A Return to the Heart Frank L. Bartoe, 2023-07-21 When we approach such men as St Bernard of Clairvaux and John Calvin we are approaching two men who were not only significant figures of their time but figures standing on opposite shorelines of the influence and impact of Scholasticism as well as a tumultuous decline in orthodoxy Despite this reality what is most compelling about these two men is the continuity of their developed thought even though they were worlds apart separated by time This continuity is most assuredly grounded in their historical sources and more importantly their faithful handling of God's word That continuity although not point for point was rather for the significant part of the structure and content sum and substance of the twofold knowledge of God and self For both of these men this doctrine was fundamental permeating the whole of their world and life philosophy Bernard and Calvin clearly saw the implications of this twofold knowledge These implications manifest in the realm of various doctrines and the network of their system of thought This book seeks to explore those various components of their twofold knowledge of God and self as well as the implications in the realm of experiential Christianity

The Poetic Image C. Day Lewis, 2011-09-28 This book a most important and original contribution to the literature of interpretative criticism contains the Clark Lectures delivered at Cambridge University in 1946 Its theme is poetic imagery not only in its stricter sense of simile metaphor and image but in the wider application of the term by which every good poem is itself a total image made up of a multiplicity of component images The book is therefore more than an academic study of one aspect of poetic material and technique it is an investigation into the nature of poetry itself taking as its clue the belief as old as Aristotle that the power of image making is the one sure sign of poetic genius Beneath all the manifestations of the poetic image Mr Day Lewis traces one principle at work the abiding impulse in every human being to seek order and harmony behind the manifold and the changing

Cosmos and Image in the Renaissance Kathryn Banks, 2017-07-05 Renaissance images could be real as well as linguistic Human beings were often believed to be an image of the cosmos and the sun an image of God Kathryn Banks explores the implications of this for poetic language and argues that linguistic images were a powerful tool for rethinking cosmic conceptions She reassesses the role of natural philosophical poetry in France focusing upon its most well known and widely read exponent Guillaume de Saluste Du Bartas Through a sustained analysis of Maurice Sceve's Delie Banks also rethinks love lyric's oft noted use of the beloved as image of the poet Cosmos and Image makes an original contribution to our understanding of Renaissance thinking about the cosmic the human and the divine It also proposes a mode of reading other Renaissance texts and reflects at length upon the relation of literature to history to the history of science and to political turmoil

Bernard of Clairvaux Bernardo (Santo,), 1987 a milestone in American religious publishing New

Catholic World Bernard of Clairvaux Selected Works translation and foreword by G R Evans introduction by Jean Leclercq O S B preface by Ewert H Cousins Lord you are good to the soul which seeks you What are you then to the soul which finds But this is the most wonderful thing that no one can seek you who has not already found you You therefore seek to be found so that you may be sought for sought so that you may be found Bernard of Clairvaux 1090 1153 Born in Fontaines l s Dijon in 1090 Bernard had become by his twenty fifth birthday the abbot of a Cistercian monastery which he had founded in the valley of Clairvaux near Aube France some four years earlier There in those isolated and rugged surroundings he became the spokesman for a revival of monastic life in an age when the radical spirit of religious life was endangered by a movement best seen in the excesses of the monks of Cluny that stressed the adaptation of the rule of St Benedict to the exigencies and taste for princely comforts of the royal courts of twelfth century France But Bernard s dedication to the strict observance of Benedict s rule was mingled not with the abrasive shrill style of the prophet but with a sweetness and purity of vision that earned him the title Doctor mellifluous For he possessed a sense of the love of God the importance of humility and the sheer beauty of holiness that has made his writings favorites of scholars and laymen alike throughout the ages Here in a new translation by G R Evans are the writings that have had such a major role in shaping the Western monastic tradition and influencing the development of catholic mystical theology Together with an introduction by the master of Bernard studies Jean Leclercq they comprise a volume that occupies a place of special importance in the chronicle of the history of the Western spiritual adventure

