enabled techniques of computational imaging back to spatial strategies of early photography analyzing everyday smartphone apps by way of almost forgotten media forms Drawing on the work of Maurice Merleau Ponty Belisle explores depth both as a problem of visual representation how can flat images depict a voluminous world and as a philosophical paradox how do things cohere beyond the limits of our view She explains how today's depth effects continue colonialist ambitions toward totalizing ways of seeing But she also shows how artists stage dimensionality to articulate what remains invisible and irreducible     "Framing the Ocean, 1700 to the Present " Tricia Cusack, 2017-07-05 Before the eighteenth century the ocean was regarded as a repulsive and chaotic deep Despite reinvention as a zone of wonder and pleasure it continued to be viewed in the West and elsewhere as uninhabited empty space This collection spanning the eighteenth century to the present recasts the ocean as social space with particular reference to visual representations Part I focuses on mappings and crossings showing how the ocean may function as a liminal space between places and cultures but also connects and imbricates them Part II considers ships as microcosmic societies shaped for example by the purpose of the voyage the mores of shipboard life and cross cultural encounters Part III analyses narratives accreted to wrecks and rafts what has sunk or floats perilously and discusses attempts to recuperate plastic flotsam Part IV plumbs ocean depths to consider how underwater creatures have been depicted in relation to emergent disciplines of natural history and museology how mermaids have been reimagined as a metaphor of feminist transformation and how the symbolism of coral is deployed by contemporary artists This engaging and erudite volume will interest a range of scholars in humanities and social sciences including art and cultural historians cultural geographers and historians of empire travel and tourism The Lost History of Cosmopolitanism Leigh T.I.

Penman,2020-11-26 The Lost History of Cosmopolitanism challenges our most basic assumptions about the history of an ideal at the heart of modernity Beginning in antiquity and continuing through to today Leigh T I Penman examines how European thinkers have understood words like kosmopolites cosmopolite cosmopolitan and its cognates The debates over their meanings show that there has never been a single stable cosmopolitan concept but rather a range of concepts sacred and secular inclusive and exclusive all described with the cosmopolitan vocabulary While most scholarly attention in the history of cosmopolitanism has focussed on Greek and Roman antiquity or the Enlightenments of the 18th century this book shows that the crucial period in the evolution of modern cosmopolitanism was early modernity Between 1500 and 1800 philosophers theologians cartographers jurists politicians alchemists and heretics all used this vocabulary shedding ancient associations and adding new ones at will The chaos of discourses prompted thinkers to reflect on the nature of the cosmopolitan ideal and to conceive of an abstract cosmopolitanism for the first time This meticulously researched book provides the first intellectual history of an overlooked period in the evolution of a core ideal As such The Lost History of Cosmopolitanism is an essential work for anyone seeking a contextualised understanding of cosmopolitanism today Representing the Environment

John R. Gold,George Revill,2004-08-02 This is an introductory guide to the representations of the environment found in everyday life in nature culture landscape art and in the media These provide an important means of understanding environmental attitudes and decision making Renaissance Responses to Technological Change Sheila J.

Nayar,2018-10-29 This book foregrounds the pressures that three transformative technologies in the long sixteenth century the printing press gunpowder and the magnetic compass placed on long held literary practices as well as on cultural and social structures Sheila J Nayar disinters the clash between humanist drives and print culture places the rise of gunpowder warfare beside the equivalent rise in chivalric romance and illustrates fraught attempts by humanists to hold on to classicist traditions in the face of seismic changes in navigation Lively and engaging this study illuminates not only how literature responded to radical technological changes but also how literature was sometimes forced through unanticipated destabilizations to reimagine itself By tracing the early modern human s inter animation with print powder and compass Nayar exposes how these technologies assisted in producing new ways of seeing knowing and being in the world

