From Another Landscape:

Engaging in Narrative Inquiries with Children and Youth Jean Clandinin, Vera Caine, Sean Lessard, Janice Huber, 2016-03-24 Renowned scholar and founder of the practice of narrative inquiry D Jean Clandinin and her coauthors provide researchers with the theoretical underpinnings and processes for conducting narrative inquiry with children and youth Exploring the unique ability of narratives to elucidate the worldview of research subjects the authors highlight the unique steps and issues of working with these special populations The authors address key ethical issues of anonymity and confidentiality the relational issues of co composing field and research texts with subjects and working within the familial contexts of children and youth include numerous examples from the authors studies and others many from indigenous communities to show narrative inquiry in action should be invaluable to researchers in education family relations child development and children s health and services Landscape and Sustainable Development Professor Peter Howard, Yves Luginbühl, Daniel Terrasson, 2015-04-28 Previously published in French by Editions Quae this volume presents findings of a major research programme into landscape and sustainable development While led by French scholars the research team and geographical scope of the project was international collaborative and comparative Using case studies from across Europe the interdisciplinary team of contributors discuss the relationship between landscape as defined by the European Landscape Convention and the concept of sustainable development This English edition has a new introduction written by Yves Luginbühl and Peter Howard Some of the topics covered such as wind farm landscapes will be familiar to English language readers but others are less so such as footpath economics non woodland trees inter generational equity and the insistence on the necessary developments in governance Landscape Architecture ,1914 Bioenergy from Dendromass for the Sustainable Development of Rural Areas David Butler Manning, Albrecht Bemann, Michael Bredemeier, Norbert Lamersdorf, Christian Ammer, 2015-08-17 Based on the results of two bioenergy research initiatives in Germany this reference examines the sustainable management of wood biomass in rural areas The large number of participating organizations and research institutes ensures a balanced and unbiased view on the potentials and risks is presented taking into account economic ecological and social aspects Most of the results reported are available here for the first time in English and have been collated in central Europe but are equally applicable to other temperate regions They highlight best practices for enhancing dendromass potential and productivity while discussing the implications on rural economies and ecosystems Cities and Natural Process Michael Hough, 2004 This key book is a revised and updated discussion of the fundamental conflict in the perception of nature and an expression of the essential need for an environmental view when approaching urban design Whilst retaining the existing structure each of the chapters has been revised to take into account recent theoretical and practical developments A completely new concluding chapter has been added which draws together the themes of the volume and links these to broader landscape issues such as greenway systems landscape ecology and green infrastructure Official Gazette Philippines,2004 Luscious Landscapes Joyce R. Becker,2003 Landscapes of Ritual Performance in Eastern North America Cheryl Claassen,2023-02-23 In the long history of documenting the material culture of the archaeological record meaning and actions of makers and users of these items is often overlooked The authors in this book focus on rituals exploring the natural and made landscape stages the ritual directors including their progression from shaman to priesthood and meaning of the rites They also provide comments on the end or failure of rites and cults from Paleoindian into post DeSoto years Chapters examine the archaeological records of Cahokia the lower Ohio Valley Aztalan Wisconsin Vermont Florida and Georgia and others scan the Eastern US investigating tobacco datura color symbolism deer symbolism mound stratigraphy flintknapping stone caching cults and their organization and red ochre These authors collectively query the beliefs that can be gleaned from mortuary practices and their variation from mound construction from imagery from the choice of landscape setting While some rituals were short lived others can be shown to span millennia as the ritual specialists modified their interpretations and introduced innovations Culture and Media Rayson K. Alex,S. Susan Deborah,Sachindev P.S.,2014-06-19 Indian ecocriticism has not yet adequately demonstrated the applicability of ecological deep ecological tinai principles to visual texts Culture and Media Ecocritical Explorations closes this gap at the most opportune moment Though this volume accommodates ecologically oriented interpretations from several cultures across the world it reserves the centre stage for Indian ecocriticism and ecotheory quite appropriately The volume effectively challenges the major documents on ecocriticism and theory published by international presses which have been reluctant to give space to tinai criticism and theory that transcend Dravidian or Tamil boundaries The day is not far when cinema of the world shaped by tinai theory will employ tinai hermeneutics to gain fresh insight which in turn will feed into the processes of creation and production of relevant and great movies Landscape Architectural Graphic Standards Leonard J. Edward Armitage RA Jill R Armitage, 2017-07-18 Edward Armitage was a highly esteemed 19th century artist who lived and worked at a time when the social fabric of Britain was being transformed by the Industrial Revolution and attitudes towards art were changing in favour of genres more appealing to the emerging middle classes Coinciding with the 2017 bicentenary of Armitage's birth the book is based on Jill Armitage's extensive research into her relative's life and work Born in 1817 to a family of wealthy northern industrialists Edward Armitage trained in Bohemian Paris before making his name in Britain as one of the artists chosen to redecorate the new Houses of Parliament He was one of the first artists to make the long journey to the Crimea during the war against Russia and one of the first to include recent archaeological discoveries in his paintings He was appointed Professor and Lecturer on Painting at the Royal Academy in 1875 where his outspoken views were sometimes controversial But as Armitage grew older his serious French style of painting became increasingly unfashionable In this well illustrated biography Jill provides the first comprehensive account of Armitage's life and work with detailed references to the social historical and cultural context in which he lived The book will appeal to fans of Armitage's paintings as well as those with an interest in art history and the Victorian era

