Ulysses Irish Studies Marti D. Lee, Ed Madden, 2009-10-02 Highlighting the work of both established and emerging scholars in Irish studies this collection brings together fifteen essays working at the intersection of two important and developing fields of Irish studies gender studies and cultural geography Developed from papers first presented at a regional meeting of the American Conference for Irish Studies in South Carolina in 2006 not only does this work suggest the importance of linking gender and geography but it also suggests in the range of literary and historical topics the rich interdisciplinary nature of Irish studies at present Central to all of the essays is an attention to intersections of gender and sexual identity formation with the politics of place and space Although considerations of geographic space have long been staples of Irish cultural studies especially in relation to political identities these pieces suggest the critical importance of linking spatial and geographic analysis more clearly to ongoing examinations of gender and sexuality From institutions such as the Magdalen laundries and the prison to the domestic garden and home across urban and rural landscapes from the Dublin GPO to a St Patty s festival in the southern United States this book examines the local and human contexts of identity formation and performance

A History of Food in Literature Charlotte Boyce, Joan Fitzpatrick, 2017-05-18 When novels plays and poems refer to food they are often doing much more than we might think Recent critical thinking suggests that depictions of food in literary works can help to explain the complex relationship between the body subjectivity and social structures A History of Food in Literature provides a clear and comprehensive overview of significant episodes of food and its consumption in major canonical literary works from the medieval period to the twenty first century This volume contextualises these works with reference to pertinent historical and cultural materials such as cookery books diaries and guides to good health in order to engage with the critical debate on food and literature and how ideas of food have developed over the centuries Organised chronologically and examining certain key writers from every period including Chaucer Shakespeare Austen and Dickens this book s enlightening critical analysis makes it relevant for anyone interested in the study of food and literature

Books Ireland, 1998-02 Landscapes of Encounter Liam Gearon, 2002 Brian Moore 1921-1999 is one of the few novelists whose literary portrayal of Catholicism effectively spans the period prior to and following the Second Vatican Council. Many critics have discussed how Moore's life is reflected in his works while others have dismissed his fictions as simple narratives in the mould of classical realism. In this timely book Gearon contends that Moore's fictions are far more complex as he was one of the great observers of Catholicism in all its modern and historical controversy

Against the Despotism of Fact T. J. Boynton, 2021-02-01

Emerging at a moment of escalating colonial conflict between England and Ireland, the figure of the Irish Celt enjoyed a long and varied career in both English and Irish literature from the late Victorian era to World War II. While this figure assumes many forms and functions, T. J. Boynton argues that he is consistently cast as inherently resistant to capitalism. Beginning with an innovative reassessment of Matthew Arnold's The Study of Celtic Literature from which the book also takes its title, Against the Despotism of Fact offers new readings of major works by writers such as Kipling, Conrad, Lawrence, Yeats, Joyce and Beckett. In their writing, Boynton argues, the Irish Celt served as a transnational vehicle of modernist experimentation geared toward interrogating the imperial social and pop cultural dimensions of capitalist modernity. Making a significant contribution to Irish studies, modernist studies and postcolonial studies, Against the Despotism of Fact draws attention to not only the prevalence but also the critical potential of this fraught figure

A History of the Irish Novel Derek Hand, 2011-03-10

Derek Hand's A History of the Irish Novel is a major work of criticism on some of the greatest and most globally recognisable writers of the novel form. Writers such as Laurence Sterne, James Joyce, Elizabeth Bowen, Samuel Beckett and John McGahern have demonstrated the extraordinary intellectual range, thematic complexity and stylistic innovation of Irish fiction. Derek Hand provides a remarkably detailed picture of the Irish novel's emergence in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. He shows the story of the genre is the story of Ireland's troubled relationship to modernisation. The first critical synthesis of the Irish novel from the seventeenth century to the present day, this is a major book for the field and the first to thematically, theoretically and contextually chart its development. It is an essential, entertaining and highly original guide to the history of the Irish novel

