Balkema, Henk Slager, 2023-04-17 This issue investigates the meaning of photographic image for contemporary art In Malraux dream photography offers the ultimate guarantee for a coherent presentation of art However as Douglas Crimp has stated the appearance and enhancement of photography as a form of art among other art forms disrupted the center of the art world What does this mean for art and philosophy in our time Various artists and theorists will delve into that question Christian Boltanski Benjamin H D Buchloh Jean Fran ois Chevrier Douglas Crimp Jos de Mul Mirjam de Zeeuw Rineke Dijkstra Michael Gibbs Rodney Graham Gerald van der Kaap Karen Knorr Zoe Leonard Ken Lum Hermann Pitz Liza May Post John Roberts Allan Sekula Andres Serrano Jan Simons Beat Streuli John M Swinnen Ren e van de Vall Hilde van Gelder Hripsim Visser Jeff Wall Ian Wallace and Herta Wolf Photographers Peter E. Palmquist, 2000 Popular Photography, 1983-03 The Art of the Project Johnnie Gratton, Michael Sheringham, 2005-10-01 The idea of the project crosses generic disciplinary and cultural frontiers At a time when writers and artists are increasingly describing their practices as projects remarkably little critical attention has been paid to the actual idea of the project This collection of essays responds to an urgent need by suggesting a framework for evaluating the notion of the project in the light of various modernist and postmodernist cultural practices drawn mainly but not exclusively from the French speaking domain The overview offered by this volume promises to makes an original and thought provoking contribution to contemporary literary artistic and cultural criticism

Evans, 2016-05-23 As home to 1920s excess and Hitler s Final Solution Berlin s physical and symbolic landscape was an important staging ground for the highs and lows of modernity In Cold War Berlin social and political boundaries were porous and the rubble gave refuge to a re emerging gay and lesbian scene youth gangs prostitutes hoods and hustlers Beyond Memory Diane Neumaier, 2004

Photography possesses a powerful ability to bear witness aid remembrance shape and even alter recollection In Beyond Memory Soviet Nonconformist Photography and Photo Related Works of Art the general editor Diane Neumaier and twenty three contributors offer a rigorous examination of the medium s role in late Soviet unofficial art Focusing on the period between the mid 1950s and the late 1980s they explore artists unusually inventive and resourceful uses of photography within a highly developed Soviet dissident culture During this time lack of high quality photographic materials complimented by tremendous creative impulses prompted artists to explore experimental photo processes such as camera and darkroom manipulations photomontage and hand coloring Photography also took on a provocative array of forms including photo installation artist made samizdat self published books photo realist painting and many other surprising applications of the flexible medium Beyond Memory shows how innovative conceptual moves and approaches to form and content echoes of Soviet society s coded communication and a Russian sense of absurdity were common in the Soviet cultural underground Collectively the works in this anthology demonstrate how late Soviet artists employed irony and invention to make positive use of difficult circumstances In the process the volume illuminates the multiple characters of photography itself and highlights the leading role that the medium has come to play in the international art world today Beyond Memory stands on its own as a rigorous examination of photography s place in late Soviet unofficial art while also serving as a supplement to the traveling exhibition of the same title

Roman Cult of Mithras Manfred Clauss, 2019-06-01 Since its publication in Germany Manfred Clauss s introduction to the Roman Mithras cult has become widely accepted as the most reliable as well as the most readable account of its elusive and fascinating subject For the English edition the author has revised the work to take account of recent research and new archaeological discoveries The mystery cult of Mithras first became evident in Rome towards the end of the first century AD During the next two centuries carried by its soldier and merchant devotees it spread to the frontier of the western empire from Britain to Bosnia Perhaps because of odd similarities between the cult and their own religion the early Christians energetically suppressed it frequently constructing churches over the caves Mithraea in which its rituals took place By the end of the fourth century the cult was extinct Professor Clauss draws on the archaeological evidence from over 400 temples and their contents including over a thousand representations of ritual in sculpture and painting to seek an understanding of the nature and purpose of the cult and what its mysteries and secret rites of initiation and sacrifice meant to its devotees In doing so he introduces the reader to the nature of the polytheistic societies of the Roman Empire in which relations and distinctions between gods and mortals now seem strangely close and blurred He also considers the connections of Mithraicism with astrology and examines how far it can be seen as a direct descendant of the ancient cult of Mitra the Persian god of contract cattle and light The book combines imaginative insight with coherent argument It is well structured accessibly written and extensively illustrated Richard Gordon the translator and himself a distinguished scholar of the subject has provided a bibliography of further reading for anglophone readers