Mosaic Landscapes and Ecological Processes L. Hansson, L. Fahrig, G. Merriam, 2012-12-06 This series presents studies that have used the paradigm of landscape ecology Other approaches both to landscape and landscape ecology are common but in the last decade landscape ecology has become distinct from its predecessors and its contemporaries Landscape ecology addresses the relationships among spatial patterns temporal patterns and ecological processes The effect of spatial configurations on ecological processes is fundamental When human activity is an important variable affecting those relationships landscape ecology includes it Spatial and temporal scales are as large as needed for comprehension of system processes and the mosaic included may be very heterogeneous Intellectual utility and applicability of results are valued equally The International Association for Landscape Ecology sponsors this series of studies in order to introduce and disseminate some of the new knowledge that is being produced by this exciting new environmental science Gray Merriam Ottawa Canada Foreword This is a book about real nature or as close to real as we know a nature of heterogeneous landscapes wild and humanized fine grained and coarse grained wet and dry hilly and flat temperate and not so temperate Real nature is never uniform At whatever spatial scale we examine nature we encounter patchiness If we were to look down from high above at a landscape of millions of hectares using a zoom lens to move in and out from broad overview to detailed inspection of a square meter we would see that patterns visible at different scales overlay one another Landscape

Economics Colin Price, 2017-10-12 This revised and expanded edition of Colin Price's seminal publication provides a richly comprehensive and up to date coverage of landscape economics a subject which has until now been addressed only in limited aspects Although much of the book's discussion is based upon natural resources and environmental economics the author presents a wide and integrative view drawing from aesthetic psychological social and political perspectives and applying a critical use of economic concepts and challenges to different schools of thought on the landscape This new edition includes new ideas and critiques on environmental valuation more focused critiques of stated preference methods political alternatives to economic valuation and of the rationale of discounting future values and new evaluative techniques particularly price premia for products with a landscape provenance For those interested in the theoretical aspects of aesthetic valuation and for those who seek solutions to practical problems of aesthetic conservation amelioration and enhancement this new edition gives an overview of evaluative techniques of their potential problems and of possible solutions The updates are a major contribution to the growing literature in the field Recent Advances in the Theory and Application of Fitness Landscapes Hendrik Richter, Andries Engelbrecht, 2013-11-19 This book is concerned with recent advances in fitness landscapes The concept of fitness landscapes originates from theoretical biology and refers to a framework for analysing and visualizing the relationships between genotypes phenotypes and fitness These relationships lay at the centre of attempts to mathematically describe evolutionary processes and evolutionary dynamics The book addresses recent advances in the understanding of fitness landscapes in evolutionary biology and evolutionary computation In the volume experts in the field of fitness landscapes present these findings in an integrated way to make it accessible to a number of audiences senior undergraduate and graduate students in computer science theoretical biology physics applied mathematics and engineering but also researcher looking for a reference or an entry point into using fitness landscapes for analysing algorithms Also practitioners wanting to employ fitness landscape techniques for evaluating bio and nature inspired computing algorithms can find valuable material in the book For teaching purposes the book could also be used as a reference handbook

