Destination Image - Do Berlin's tourist authorities have to consider cultural segmentation when developing marketing strategies relating to the place's image in an era that refers to the global tourist? Wassim El Kadhi, 2008-10-13 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Destination image is considered as the key in attracting tourists This thesis purported to scrutinise whether Berlin's tourist authorities have to consider cultural segmentation when developing marketing strategies relating to the place's image As an exploratory study it examined Berlin's image among youths from Arab Islamic and Protestant European countries and confronted them In an era that is subjected to globalisation and refers to the global tourist it is vindicated to pose this question Various scholars are convinced that the world tourism market may be treated as a homogenous one due to globalisation. However, the literature also provides some opposing bearings and discusses them. It further gives some background information on Berlin as a tourist destination, addresses destination image concerning influential cultural factors and the implications of globalisation on consumer behaviour. Finally, it studies the Arab, Islamic and Protestant European youth cultures in the light of globalisation and possible modifying effects. In response to the objectives of this study, primary research was conducted. It involved both quantitative and qualitative data collection methods. Field and online surveys enabled the researcher to collect 239 completed questionnaires: 103 Arab, Islamic and 136 Protestant European youths. Besides semi-structured interviews and focus group discussions, were carried out at EF Language School Bournemouth. Following the completion of the survey, obtained data was entered into SPSS. Frequencies and means were calculated for each variable and several ANOVA tests and cross-tabulations conducted in order to stress destination image's specificity in terms of cultural background. Research findings revealed significant differences between the groups regarding their perception of Berlin. Arab, Islamic youths had a more negative stance towards Berlin than their counterparts. Not only did divergences occur between the groups but also within the groups. Thus, destination image is culture-specific and may also vary across countries sharing similar cultural backgrounds. Overall, despite the effects of globalisation, cultural market segmentation still remains a vital element for a tourist place such as Berlin, where the image management is concerned. The thesis provides recommendations for Berlin congruent with the outcomes and concludes with the provision of recommendations for further

Arab World and Western Intelligence Dina Rezk, 2017-06-02. Have Western intelligence experts fundamentally failed to understand the dynamics, leaders and culture of the Middle East? Using the most recently declassified documents, interviews and Arabic sources, the book examines seminal case studies to explore how the most knowledgeable and powerful intelligence agencies in the world have been so notoriously caught off guard.