A Chastened Communion Andrew J. Auge, 2013-12-03

A Chastened Communion traces a new path through the well-traversed field of modern Irish poetry by revealing how critical engagement with Catholicism shapes the trajectory of the poetic careers of Austin Clarke, Patrick Kavanagh, John Montague, Seamus Heaney, Eilís Ní Chuiléain, and Paul Durcan and Paula Meehan. Underlying their divergent poetic styles and thematic concerns, Auge discerns a common pattern. He shows how a demythologizing critique of some elemental features of Irish Catholicism—the sacraments of confession and the Eucharist—the pilgrimages to holy wells and Lough Derg the veneration of the Blessed Virgin the imperative to self sacrifice the narrowly patriarchal nature of the institution elicit for each of these poets a radical reshaping of these traditional religious phenomena Auge provides compelling new readings of major Irish poets and establishes a basis for distinguishing modern Irish poetry from its Anglophone counterparts Irish Literature in Italy in the Era of the World Wars Antonio Bibbò, 2021-12-14 This book addresses both the dissemination and increased understanding of the specificity of Irish literature in Italy during the first half of the twentieth century This period was a crucial time of nation building for both countries Antonio Bibb illustrates the various images of Ireland that circulated in Italy focusing on political and cultural discourses and examines the laborious formation of an Irish literary canon in Italy The center of this analysis relies on books and articles on Irish politics culture and literature produced in Italy including pamphlets anthologies literary histories and propaganda translations of texts by Irish writers and archival material produced by writers publishers and cultural and political institutions Bibb argues that the construction of different and often conflicting ideas of Ireland in Italy as well as the wavering understanding of the distinctiveness of Irish culture substantially affected the Italian responses to Irish writers and their presence within the Italian publishing field This book contributes to the discussion on transnational aspects of canon formation reception studies and Italian cultural studies Painting Dublin, 1886-1949 Kathryn Milligan, 2020-12-06 Delving into a hitherto unexplored aspect of Irish art history Painting Dublin 1886 1949 examines the depiction of Dublin by artists from the late nineteenth to the mid twentieth century Artists representations of the city have long been markers of civic pride and identity yet in Ireland such artworks have been overlooked in favour of the rural and pastoral Framed by the shift from city of empire to capital of an independent republic this book examines artworks by Walter Osborne Rose Barton Jack B Yeats Harry Kernoff Estella Solomons and Flora Mitchell encompassing a variety of urban views and artistic themes While Dublin is already renowned for its representation in literature this book will demonstrate the many attractions it held for Ireland s artists offering a vivid visualisation of the city s streets and inhabitants at a crucial time in its history Excess in Modern Irish Writing

Michael McAteer, 2020-03-14 This book examines the topic of excess in modern Irish writing in terms of mysticism materialism myth and language The study engages ideas of excess as they appear in works by major thinkers from Hegel Kierkegaard and Marx through to Nietzsche Bataille Derrida and more recently Badiou Poems plays and fiction by a wide range of Irish authors are considered These include works by Oscar Wilde W B Yeats G B Shaw Patrick Pearse James Joyce Sean O Casey Louis MacNeice Samuel Beckett Elizabeth Bowen Roddy Doyle Seamus Heaney Marina Carr and Medbh McGuckian The readings presented illustrate how Matthew Arnold s nineteenth century idea of the excessive character of the Celt is itself exceeded within the modernity of twentieth century Irish writing Literature and Culture in Northern Ireland Since 1965 Richard Kirkland, 2016-07-01 This study considers writing within the cultural context of Northern Ireland and discusses how writing creates a sense of community and the different forms this takes when written from loyalist or republican perspectives The book takes its major theoretical energy from readings of Antonio Gramsci's concept of hegemony and Walter Benjamin's work on historiography these are applied to major writers such as Seamus Heaney Tom Paulin Paul Muldoon and Edna Longley and to institutions such as the Ulster Folk and Transport Museum