More than One Picture Felix Thürlemann, 2019-11-26 This thought provoking and original book argues that hyperimages calculated displays of images on walls or pages have played a major role in the history of art In exhibitions illustrated art books and classrooms artworks or their photographic reproductions are arranged as calculated ensembles that have their own importance In this volume Felix Thürlemann develops a theory of this type of image use arguing that with each new gathering of images an art object is reinterpreted These hyperimages have played a major role in the history of art since the seventeenth century and the main actors of the art world are all hyperimage creators In part because the hyperimage is not permanently available this interplay of images has been largely unexplored Through case studies organized within three groups of producers collectors and curators art historians and artists Thürlemann proposes a theory of the hyperimage explores the semiotic nature of this plural image use and discusses the arrangement and interpretation of such pictures in order to illuminate the phenomenon of Western image culture from the beginning of the seventeenth century until today His analysis of the ways in which images are assembled and associated provides a crucial context for the explosive present day deployment of images on digital devices

Romanticism and Visuality Sophie Thomas, 2007-12-12 This book investigates the productive crosscurrents between visual culture and literary texts in the Romantic period focusing on the construction and manipulation of the visual the impact of new visual media on the literary and historical imagination and on fragments and ruins as occupying the shifting border between the visible and the invisible It examines a broad selection of instances that reflect debates over how seeing should itself be viewed instances from Daguerre's Diorama to the staging of Coleridge's play Remorse to the figure of the Medusa in Shelley's poetry and at the Phantasmagoria in which the very act of seeing is represented or dramatized In reconsidering literary engagements with the expanding visual field this study argues that the popular culture of Regency Britain reflected not just emergent and highly capitalized forms of mass entertainment but also a lively interest in the aesthetic and conceptual dimensions of looking What is commonly thought to be the Romantic resistance to the visible gives way to a generative fascination with the visual and its imaginative even spectacular possibilities

Artist Complex Jadwiga Kamola, 2021-10-11 With the Jungian term of the complex the present volume inquires about the making of the artistic persona in twentieth century photography The articles examine photographic self portraits the dynamics between self statements of artists and photographers the interrelations of photography of painting and of performance art and investigate their origins in the history of ideas The volume traces a portrait of photography as a metascience as preparatory work a source of inspiration and an alternate medium in which artists could explore different subjects With essays by Ulrike Blumenthal Till Cremer Victoria Fleury Jadwiga Kamola Weronika Kobylska Bunsch Nadja Kffler Constance Kr ger Wilma Scheschonk Gerd Zillner Co-curating the City Clare Melhuish, Henric Benesch, Dean Sully, Ingrid Martins Holmberg, 2022-05-24 Co curating the City explores the role of universities in the construction and mobilisation of heritage discourses in urban development and regeneration processes with a focus on six case study sites University of Gothenburg Sweden UCL East London University of Lund Sweden Roma Tre university Rome American University of Beirut and Federal University of S o Paulo Brazil The aim of the book is to expand the field of critical heritage studies in the urban domain by examining the role of institutional actors both in the construction of urban heritage discourses and in how those discourses influence urban planning decisions or become instrumentalised as mechanisms for urban regeneration It proposes that universities engage in these processes in a number of ways as producers of urban knowledge that is mobilised to intervene in planning processes as producers of heritage practices that are implemented in development contexts in the urban realm and as developers engaged in campus construction projects that both reference heritage discourses as a mechanism for promoting support and approval by planners and the public and capitalise on heritage assets as a resource The book highlights the participatory processes through which universities are positioning themselves as significant institutions in the development of urban heritage narratives The case studies investigate how universities as mixed communities of interest dispersed across buildings and urban sites engage in strategies of engagement with local people and neighbourhoods and ask how this may be contributing to a re shaping of ideas narratives and lived experience of urban heritage in which universities have a distinctive agency The authors cross disciplinary and cultural boundaries and bridge academia and practice American Photographer, 1983 Representations of Art and Art Museums in Children's Picture Books Perry Nodelman, 2024-10-17 What happens when the assumptions and practices of museum curators and art educators intersect with the assumptions and practices of publishing for children This study explores how over three hundred children s picture books most of them published in the last three decades in English introduce children to art and art museums It considers how the books emerge from and relate to a range of theories and assumptions about childhood and childhood development children s literature and culture illustration visual art museology and art education As well as examining how these theories and assumptions influence what picture books teach young readers about visiting museums and about how to look at and think about art it examines which artists and artworks appear most often in picture books and offers a survey of different kinds of art related picture books ones that claim to be purely informational ones that make looking at art a game or a puzzle ones in which children visit art museums and many more Since the books all include reproductions of or allusions to museum artworks the study also considers the problems illustrators face in depicting museum artworks in illustrations in a different style