Cinema in the Arab World Ifdal Elsaket, Daniël Biltereyst, Philippe Meers, 2023-01-26. Cinema in the Arab world has been the subject of varied and rigorous studies but most have focused on films as text, providing in-depth analyses of plot, style, ideologies or examination of the biographies of prominent directors or actors. This innovative new volume shifts the focus on Arab cinema off screen to examine the histories, politics and conditions of distribution, exhibition and cinema-going in the Arab world. Through broadening the frame of study beyond the screen, the book widens understanding of the cinema not merely as a collection of films as texts but as a site of cultural and political contestation in the Arab world. Divided into two sections and guided by interdisciplinary considerations, the contributors examine historical and contemporary issues of Arab cinema in terms of the experience of movie-going and filmmaking. They examine the networks of distribution and exhibition as well as the contested and multiple meanings that the cinema embodied through diverse historical periods and geographical locations. Part I focuses on new histories of Arab cinema in terms of film production, distribution, exhibition and audience's experiences of cinema-going. Part II deals with more recent issues within scholarship on Arab cinema such as issues of politics economics ideologies as well as issues related to Arab movies international circulation and screenings at festivals Together the chapters enrich our understanding of the cinema in the Arab world showing how deeply embedded it is within its social political and economic contexts Space Science and the Arab World Jörg Matthias Determann, 2018-01-29 When Sultan bin Salman left Earth on the shuttle Discovery in 1985 he became the first Arab first Muslim and first member of a royal family in space Twenty five years later the discovery of a planet 500 light years away by the Qatar Exoplanet Survey subsequently named Qatar 1b was evidence of the cutting edge space science projects taking place across the Middle East This book identifies the individuals institutions and national ideologies that enabled Arab astronomers and researchers to gain support for space exploration when Middle East governments lacked interest Jörg Matthias Determann shows that the conquest of space became associated with national prestige security economic growth and the idea of an Arab renaissance more generally Equally important to this success were international collaborations to benefit from American and Soviet expertise and technology Arab scientists and officials had to commit to global governance of space and the common interests of humanity Challenging the view that the golden age of Arabic science and cosmopolitanism was situated in the medieval period Determann tells the story of the new discoveries and scientific collaborations taking place from the 19th century to the present day An innovative contribution to Middle East studies and history of science the book also appeals to increased business media and political interest in the Arab space industry International Schools and International Education Mary Hayden, Jeff Thompson, 2013-04-15 This work tackles the issues that staff and management of international schools need to address in order to ensure that their teaching and organization is of a high standard and quality It contains a wide range of contributions from international school experts around the world Modernity and Tradition Fouad Al-Farsy, 2012-10-12 First published in 1990 A country's development does not take place in a vacuum and it was therefore essential in this earlier work that the main subject the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia's development should be set into an historical political and social context The original edition includes a summary of this background information starting with the Kingdom's geographical location and proceeding with a brief account of its history its political importance and its role in the world economy Within this context is described the development and progress of what the Kingdom had achieved outlining the country's governmental structure its administrative divisions its available investment potential its prevailing legal and commercial regulations and its future plans and ambitions This new book which has been structured to encompass all aspects of the Kingdom's development contains the latest statistical data on the Kingdom's progress together with the newly revised background information of the former book Thus each of the books complements the other for each records the relevant information at a particular stage in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia's continuing developmental process Language and Identity in the Arab World Fathiya Al Rashdi, Sandhya Rao Mehta, 2022-09-05 Language and Identity in the Arab World explores the inextricable link between language and identity referring particularly to the Arab world Spanning Indonesia to the United States the Arab world is here imagined as a continually changing one with the Arab diaspora asserting its linguistic identity across the world Crucial questions on transforming linguistic landscapes the role and implications of migration and the impact of technology on language use are explored by established and emerging scholars in the field of applied and socio linguistics The book asks such crucial questions as how language contact affects or transforms identity how language reflects changing identities among migrant communities and how language choices contribute to identity construction in social media As well as appreciating the breadth and scope of the Arab world this anthology focuses on the transformative role of language within indigenous and migrant communities as they negotiate between their heritage languages and those spoken by the wider society Investigating the ways in which identity continues to be imagined and re constructed in and among Arab communities this book is indispensable to students teachers and anyone who is interested in language contact linguistic landscapes and minority language retention as well as the intersections of language and technology

Cross-Cultural Destination Image Assessment: Cultural Segmentation Versus the Global Tourist Wassim El Kadhi, 2009-03 Various scholars consider destination image a vital part in tourism marketing as the key in attracting tourists It is often regarded as the most important element in a destination s management and may induce success or failure Within this research project destination image is being assessed in cross cultural terms It scrutinises the extent to which destination image is culture specific In other words does a destination s image vary across people from different cultural backgrounds This question evolves and is vindicated in an era that is subjected to globalisation and increasingly refers to the global tourist Many academics are convinced that the world tourism market may be treated as a homogenous one due to globalisation However the literature also provides some opposing bearings and discusses them Hence the author of this book intended to investigate this issue in more depth in order to find a probable answer to the contradicting sources by conducting an exploratory study of Arab Islamic and Protestant European youth s pre visitation image on Berlin In response to the objectives of this study primary research was carried out It involved both quantitative and qualitative data collection methods Field and online surveys enabled the researcher to collect 239 completed questionnaires Besides semi structured interviews and focus group discussions were carried out Obtained data was entered into SPSS and frequencies and means were calculated and several ANOVA tests and cross tabulations conducted in order to stress destination image s specificity in terms of cultural background This book further gives information on Berlin as a tourist destination addresses destination image concerning influential cultural factors and the implications of globalisation on consumer behaviour Finally it studies the Arab Islamic and Protestant European youth cultures in the light of globalisation and potential modifying effects It also provides recommendations

Images from the Arab World, 1977 Narrating Conflict in the Middle East Dina Matar, Zahera Harb, 2013-06-21 The term conflict has often been used broadly and uncritically to talk about diverse situations ranging from street protests to war though the many factors that give rise to any conflict and its continuation over a period of time vary greatly The starting point of this innovative book is that to consider conflict within a singular concept disables a coherent analysis of the constituent factors behind any particular conflict At the same time to consider each conflict as entirely distinct and unique undermines an attempt to examine common factors in all conflicts The contributors set out to explore alternative ways in which the long term conflicts in Palestine and Lebanon have been and are narrated imagined and remembered in diverse spaces including that of the media They examine discourses and representations of the conflicts as well as practices of memory and performance in narratives of suffering and conflict all of which suggest an embodied investment in narrating or communicating conflict In so doing they engage with local global and regional realities in Lebanon and Palestine and they respond dynamically to these realities