Sustaining Rocky Mountain Landscapes

Tony Prato, Tony Professor Prato, Dan Professor Fagre, 2010-09-30 Prato and Fagre offer the first systematic multi disciplinary assessment of the challenges involved in managing the Crown of the Continent Ecosystem CCE an area of the Rocky Mountains that includes northwestern Montana southwestern Alberta and southeastern British Columbia The spectacular landscapes extensive recreational options and broad employment opportunities of the CCE have made it one of the fastest growing regions in the United States and Canada and have lead to a shift in its economic base from extractive resources to service oriented recreation and tourism industries In the process however the amenities and attributes that draw people to this New West are under threat Pastoral scenes are disappearing as agricultural lands and other open spaces are converted to residential uses biodiversity is endangered by the fragmentation of fish and wildlife habitats and many areas are experiencing a decline in air and water quality Sustaining Rocky Mountain Landscapes provides a scientific basis for communities to develop policies for managing the growth and economic transformation of the CCE without sacrificing the quality of life and environment for which the land is renowned The book begins with a natural and economic history of the CCE It follows with an assessment of current physical and biological conditions in the CCE The contributors then explore how social economic demographic and environmental forces are transforming ecosystem structure and function They consider ecosystem change in response to changing patterns of land use pollution and drought the increasing risk of wildfire to wildlife and to human life and property and the implications of global climate change on the CCE A final policy focused section of the book looks at transboundary issues in ecosystem management and evaluates the potential of community based and adaptive approaches in ecosystem management The Landscape Beautiful Frank Albert Waugh,1910 Corridor

Ecology, Second Edition Jodi A. Hilty,Annika T.H. Keeley,William Z. Lidicker Jr.,Adina M. Merenlender,2019-04-23

Migrating wildlife species across the globe face a dire predicament as their traditional migratory routes are cut off by human encroachment Forced into smaller and smaller patches of habitat they must compete more aggressively for dwindling food resources and territory This is more than just an unfortunate side effect of human progress As key species populations dwindle ecosystems are losing resilience and face collapse and along with them the ecosystem services we depend on Healthy ecosystems need healthy wildlife populations One possible answer Wildlife corridors that connect fragmented landscapes This new and expanded second edition of Corridor Ecology Linking Landscapes for Biodiversity Conservation and Climate Adaptation captures the many advances in the field over the past ten years It builds on concepts presented in the first edition on the importance and practical details of maintaining and restoring land connectivity New to this edition is a guest edited chapter on ecological connectivity in oceans including a detailed discussion on pelagic marine corridors and how coastal corridors can provide critical connectivity between marine protected areas Another new chapter considers the effects of climate change on habitat and offers recommendations on designing effective corridors as landscapes change with shifting climate conditions The book also includes a discussion of corridors in the air for migrating flying species from birds to bats butterflies and even plant propagules a concept so new that a term to describe it has yet to be coined All chapters are thoroughly revised and updated Practitioners as well as serious scholars of landscape ecology and the science of protecting biodiversity will find this new edition of corridor ecology science an indispensable resource Local Places, Global

Processes Peter Coates,David Moon,Paul Warde,2016-02-29 We live in an age of unprecedented environmental change global interconnected and universal Yet though our lives are inextricably connected to global processes and increasingly mobile we still live in particular places Our perceptions of change and what kind of change might be for good or ill are shaped by the interaction of localised experience and the wider forces of transformation Local Places Global Processes examines how these relationships have been shaped in Britain over time in three ways First through essays addressing influential ways of understanding and debating questions of the state of nature These are complemented by case studies on conservation landscape change and management and how perceptions of environmental change have emerged or been discarded over time Chapters also draw on a series of site based workshops that brought together historians landscape managers and artists to discuss and reflect on particular sites Wicken Fen in Cambridgeshire owned by the National Trust and the first British nature reserve the Quantock Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty in Somerset England s first AONB and a landscape enriched by Romantic association and the landscape of Kielder Water and Forest a land of superlatives in

Northumberland in north eastern England the largest planted forest and artificial lake in northern Europe The multi disciplinary approach draws together the exchanges artworks and writing assembled at these workshops and afterwards This opens up how being in a place and engaging with ideas attached to it shape perceptions of the environment It provides resources with which landscape managers can think about their tasks and engage various publics in discussion about future environments in light of these histories of place Rather than a history of these three places this is history written from them web solution we use the relation $n = n_0 \left(\frac{1}{2} \right)^{\frac{t}{T}}$ where n is the remaining mass, n_0 is the initial mass, t is the time, and T is the half-life. For example, if a sample of 100 g of a substance with a half-life of 4 days decays to 30 g, we can find the time t by rearranging the equation.
