Letters Of Transit Reflections On Exile And Memory:

Letters of Transit André Aciman, New York Public Library, 1999 André Aciman traces his migration from his home in Egypt to Italy France and the United States and compares his own transience with the unrootedness of many moderns Eva Hoffman examines the crucial role of language and what happens when your first is lost Returning to the political themes of his earlier work Edward Said offers a personal exploration of his conflicting allegiances Novelist Bharati Mukherjee analyzes her own struggle with assimilation Finally Charles Simic remembers the comedy of bureaucracy he experienced as a sixteen year old displaced person in Paris after the war and his thwarted attempts at fitting in in America BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved A Mirror in the Roadway Morris Dickstein, 2021-08-10 In a famous passage in The Red and the Black the French writer Stendhal described the novel as a mirror being carried along a roadway In the twentieth century this was derided as a naïve notion of realism Instead modern writers experimented with creative forms of invention and dislocation Deconstructive theorists went even further questioning whether literature had any real reference to a world outside its own language while traditional historians challenged whether novels gave a trustworthy representation of history and society In this book Morris Dickstein reinterprets Stendhal's metaphor and tracks the different worlds of a wide array of twentieth century writers from realists like Theodore Dreiser Sinclair Lewis Edith Wharton and Willa Cather through modernists like Franz Kafka and Samuel Beckett to wildly inventive postwar writers like Saul Bellow Günter Grass Mary McCarthy George Orwell Philip Roth and Gabriel García Márquez Dickstein argues that fiction will always yield rich insight into its subject and that literature can also be a form of historical understanding Writers refract the world through their forms and sensibilities He shows how the work of these writers recaptures yet also transforms the life around them the world inside them and the universe of language and feeling they share with their readers Through lively and incisive essays directed to general readers as well as students of literature Dickstein redefines the literary landscape a landscape in which reading has for decades been devalued by society and distorted by theory Having begun with a reconsideration of realism the book concludes with several essays probing the strengths and limitations of a historical approach to literature and criticism Where Memory Dwells Macarena Gómez-Barris, 2009 Where Memory Dwells is a crucial contribution to the current debate on political violence Macarena Gómez-Barris has researched exhaustively on the Chilean post dictatorship to find the deep relationship between what happened in Chile on September 11 1973 and what is going on today in Chile and in the world Sergio Villalobos Ruminott University of Arkansas This book offers intriguing insights on the symbolic aesthetic and personal aspects of memory making by activists survivors and artists during the afterlife of the Pinochet dictatorship The author shows how specific cultural actors wrestle creatively with the dilemma of how to represent experiences of atrocity that defy our ability to know narrate and depict them yet prove crucial to the building of a democratic culture Steve Stern Alberto Flores Galindo Professor

University of Wisconsin Macarena Gomez Barris takes the reader on an often personal journey through the memoryscape of terror of the Chilean dictatorship in Chile and Chilean culture in exile This book makes a poignant and compelling contribution to the study of traumatic memory in Latin America Marita Sturken Professor of Media Culture and Communication studies New York University Where Memory Dwells offers an immensely luminous rearticulation of the 1990s politics of memory theme for the twenty first century Illustrating the profound relevance of memory studies to political theory G mez Barris shows with great lucidity how the remembering and forgetting of state terror are entwined with global and local forces of the neoliberal economy nationalism and universal human rights discourse Where Memory Dwells exemplifies the best efforts of a sociological approach to memory as cultural mediation of power It should be read by anyone interested in the critical work that collective memory may perform for our societies in transition Lisa Yoneyama Author of Hiroshima Traces Time Space and the Dialectics of Memory Where Memory Dwells is a creatively researched and exquisitely thoughtful study of the memory of state terror as it lives and hides in complex and politically activated cultural practices G mez Barris s exploration of how authoritarianism and social injustice are remembered forgotten and redressed by nations citizens and exiles is a beautiful achievement one with an immediate relevance for us today Avery F Gordon author of Ghostly Matters