Business Ethics in the Middle East Yusuf Sidani, 2018-06-12 Business Ethics in the Middle East fills a crucial gap in the Middle East educational landscape Written in an easy and accessible format this book covers the foundations of business ethics by drawing from both Eastern and Western traditions The chapters include many examples case studies activities and illustrations that are customized to the Middle Eastern market yet relevant to readers outside of the Middle East who want thorough insights about business behaviour in the region A special module introduces the Arab Middle Eastern context that non Arab readers will find valuable The author addresses topics related to organizational culture leadership CSR corporate governance marketing HR accounting finance and production This is accomplished with a deep attention to the cultural and contextual elements of the Middle East Special attention is given to religious business ethics while still deeply engaging the vast heritage of Western ethical systems This combination is essential for the development of a comprehensive approach to the topic of business ethics This textbook will be essential reading for students of business ethics in the Middle East and will also be valuable for students and researchers across business ethics Islamic Studies religion and philosophy

Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Arabic Abeer Abdulaziz AL-Sarrani, 2016-03-25 This book explores the challenges of cross cultural translation of American literary works into Arabic which I argue have prevented many nineteenth century literary works from being translated into Arabic I have used the Arabic translations of Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin and an abridged English text accompanying one of the translations as a case study Since most of the Arabic translations of English and especially American literary works are merely linguistic oriented ones I reinforce the importance of adopting a period specific cultural oriented approach that maintains the cultural context of American literary works including the historical cultural religious geopolitical and gender based elements during the literary translation into the Arabic culture I start with discussing the internationalization of American works and the importance of a cultural reading of these works. Reviewing many translations of English and American works in general, I categorize the challenges of cross-cultural literary translation from English into Arabic into the following: cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based ones. While I am not calling for accurate cross-cultural literary translations since it is impossible, however, I am advocating for faithful translations which maintain the literary text's cultural and historical contexts. The accuracy of a literary translation depends on the amount of linguistic skill a translator has, while the faithfulness of a literary translation is based upon the translator's sincere effort to include the literary text's entire cultural context, including the historical, cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based elements. Using Uncle Tom's Cabin as a case study, I discuss how the previous challenges had negatively affected the translation process of the work. Despite the fact the work has been translated seven times into Arabic due to the linguistic-oriented approach, the historical and cultural significance of Stowe's novel has not yet been introduced to Arab readers through translation. Due to the current era of globalization that demands individuals to have multicultural knowledge and understanding, and due to the recent cultural and translation projects of literary works from English into Arabic, this book reinforces the importance and possibility of addressing the cultural, religious, geopolitical, and gender-based challenges while using Uncle Tom's Cabin as an example.

The Arab World Elizabeth Warnock Fernea, Robert Alan Fernea, 1985. An insider's view of real life in the Arab world today, written by a couple who has spent 25 years living and working in the Middle East. Arab Cinema Viola Shafik, 2007. Intended for scholars of film and the contemporary Middle East, this title provides a comprehensive overview of cinema in the Arab world, tracing the industry's development since colonial times. It analyzes the ambiguous relationship with commercial western cinema and the effect of Egyptian market dominance in the region.

The Routledge Handbook of Arabic Translation Sameh Hanna, Hanem El-Farahaty, Abdel-Wahab Khalifa, 2019-12-09. Translation-related activities from and into Arabic have significantly increased in the last few years in both scope and scale. The launch of a number of national translation projects, policies, and awards in a number of Arab countries, together with the increasing translation from Arabic in a wide range of subject areas outside the Arab World, especially in the aftermath of the Arab Spring, have complicated and diversified the dynamics of the translation industry involving Arabic. The Routledge Handbook of Arabic Translation seeks to explicate Arabic translation practice, pedagogy, and scholarship with the aim of producing a state-of-the-art reference book that maps out these areas and meets the pedagogical and research needs of advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as active researchers.
