Revisiting Grooved Ware Mike Copper,Alasdair Whittle,Alison Sheridan,2024-01-18 Following its appearance arguably in Orkney in the 32nd century cal BC Grooved Ware soon became widespread across Britain and Ireland seemingly replacing earlier pottery styles and being deposited in contexts as varied as simple pits passage tombs ceremonial timber circles and henge monuments As a result Grooved Ware lies at the heart of many ongoing debates concerning social and economic developments at the end of the 4th and during the first half of the 3rd millennia cal BC Stemming from the 2022 Neolithic Studies Group autumn conference and following on from Cleal and MacSween s 1999 NSG volume on Grooved Ware this book presents a series of papers from researchers specializing in Grooved Ware pottery and the British and Irish Neolithic offering both regional and thematic perspectives on this important ceramic tradition Chapters cover the development of Grooved Ware in Orkney as well as the timing and nature of its appearance development and subsequent demise in different regions of Britain and Ireland In addition thematic papers consider what Grooved Ware can contribute to understandings of inter regional interactions during the earlier 3rd millennium cal BC the possible meaning of Grooved Ware s decorative motifs and the thorny issue of the validity and significance of the various Grooved Ware sub styles The book will be of great value not only to archaeologists and students with a specific interest in Grooved Ware pottery but also to those with a more general interest in the development of the Neolithic of Britain and Ireland

Concept and Form, Volume 1 Knox Peden,Peter Hallward,2012-12-12 Concept and Form is a two volume monument to the work of the philosophy journal the Cahiers pour l Analyse 1966 69 the most ambitious and radical collective project to emerge from French structuralism Inspired by their teachers Louis Althusser and Jacques Lacan the editors of the Cahiers sought to sever philosophy from the interpretation of given meanings or experiences focusing instead on the mechanisms that structure specific configurations of discourse from the psychological and ideological to the literary scientific and political Adequate analysis of the operations at work in these configurations they argue helps prepare the way for their revolutionary transformation This first volume comprises English translations of some of the most important theoretical texts published in the journal written by thinkers who would soon be counted among the most inventive and influential of their generation Alain Badiou Yves Duroux Alain Grosrichard Serge Leclair Jacques Alain Miller Jean Claude Milner and Francois Regnault The book is complemented by a second volume consisting of essays and interviews that assess the significance and legacy of the journal and by an online edition of the full set of original Cahiers texts produced by the Centre for Research in Modern European Philosophy at Kingston University London and accessible at cahiers.kingston.ac.uk

Green Building

Transitions Julia Affolderbach, Christian Schulz, 2018-05-15 This volume analyzes sustainability related innovations in the building sector and discusses how regional contexts articulate transition trajectories toward green building It presents biographies of drivers and processes of green building innovation in four case studies Brisbane AUS Freiburg GER Luxembourg LU and Vancouver CA Two of them are relatively well known for their initiatives to mitigate climate change particularly in the building sector whereas the other two have only recently become more active in promoting green building The volume places emphasis on development paths learning processes and innovations The focus of the case studies is not restricted to purely technological aspects but also integrates regulatory procedural institutional and other processes and routines and their influence on the variations of the building sector The diversity of the selected case studies offers the reader the opportunity to gain a thorough understanding of how sustainability developments have unfolded in different city regions Case study specific catalogues of transition paths provide insights to inform policy debates and planning processes The catalogues identify crucial innovations technological regulatory etc and explain the factors and circumstances that have led to their success and broader acceptance in Freiburg Vancouver Luxembourg and Brisbane With the help of a number of micro case studies within each of the four city regions the case studies also offer ground for comparison and identification of differences The book represents the outcome of the GreenRegio project which stands for Green building in regional strategies for sustainability multi actor governance and innovative building technologies in Europe Australia and Canada GreenRegio was a 3 year CORE INTER research project funded by the National Research Fund Luxembourg FNR and the German Research Foundation DFG Chapters 2 3 10 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Migrant Brothers Patrick Chamoiseau, 2018-04-24 If justice had a Jericho trumpet Chamoiseau would be it Junot Diaz As migrants embark on perilous journeys across oceans and deserts in pursuit of sanctuary and improved living conditions what is the responsibility of those safely ensconced in the nations they seek to enter Moved by repeated tragedies among immigrants attempting to enter eastern and southern Europe Patrick Chamoiseau assails the hypocrisy and detachment that allow these events to happen Migrant Brothers is an urgent declaration of our essential interconnectedness that asserts the necessity to understand one another as part of one human community regardless of national origin World Yearbook of Education 2012 Gita Steiner-Khamsi, Florian Waldow, 2012-03-12 The phenomenon of travelling reforms has become an object of great professional interest and intensive academic scrutiny The fact that the same set of educational reforms is transferred from one country to another made scholars wonder whether policy transfer has increased as a result of globalization But also the fact that policy makers increasingly import best practices and international standards and use them as a tool to accelerate reform has captured the imagination of many that deal with policy studies An international comparative perspective is key for understanding why reforms travel from one corner of the world to another Not surprisingly the study of policy borrowing and lending constitutes one of the core research topics of comparative policy studies a new area of research that links comparative education with policy studies The World Yearbook of Education 2012 brings together a diverse range of perspectives on education policy through contributions from internationally renowned authors It reflects on the way policy borrowing and lending is reconfiguring the world of education and offers a new collection of insights into the changes occurring across the world It particularly focuses on The political and economic reasons for policy borrowing The agencies international networks and regimes that instigate policy change The process of borrowing and lending The impact of these systems agendas and institutions on indigenous settings This book will prove invaluable to researchers of globalization and to policy experts especially those interested in comparative and international educational studies It is also essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students and anyone involved in the sociology economy or history of education Gita Steiner Khamsi is Professor of Comparative and International Education at Teachers College Columbia University New York US Florian Waldow is Research Director at the University of Münster Germany