Diaspora and Memory ,2016-08-01 Experiences of migration and dwelling in displacement impinge upon the lives of an ever increasing number of people worldwide with business class comfort but more often with unrelenting violence Since the early 1990s the political and cultural realities of global migration have led to a growing interest in the different forms of diasporic existence and identities The articles in this book do not focus on the external boundaries of diaspora what is diasporic and what is not but on one of its most important internal boundaries which is indicated by the second term in the title of this book memory It is not by chance that the right to remember the responsibility to recall are central issues of the debates in diasporic communities and their relation to their cultural and political surroundings The relation of diaspora and memory contains important critical and maybe even subversive potentials Memory can transcend the territorial logic of dispersal and return and emerge as a competing source of diasporic identity The articles in this volume explore how shaped by the responsibilities of testimony as well as by the normalizing forces of amnesia and forgetting and political interests memory is a performative figurative process rather than a secure space of identity Francophone Sephardic Fiction Judith Roumani,2022-04-13 Francophone Sephardic Fiction Writing Migration Diaspora and Modernity approaches modern Sephardic literature in a comparative way to draw out similarities and differences among selected francophone novelists from various countries with a focus on North Africa The definition of Sepharad here is broader than just Spain it embraces Jews whose ancestors had lived in North Africa for centuries even before the arrival of Islam and who still today trace their allegiance to ways of being Jewish that go back to Babylon as do those whose ancestors spent a few hundred years in Iberia The author traces the strong influence of oral storytelling on modern novelists of the twentieth and early twenty first centuries and explores the idea of the portable homeland as exile and migration engulfed the long rooted Sephardic communities The author also examines diaspora concepts how modernity and post modernity threatened traditional ways of life and how humor and an active return into history for the novel have done more than mere nostalgia could to enliven the portable homeland of modern francophone Sephardic fiction Paris: The Collected Traveler Barrie Kerper,2011-07-12 Each edition of this unique series marries a collection of previously published essays with detailed practical information creating a colorful and deeply absorbing pastiche of opinions and advice Each book is a valuable resource a compass of sorts pointing vacationers business travelers and readers in many directions Going abroad with a Collected Traveler edition is like being accompanied by a group of savvy and observant friends who are intimately familiar with your destination This edition on Paris features Distinguished writers such as Mavis Gallant Barbara Grizzuti Harrison Herbert Gold Olivier Bernier Richard Reeves Patricia Wells Catharine Reynolds and Gerald Asher who share seductive pieces about Parisian neighborhoods personalities the Luxembourg Gardens P re Lachaise and other monuments restaurants and wine bars le Plan de Paris and le Beaujolais Nouveau Annotated bibliographies for each section with recommendations for related readings An A Z renseignements pratiques practical information section covering everything from accommodations marches aux puces flea markets and money to telephones tipping and the VAT Whether it s your first trip or your tenth the Collected Traveler books are indispensable and meant to be the first volumes you turn to when planning your journeys Home and Identity in Late Life Graham D. Harvard Square: A Novel André Aciman, 2013-04-08 An Egyptian Jewish Harvard graduate student trying to assimilate into American culture in 1977 befriends an impetuous loud Arab cab driver and must choose between his dream or his friend This is a tale of the wages of assimilation a moving story of an immigrant's remembered youth and the nearly forgotten costs and sacrifices of becoming an American It is the fall of 1977 and amid the lovely leafy streets of Cambridge a young Harvard graduate student a Jew from Egypt longs more than anything to become an assimilated American and a professor of literature He spends his days in a pleasant blur of seventeenth century fiction but when he meets a brash charismatic Arab cab driver in a Harvard Square cafe everything changes Nicknamed Kalashnikov Kalaj for short for his machine gun vitriol the cab driver roars into the student's life with his denunciations of the American obsession with all things jumbo and ersatz Twinkies monster television sets all you can eat buffets and his outrageous declarations on love and the art of seduction The student finds it hard to resist his new friend's magnetism and before long he begins to neglect his studies and live a double life one in the rarified world of Harvard the other as an exile with Kalaj on the streets of Cambridge Together they carouse the bars and cafes around Harvard Square trade intimate accounts of their love affairs argue about the American dream and skinny dip in Walden Pond But as final exams loom and Kalaj has his license revoked and is threatened with deportation the student faces the decision of his life whether to cling to his dream of New World assimilation or risk it all to defend his Old World friend

Dislocating Anthropology? Simon Coleman, Peter Collins, 2020-05-15 Anthropology continues to develop both in terms of theory and in relation to the ways in which fieldwork is conducted Dislocating Anthropology seeks to capture and represent these developments through a collection of ethnographic essays that are cutting edge but which do not represent a complete break with what has gone before In recent years anthropologists have increasingly come to accept that fieldwork in bounded and discrete places is no longer tenable People can no longer be represented in these static parochial terms At the start of the 21st century and with the possibility of internet connections almost anywhere we have the potential to move even when we are stationary Each of the contributors to this collection have identified and attempted to understand sets of relationships that are both temporally and spatially dynamic that appear to flow into and out of the field Together the chapters shed light on a number of methodological conundrums or dislocations relating for example to locality identity fieldwork and reflexivity The book is concerned with dislocation as both practice and process and as such extends a theme that has arguably been central to Anthropology since Film, History and Cultural Citizenship Tina Mai Chen, David S.

Churchill, 2020-09-19 This new book investigates the relationship of film to history power memory and cultural citizenship. The book is concerned with two central issues: firstly, the participation of film and filmmakers in articulating and challenging projects of modernity; and secondly, the role of film in shaping particular understandings of self and other to evoke collective notions of belonging. These issues call for interdisciplinary and multi-layered analyses that are ideally met through dialogue across place, time, identities and genres. The contributors to this volume enable this dialogue by considering the ways in which cultural expression and identity expressed through film serve to create notions of belonging, group identity and entitlement within modern societies.
