Translating Cuba Robert S. Lesman,2021-07-12 Cuban culture has long been available to English speakers via translation This study examines the complex ways in which English renderings of Cuban texts from various domains poetry science fiction political and military writing music film have represented reshaped or amended original texts Taking in a broad corpus it becomes clear that the mental image an Anglophone audience has formed of Cuban culture since 1959 depends heavily on the decisions of translators At times a clear ideological agenda drives moves like strengthening the denunciatory tone of a song or excising passages from a political text At other moments translators indifference to the importance of certain facets of a work such as a film s onscreen text or the lyrics sung on a musical performance impoverishes the English speaker s experience of the rich weave of self expression in the original Spanish In addition to the dynamics at work in the choices translators make at the level of the text itself this study attends to how paratexts like prefaces footnotes liner notes and promotional copy shape the audience's experience of the text

Cuba's Cosmopolitan Enclaves Frances Peace Sullivan, 2025-05-27 How northeastern Cuba became a hub of international solidarity and transnational movements in the 1920s and 1930s This book explores how a region in Cuba that was widely known as a site of labor subjugation became a hub of international solidarity in the 1920s and 1930s In the early twentieth century United States agricultural companies like the United Fruit Company established sugar export operations in Cuba's Oriente Province creating a zone of economic imperialism These early multinational corporations recruited Afro Caribbean laborers from surrounding islands aiming to create closed self-sufficient plantation complexes However as Frances Peace Sullivan shows in Cuba's Cosmopolitan Enclaves the influx of foreign capital led to the development of diverse vibrant communities in these company towns Drawing on archival sources in Cuba the US Russia and the UK Sullivan demonstrates how immigrant workers joined local Cubans in movements for radical transnational solidarity In the interwar years northeastern Cuba became a center of Garveyite Pan-Africanism global communism and antifascist support for Republican Spain In 1933 the region attracted the world's attention when workers seized sugar mills in a revolutionary strike Placing northeastern Cuba at the heart of the history of interwar internationalism Sullivan shows how Oriente emerged as a focal point for visions of resistance Cuba's Cosmopolitan Enclaves reveals how workers seized pathways created by imperialist companies and used them to advance their own goals In this focused study Sullivan offers a detailed portrait of how ordinary people became leaders in transnational radicalism A volume in the series Caribbean Crossroads Race Identity and Freedom Struggles edited by Lillian Guerra Devyn Spence Benson April Mayes and Solsiree del Moral

War and Genocide in Cuba, 1895-1898 John Lawrence Tone, 2006-12-08 From 1895 to 1898 Cuban insurgents fought to free their homeland from Spanish rule Though often overshadowed by the Splendid Little War of the Americans in 1898 according to John Tone the longer Spanish-Cuban conflict was in fact more remarkable foreshadowing the wars of decolonization in the twentieth century Employing newly released evidence including hospital records intercepted Cuban letters battle diaries from both sides and Spanish administrative records Tone offers new answers to old questions concerning the war He examines the origin of Spain's genocidal policy of reconcentration the causes of Spain's military difficulties the condition effectiveness and popularity of the Cuban insurgency the necessity of American intervention and Spain's supposed foreknowledge of defeat The Spanish-Cuban-American war proved pivotal in the histories of all three countries involved Tone's fresh analysis will provoke new discussions and debates among historians and human rights scholars as they reexamine the war in which the concentration camp was invented Cuba was born Spain lost its empire and America gained an overseas empire

Mexican Folk Narrative from the Los Angeles Area Elaine K. Miller, 2014-08-27 Urban Los Angeles is the setting in which Elaine Miller has collected her narratives from Mexican Americans The Mexican folk tradition varied and richly expressive of the inner life not only of a people but also of the individual as each lives it and personalizes it is abundantly present in the United States Since it is in the urban centers that most Mexican Americans have lived this collection represents an important contribution to the study of that tradition and to the study of the changes urban life effects on traditional folklore The collection includes sixty two legendary narratives and twenty traditional tales The legendary narratives deal with the virgins and saints as well as with such familiar characters as the vanishing hitchhiker the headless horseman and the llorona Familiar characters appear in the traditional tales Juan del Oso Blancaflor Pedro de Ordimalas and others Elaine Miller concludes that the traditional tales are dying out in the city because tale telling itself is not suited to the fast pace of modern urban life and the situations and characters in the tales are not perceived by the people to be meaningfully related to the everyday challenges and concerns of that life The legendary tales survive longer in an urban setting because although containing fantastic elements they are related to the beliefs and hopes of the narrator even in the city one may be led to buried treasure on some dark night by a mysterious woman The penchant of the informants for the fantastic in many of their tales often reflects their hopes and fears such as their dreams of suddenly acquiring wealth or their fears of being haunted by the dead Miller closely observes the teller's relation to the stories to the duendes the nimas Death God the devil and she notes the tension on the part of the informant in his relation to their religion The material is documented according to several standard tale and motif indices and is placed within the context of the larger body of Hispanic folk tradition by the citation of parallel versions throughout the Hispanic world The tales transcribed from taped interviews are presented in colloquial Spanish accompanied by summaries in English

Writing to Cuba Rodrigo Lazo, 2006-03-08 In the mid nineteenth century some of Cuba's most influential writers settled in U S cities and published a variety of newspapers pamphlets and books Collaborating with military movements known as filibusters this generation of exiled writers created a body of literature demanding Cuban independence from Spain and alliance with or annexation to the United States Drawing from rare materials archived in the United States and Havana Rodrigo Lazo offers new readings of works by writers such as Cirilo Villaverde Juan Clemente Zenea Pedro Santacilia and