Self, Nation, Text in Salman Rushdie's "Midnight's Children" Neil ten Kortenaar, 2004 Neil ten Kortenaar examines the key critical concepts associated with contemporary postcolonial theory including hybridity mimicry national allegory and cosmopolitanism through a close reading of Salman Rushdie s Midnight s Children He offers successive readings of Rushdie s novel first as an allegory of history then as a Bildungsroman and psychological study of the burgeoning of a national consciousness and finally as a representation of the nation He shows that the hybridity of Rushdie s fictional India is not created by different elements combining to form a single whole but rather by the relations among the elements Rushdie s India is more self conscious than are communal identities based on language it is haunted by a dark twin called Pakistan it is a nation in the way England is a nation but is imagined against Engl it mistrusts the openness of Tagore s Hindu India and it is at once cosmopolitan and a particular subjective location The citizen in turn is imagined in terms of the nation Saleem Sinai s heroic identification of himself with the state is beaten out of him until at the end he sees himself as the Common Man at the mercy of the state Self Nation Text in Salman Rushdie s Midnight Children explains the many historical and cultural references in a book that makes many demands on non Indian readers and will be of interest to all who teach postcolonial and postmodern literature and to their students graduate and undergraduate Moreover as an original argument about how nation states are imagined and how national consciousness is formed in the citizen it will be of interest to scholars in the area of cultural studies and postcolonial theory whether in history literature cultural studies or South Asian

The Editor, 1921 J.M. Coetzee's Revisions of the Human Kai Wiegandt, 2020-01-22 Kai Wiegandt's study offers a nuanced thoroughgoing and deeply engaging account of novelist J M Coetzee's revision of our core ideas of the human not least the human sense of uniqueness that we have invested in our belief in reason and conviction of God-likeness He persuasively analyses the careful ways through which Coetzee deploys narrative as a mode of thinking through such human and post-human questions so developing a fresh and original approach Wiegandt calls anthropological realism Drawing on thinkers from across the French German and Anglophone traditions Wiegandt has produced a fiercely insightful and committedly interdisciplinary study Elleke Boehmer Professor of World Literature in English University of Oxford J M Coetzee's Revisions of the Human offers a bold and compelling argument that is sure to make a serious intervention in Coetzee criticism Wiegandt introduces several new fields of enquiry in relation to Coetzee's fiction the discussions thus reframe well-worn debates in an innovative way making for unexpected insights in seemingly familiar critical terrain The book opens up a valuable and thought-provoking perspective on Coetzee's work and will be of particular interest to the philosophically minded Coetzee specialist Carrol Clarkson Professor and Chair of Modern English Literature University of Amsterdam Tracking skilfully across the shifting terrain of J M Coetzee's fictions Kai Wiegandt draws out their philosophical and literary intertexts in this lucid erudite and compelling book and thereby illuminates a fundamental concern that has persisted throughout Coetzee's career to probe and push our ideas of what it is to be human Jarad Zimbler author of J M Coetzee and the Politics of Style This study argues that the most consistent concern in Coetzee's oeuvre is the question of what makes us human Ideas of the human that stress language use reason self-consciousness autonomy and God-likeness are revised in his novels via a poetic of testing which pits intertextually referenced ideas against each other in polyphonic narratives In addition to examining the philosophical provenance of questions of the human in the work of such thinkers as Plato Hegel Heidegger Barthes and Foucault the study charts Coetzee's reconfiguration of elements drawn from major literary precursors like Cervantes Heinrich von Kleist Kafka and Beckett Its leading argument is that Coetzee revises the Enlightenment idea of the human as a disengaged autonomous thinker by demonstrating the limitations of reason that he instead offers a view of humanity as engaged agency a view most compatible with ideas developed in the discourse of post humanism theories of materiality and social practice theory and that his revisions depend on narrative form as much as they recommend a narrative approach to ideas in general

Cantica Canticorum Saint Bernard (of Clairvaux), 1895 The Qur'an and Its Interpreters, Volume 1 Mahmoud Ayoub, 1984-01-01 The Qur'an and Its Interpreters introduces the Western reader to the Qur'an as Muslims have understood it The record of the Qur'an in the community as a force shaping the life of Muslims can be most clearly discerned through the vast literature of interpretation known as tafsir This multivolume work is based on a large number of tafsir sources representing all the major religious schools and stages of Muslim history for the last one thousand years It will cover the entire Qur'an This first volume consists of an introduction to the science and sources of interpretation of the Qur'an and the first two surahs of the Qur'an The treatment is comprehensive and thorough While the work is based entirely on primary sources this volume includes a substantial bibliography of works on the Qur'an in Western languages The Qur'an is the word of God as it was revealed to the prophet Muhammad interiorized by the community then shaped into an earthly book whose original archetype is with God Dr Ayoub concerns himself not with the history of the Qur'an but with the way it was collected and fixed into an official codex the recension of which has voiced the community's prayers and devotions set its legal norms and moral standards and occupied its best minds for more than thirteen hundred years Ductor Dubitantium or the Rule of Conscience in all her generall measures; serving as a great instrument for the determination of Cases of Conscience Jeremy TAYLOR (Bishop of Down and Connor, and of Dromore.), 1676 Homiletical commentary on the Book of Genesis, chapters I-VIII by J.