Aboriginal Family and the State Sally Babidge, 2010 Aboriginal Family and the State examines the contemporary relations and history of Indigenous families in Australia specifically referencing issues of government control and recent official recognition of Aboriginal traditional owners Drawing on detailed empirical research it develops a discussion of the anthropological issues of kinship and relatedness within colonial and postcolonial contexts This volume explores the conditions affecting the formation of family among indigenous people in rural northern Australia as well as the contingencies of family in the legal and political context of contemporary indigenous claims to land With a rich discussion of the production practice and inscription of social relations this volume examines everyday expressions of family and events such as meetings and funerals demonstrating that kinship is formed and reformed through a complicated social practice of competing demands on identity

Dregs Laura McLauchlan, 2025-03-27 Girls who join dog packs boys who gain strength from trees men who love bodies with nobody in them Dregs is a collection of tenderly monstrous love stories set in a shadowy small town of the same name Based in South Canterbury New Zealand these lovingly disturbing fictions welcome the strange and other worldly while keeping an ethnographic eye trained on the classed religious gendered racialised and species based forces shaping this rural region of New Zealand's South Island. While at times grotesque, these darkly loving, richly illustrated tales offer new avenues for ethnographic research and shed new light on the region, giving voice and form to unspoken aspects of this antipodean rural idyll. Shaped by a deep respect for the monstrous feminine regardless of the gender of the bodies in which such forces appear, Dregs of Love and Monsters in Small Town New Zealand is a product of both an anthropological sensibility and a trust that naming and finding ways to live well with our monsters is a vital aspect of living well in our times.

Presenting and Representing Environments Graham Humphrys, Michael Williams, 2006-01-27. The presentation and representation of the environment occurs throughout academia and across all news media. The strict protocols of science often clash with environmental information available from sources that dwell on subjective aesthetic, emotional and personal sensitivities. This book challenges the reader as student, teacher, researcher or policy maker to reflect critically on the ways that environments are studied, interpreted, presented and represented in education and public policy.

The France of the Little-Middles Marie Cartier, Isabelle Coutant, Olivier Masclet, Yasmine Siblot, 2016-08-01. The Poplars housing development in suburban Paris is home to what one resident called the Little Middles, a social group on the tenuous border between the working and middle classes. In the 1960s, The Poplars was a site of upward social mobility which fostered an egalitarian sense of community among residents. This feeling of collective flourishing was challenged when some residents moved away, selling their homes to a new generation of upwardly mobile neighbors from predominantly immigrant backgrounds. This volume explores the strained reception of these migrants, arguing that this is less a product of racism and xenophobia than of anxiety about social class and the loss of a sense of community that reigned before.

Speaking Pittsburghese Barbara Johnstone, 2013-10-28. This book explores the history of Pittsburghese, the language of the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania area as it is imagined and used by Pittsburghers. Pittsburghese is linked to local identity so strongly that it is alluded to almost every time people talk about what Pittsburgh is like or what it means to be a Pittsburgher. But what happened during the second half of the 20th century to reshape a largely unnoticed way of speaking into this highly visible urban dialect? In this book, sociolinguist Barbara Johnstone focuses on this question. Treating Pittsburghese as a cultural product of talk, writing and other forms of social practice, Johnstone shows how non-standard pronunciations, words and bits of grammar used in the Pittsburgh area were taken up into a repertoire of words and phrases and a vocal style that has become one of the most resonant symbols of local identity in the United States today.
