Cet ouvrage aborde le concept de sens développé par Nicole Brossard dans le contexte du féminisme lesbien qu'évoquent des années 80. Il s'articule autour des séquences de la vision aérienne ainsi que des rituels d'écriture qui défont le passage du non Sens patriarcal vers un nouveau sens féminin. Si sa théorie du sens est d'abord appliquée à ses œuvres parues entre 1977 et 1995 afin d'en démontrer la pertinence visionnaire, elle est ensuite transposée au contexte plus éthique que féministe de ses œuvres parues entre 1996 et 2007 afin de contrer le nouveau non Sens de notre inhumanité.

Comptes rendus hebdomadaires des séances de l'Académie des sciences Académie des sciences (France), 1870 Includes list of members      Narrative in the Feminine Susan Knutson, 2006-01-01 What does it mean to tell a story from a woman's point of view? How have Canadian anglophone and francophone writers translated feminist literary theory into practice? Avant-garde writers Daphne Marlatt and Nicole Brossard answer these and many more questions in their two groundbreaking works now made more accessible through the careful narratological readings and theoretical background in Narrative in the Feminine. Susan Knutson begins her study with an analysis of the contributions made by Marlatt and Brossard to international feminist theory. Part Two presents a narratological reading of Howl by a Stone, arguing that at the deepest level of narrative Marlatt constructs a gender-inclusive human subject which defaults not to the generic masculine but to the feminine. Part Three proposes a parallel reading of Picture Theory, Brossard's playful novel that draws us into readings of many other texts written by Brossard, Barnes, Wittig, Joyce, de Beauvoir, Homer, to name a few. Chapter 12 closes with a reflection on the expression critique au féminin, a Québécois contribution to an international theoretical debate. Readers who care about feminist writing and language theory and students and teachers of Canadian literature and critical and queer studies will find this book invaluable for its careful readings, its scholarly overview, and its extension of the feminist concept of the generic. Not least, the study is a guide to two important works of the leading experimental writers of Canada and Quebec: Daphne Marlatt and Nicole Brossard.      Writing Beyond the End Times? / Écrire au-delà de la fin des temps? Ursula Mathis-Moser, Marie Carrière, 2019-10-03 This collection of essays examines how the sense of crisis that occasionally seems to overwhelm us directs and transforms Canadian and Quebec writings in English and French and conversely how literature and criticism set out to counterbalance the social, economic and ideological insecurities we live in. Ce recueil de textes étudie les manières dont le sentiment de crise qui peut parfois sembler nous submerger oriente et transforme les écrits canadiens et québécois d'expressions anglaise et française et inversement comment la littérature et la critique s'efforcent de contrebalancer les insécurités sociales, économiques et idéologiques dans lesquelles nous vivons.