Contesting Europe, 2019-12-09 While the term Europe was used sporadically in ancient and medieval times it proliferated between the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries and gained a prevalence in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries which it did not possess before Although studies on the history of the idea of Europe abound much of the vast body of early modern sources has still been neglected Assuming that discourses tend to transcend linguistic historical and generic boundaries this book has gathered experts from various fields of study who examine vernacular and Latin negotiations of Europe from the late fifteenth to the early eighteenth century This multi angled approach serves to identify similarities and differences in the discourses on Europe within their different national and cultural communities Contributors are Ovanes Akopyan Volker Bauer Piotr Chmiel Nicolas Detering Stefan Ehrenpreis Niels Gr ne Peter Hanenberg Ulrich Heinen Ronny Kaiser Niall Oddy Katharina N Piechocki Dennis Pulina Marion Romberg Lucie Storchov Isabella Walser B rgler Michael Wintle and Enrico Zucchi      Noctes Atticae Jørgen Mejer, 2002 A Festschrift for Jørgen Mejer comprising thirty four articles on Greco Roman antiquity and its visions of life These are specialised papers primarily focusing on extracts from specific Greek or Latin texts which are rarely translated      Languages and Nations Thomas R. Trautmann, 2006-11-04 Publisher description      The World in the Model Mary S. Morgan, 2012-09-17 During the last two centuries the way economic science is done has changed radically it has become a social science based on mathematical models in place of words This book describes and analyses that change both historically and philosophically using a series of case studies to illuminate the nature and the implications of these changes It is not a technical book it is written for the intelligent person who wants to understand how economics works from the inside out This book will be of interest to economists and science studies scholars historians sociologists and philosophers of science But it also aims at a wider readership in the public intellectual sphere building on the current interest in all things economic and on the recent failure of the so called economic model which has shaped our beliefs and the world we live in      The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern European History, 1350-1750 Hamish M. Scott, 2015 This Handbook re examines the concept of early modern history in a European and global context The term early modern has been familiar especially in Anglophone scholarship for four decades and is securely established in teaching research and scholarly publishing More recently however the unity implied in the notion has fragmented while the usefulness and even the validity of the term and the historical periodisation which it incorporates have been questioned The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern European History 1350 1750 provides an account of the development of the subject during the past half century but primarily offers an integrated and comprehensive survey of present knowledge together with some suggestions as to how the field is developing It aims both to interrogate the notion of early modernity itself and to survey early modern Europe as an established field of study The overriding aim will be to establish that early modern is not simply a chronological label but possesses a substantive integrity Volume I examines Peoples and Place assessing structural factors such as climate printing and the revolution in information social and economic developments and religion including chapters on Orthodoxy Judaism and Islam      Encyclopaedism from Antiquity to the Renaissance Jason König,Greg Woolf,2013-10-17 There is a rich body of encyclopaedic writing which survives from the two millennia before the Enlightenment This book sheds new light on that material It traces the development of traditions of knowledge ordering which stretched back to Pliny and Varro and others in the classical world It works with a broad concept of encyclopaedism resisting the idea that there was any clear pre modern genre of the encyclopaedia and showing instead how the rhetoric and techniques of comprehensive compilation left their mark on a surprising range of texts In the process it draws attention to both remarkable similarities and striking differences between conventions of encyclopaedic compilation in different periods with a focus primarily on European Mediterranean culture The book covers classical medieval including Byzantine and Arabic and Renaissance culture in turn and combines chapters which survey whole periods with others focused closely on individual texts as case studies      Mapping European Empire Russell Foster,2015-06-26 Empire and maps are mutually reliant phenomena and traceable to the dawn of civilisation Furthermore maps retain a supremely authoritative status as unquestioned reflections of reality In today s image saturated world their influence is more powerful now than at any other time in history This book argues that in the 21st century we are seeing an imperial renaissance in the European Union EU a political organisation which defies categorisation but whose power and influence grows by the year It examines the past present and future of the EU to demonstrate that empire is not a category of state but rather a collective imagination which reshapes history and appropriates an artificial past to validate the policies of the present and the ambitions of the future In doing so this book illuminates the imperial discourse that permeates the mass maps of the modern EU This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of political science EU Studies Human Geography European political history cartography and visual methodologies and international relations