Miguel T Tolon Lazo argues that to understand these writers and their publications we must move beyond nation based models of literary study and consider their connections to both Cuba and the United States Anchored by the publication of Spanish and English language newspapers in the United States the transnational culture of writers Lazo calls los filibusteros went hand in hand with a long standing economic flow between the countries and was spurred on by the writers belief in the American promise of freedom and the hemispheric ambitions of the expansionist U S government Analyzing how U S politicians journalists and novelists debated the future of Cuba Lazo argues that the war of words carried out in Cuban U S print culture played a significant role in developing nineteenth century conceptions of territory colonialism and citizenship

Voices Out of Africa in Twentieth-century Spanish Caribbean Literature Julia Cuervo Hewitt, 2009 Hewitt Spanish and Portuguese Pennsylvania State U explores the representation of Africa and Afro Caribbean ness in Spanish Caribbean literature of the 20th century Her main argument is that the literary representation of Africa and Africanness meaning practices belief systems music art myths popular knowledge in Spanish speaking Caribbean societies constructs a self referential discourse in which Africa and African things shift to a Caribbean landscape as the site of the M Other Or in other words these representations imaginatively rescue and simultaneously construct a Caribbean cultural imaginary conceived as the Other within that associates Africa with a cultural womb Among the texts she explores are Fernando Ortiz s interpretations of the Black Carnival in Cuba the early Afro Cuban poems of Alejo Carpentier the Afro Cuban stories of Lydia Cabrera a number of literary representations of the figure of the runaway slave and two works by Puerto Rican novelist Edgardo Rodriguez Julia List of Works Relating to the West Indies New York Public Library, 1912 The Latino Continuum and the Nineteenth-Century Americas Carmen E. Lamas, 2021-03-09 The Latino Continuum and the Nineteenth Century Americas argues that the process of recovering Latina o figures and writings in the nineteenth century does not merely create a bridge between the US and Latin American countries peoples and literatures as they are currently understood Instead it reveals their fundamentally interdependent natures politically socially historically and aesthetically thereby recognizing the degree of mutual imbrication of their peoples and literatures of the period Largely archived in Spanish it addresses concerns palpably felt within and integral to the US and beyond English language works also find a place on this continuum and have real implications for the political and cultural life of hispanophone and anglophone communities in the US Moreover the central role of Latina o translations signal the global and the local nature of the continuum For the Latino Continuum embeds layered and complex political and literary contexts and overlooked histories situated as it is at the crossroads of both hemispheric and transatlantic currents of exchange often effaced by the logic of borders national cultural religious linguistic and temporal To recover this continuum of Latinidad which is neither confined to the US or Latin American nation states nor located primarily within them is to recover forgotten histories of the hemisphere and to find new ways of seeing the past as we have understood it The figures of the Felix Varela Miguel Teurbe Tol n Eusebio

Guiteras Jos Mart and Mart n Mor a Delgado serve as points of departures for this reconceptualization of the intersection between American Latin American Cuban and Latinx studies Hispania, 1923 Vol 1 includes Organization number published Nov 1917 Spain and the Abolition of Slavery in Cuba, 1817-1886 Arthur F. Corwin, 2014-10-23 This book explores the abolition of African slavery in Spanish Cuba from 1817 to 1886 from the first Anglo Spanish agreement to abolish the slave trade until the removal from Cuba of the last vestige of black servitude Making extensive use of heretofore untapped research sources from the Spanish archives the author has developed new perspectives on nineteenth century Spanish policy in Cuba He skillfully interrelates the problem of slavery with international politics with Cuban conservative and liberal movements and with political and economic developments in Spain itself Arthur Corwin finds that the study of this problem falls naturally into two phases the first of which 1817 1860 traces the gradual reduction of the African traffic to the Spanish Antilles and constitutes in effect a study in Anglo Spanish diplomacy He gives special attention here to the aggressive nature of British abolitionist diplomacy and the mounting but generally ineffective indignation resulting from Spanish failure to apply sanctions against the traffic as well as the increasing North American interest in the annexation of Cuba The first phase has for its principal theme the manner in which for decades Spain feigned compliance with agreements to end the slave trade while actually protecting slaveholding interests as the best means of holding Cuba The American Civil War which destroyed the greatest bulwark of black slavery in the New World marked the opening of a new phase 1860 1886 The author strongly emphasizes here such influences as the rise of the Creole reform movement in Cuba and Puerto Rico which reading the signs of the times gave the initial impulse to a Spanish abolitionist movement and contributed to closing the Cuban slave trade in 1866 the liberal revolution of 1868 in Spain and its promise of colonial reforms the outbreak of the great Creole rebellion in Cuba 1868 1878 and the abolitionist promises of the rebel chieftains the threat of American intervention and the abolitionist pressure of American diplomacy and the protests of the Spanish reactionaries in Spain and Cuba leading to further procrastination in Madrid The second phase has as its principal theme the shaping through all these intertwined factors of Spain s first measure of gradual emancipation the Moret Law of 1870 and all subsequent steps toward abolition

News for All the People Joseph Torres, Juan González, 2012-09-11 From colonial newspapers to the Internet age America s racial divisions have played a central role in the creation of the country s media system just as the media has contributed to and every so often combated racial oppression This acclaimed book called a masterpiece by the esteemed scholar Robert W McChesney and chosen as one of 2011 s best books by the Progressive reveals how racial segregation distorted the information Americans have received even as it depicts the struggle of Black Latino Asian and Native American journalists who fought to create a vibrant yet little known alternative democratic press Written in an exciting story driven style and replete with memorable portraits of journalists both famous and obscure News for All the People is destined to become the standard history of the American media
