Rural Labour

Relations in India T.J. Byres, Karin Kapadia, Jens Lerche, 2013-10-18 This volume is about the emerging development trajectories of rural labour relations in India based on studies from its regions and states Its overarching theme is the rural class conflict and the results of such conflict and the link between this and the nature and impact of state intervention Vigorous emancipatory processes are identified and the limitations of and contradictions inherent in such processes are examined Both powerful general trends and significant regional variations are distinguished Sociology and Social Anthropology in India Yogesh Atal, 2009 The Indian Council of Social Science Research the premier organization for social science research in India conducts periodic surveys in the major disciplines of the social sciences to assess disciplinary developments as well as to identify gaps in research in these disciplines Social Security for the Elderly S. Irudaya Rajan, 2014-07-16 This book overviews the issue of population ageing in five countries in South Asia and projects the emerging scenarios With a new field survey it also documents existing policies and programs on pensions and social security and examines their fiscal implications for the economy and society Ageing of population is an inevitable consequence of the process of demographic transition Being ahead the developed regions of the world have long experienced its consequences but the developing world is only now facing the travails of population ageing Though the population under the age of 15 years in 2000 was estimated to be 3 3 times the size of the population of 60 years and above the elderly are expected to surpass the number of children under 15 years by the year 2050 Among the elderly it is the oldest old those aged 80 years or more whose numbers would increase most rapidly Much of this growth would take place in the poor countries of the world Five South Asian countries India Pakistan Bangladesh Sri Lanka and Nepal account for 100 million elderly persons in the beginning of 21st century and it is expected to reach 400 million in 2050 What are the fiscal implications of this tremendous growth for sustaining pensions and social security schemes in South Asia Are these countries in need of pension reforms Would these countries be able to provide good health care for the growing population of elderly persons afflicted by multiple diseases and disability Experts from leading economic research institutions address the issue with a new survey conducted in each country The book in effect Assesses the ageing scenario in five countries in South Asia past present and future Reviews existing policies and programs on pensions and social security for the elderly Reports the findings of a sample survey in each of these countries conducted for this work in order to assess the nature magnitude and adequacy of various forms of pensions and social assistance Suggests broad based comprehensive pension and social security policies in South Asia Asia-Pacific Population Journal ,1998 Democracy Svante Ersson, Jan-Erik Lane, 2013-04-15 Jan Erik Lane is a very experienced and well known author Unique no other book has such a systematic and global approach to their analysis of democracy uses methodological positivism Plenty of use of empirical evidence so will be useful as a reference tool A Study on Silver Workers Residing in Vadodara City Avani Maniar, Shivani Mehta, 2017-08 Population ageing is a process no longer confined to industrialized countries Many developing countries are now also experiencing ageing of their populations reflected by the rising share of the elderly in the total population Not only are developing countries ageing they are ageing at a much faster rate and at a much earlier stage of economic development thus placing them at a greater disadvantage in terms of their ability to respond to ageing developments The availability of domestic resources for example to finance ageing pressures on public finances and public services are likely to be more limited In addition the political timeframe available to formulate and implement appropriate policy responses will be shorter Developing countries are confronting ageing pressures at a time when social security coverage is still limited to a minority of the better off elderly population and when the systems of protection which have supported the elderly in the past are gradually eroding Old age is commonly associated with retirement illness and dependency Most government jobs have set the retirement age at sixty However in a country such as India where no universal social security exists people tend to work as long as they can About seventy percent of the elderly in India still work like the rest of the adults It is important to recognize the strengths of the old and empower them rather than to adopt a paternalistic attitude that can have devastating impact on the self esteem of the elderly citizens This study takes a close look at silver workers in Vadodara India who are working in their retirement age By undertaking such a research the government and civil society will be enabled to provide a better work environment for the silver workers
