Helena Michie, 1987 Examining the works of such Victorian writers as the Brontes Dickens Eliot and Hardy this study discusses codes and taboos about the female body and explores how female sexuality was represented in Victorian literary and non literary genres such as painting etiquette books and pornography Flesh Made Word Aviad M. Kleinberg, 2008

In the fourth century a new narrative genre captured the imagination of the faithful the accounts of the lives of Christian saints Kleinberg argues that these stories were more than edifying entertainment By retelling the story of virtue and salvation by expanding the religious imagination of the West they were reshaping Christianity itself The Flesh Made

Word: Characterization, Part II. Janet Burroway, Poetic Revelations Mark S. Burrows, Jean Ward, Małgorzata Grzegorzewska, 2016-08-12 This book explores the much debated relation of language and bodily experience i e the flesh considering in particular how poetry functions as revelatory discourse and thus relates to the formal horizon of theological inquiry The central thematic focus is around a phenomenology of the flesh as that which connects us with the world being the site of perception and feeling joy and suffering and of life itself in all its vulnerability The voices represented in this collection reflect interdisciplinary methods of interpretation and broadly ecumenical sensibilities focusing attention on such matters as the revelatory nature of language in general and poetic language in particular the function of poetry in society the question of Incarnation and its relation to language and the poetic arts the kenosis of the Word and human embodiment in relation to the word enfleshed in poetry Recovering the Black Female Body Michael Bennett, Vanessa D. Dickerson, 2001

Recovering the Black Female Body recognizes the pressing need to highlight through scholarship the vibrant energy of African American women s attempts to wrest control of the physical and symbolic construction of their bodies away from the distortions of others Representation and the Text William G. Tierney, Yvonna S. Lincoln, 1997-07-31 Focuses on authorial representations of contested reality in qualitative research This book focuses on representations of contested realities in qualitative research The authors examine two separate but interrelated issues criticisms of how researchers use voice and suggestions about how to develop experimental voices that expand the range of narrative strategies Changing relationships between researchers and respondents dictate alterations in textual representations from the view from nowhere to the view from a particular location and from the omniscient voice to the polyvocality of communities of individuals Examples of new representations and textual experiments provide models for how some authors have struggled with voice in their texts and in so doing broaden who they and we mean by us An Exposition of the Creed John Pearson, 1882 Human Tissue in

Transplantation and Research David Price, 2009-12-17 A proposal for resolving tensions between professionals and society

regarding tissue for transplants and research while properly protecting donors interests Seeing Christ in Australia Since 1850 Kerrie Handasyde, Sean Winter, 2024-09-03 This book presents cultural representations of Christ embedded in the imagination and the contested myths of Australian life The essays attest to the variety and subtlety of neglected or unspoken representations of Christ in Australia In a land that has often declared itself secular or post Christian this volume looks into the Australian imagination in between the sacred and secular to see Christ in Australia Writing for the Ear, Preaching from the Heart Donna Giver-Johnston, 2021 In Writing for the Ear Preaching from the Heart Donna Giver Johnston teaches preachers how to communicate effectively how to get away from their notes and make a more personal connection with their listeners Grounded in a theology of the incarnation she offers a step by step method for writing sermons with the fewest most impactful and memorable words and delivered by heart to communicate a message that captures the ears and hearts of listeners Too Much Rachel Vorona Cote, 2020-02-25 Lacing cultural criticism Victorian literature and storytelling together TOO MUCH spills over with intellect with sparkling prose and with the brainy arguments of Vorona Cote who posits that women are all in some way or another still susceptible to being called too much Esm Weijun Wang A weeping woman is a monster So too is a fat woman a horny woman a woman shrieking with laughter Women who are one or more of these things have heard or perhaps simply intuited that we are repugnantly excessive that we have taken illicit liberties to feel or fuck or eat with abandon After bellowing like a barn animal in orgasm hoovering a plate of mashed potatoes or spraying out spit in the heat of expostulation we've flinched ugh that was so gross I am so gross On rare occasions we might revel in our excess belting out anthems with our friends over karaoke perhaps but in the company of less sympathetic souls our uncertainty always returns A woman who is Too Much is a woman who reacts to the world with ardent intensity is a woman familiar to lashes of shame and disapproval from within as well as without Written in the tradition of Shrill Dead Girls Sex Object and other frank books about the female gaze TOO MUCH encourages women to reconsider the beauty of their excesses emotional physical and spiritual Rachel Vorona Cote braids cultural criticism theory and storytelling together in her exploration of how culture grinds away our bodies souls and sexualities forcing us into smaller lives than we desire An erstwhile Victorian scholar she sees many parallels between that era's fixation on women's hysterical behavior and our modern policing of the same in the space of her writing you're as likely to encounter Jane Eyre and Lizzie Bennet as you are Britney Spears and Lana Del Rey This book will tell the story of how women from then and now have learned to draw power from their reservoirs of feeling all that makes us Too Much Luce Irigaray Luce Irigaray, Mary Green, 2008-11-18 Luce Irigaray is one of the world's most important and influential contemporary theorists and this book presents a collection of essays exploring the full range of her work from an international team of academics in many different fields A Poetry of Two Minds Sherod Santos, 2000 In his long awaited first book of prose poet and essayist Sherod Santos takes a compelling look into some of poetry's deepest secrets an investigation that leads him to the surprising conclusion that poems have minds of their own minds often inaccessible even to the one who composed them In these essays Santos explores not only what he thinks about poetry but also what and how poetry thinks about itself His writings range across the history of Western poetry from formative classical myths to modern experimental forms and touch on subjects as diverse as the rhetorical history of cannibalism the political and cultural uses of translation and the current state of American poetry Along the way he calls on past poets like Ovid Baudelaire and Phyllis Wheatley on twentieth century poets like Wallace Stevens H D and Rainer Maria Rilke and on writers and thinkers like Montaigne Walter Benjamin Simone Weil and Paul de Man These essays explore facets of poetry known best to one who has practiced the art for years From the methods of poetic attention to the processes by which perception is transformed into language and from the illusive relationship between poetry and meaning to the integral relationship between poetry and memory this collection delves into what it means to be a poet and how being a poet is intimately tied to one's social and cultural moment With Santos's trademark flair for seeking out the overlooked and unforeseeable A Poetry of Two Minds is an extraordinary collection that testifies to its author's far reaching intellectual curiosity Readers who have delighted in his insights over the years can now have the satisfaction of having them caught between the covers of this provocative book

Intimate Reading Jessica Barr, 2020-04-20 Intimate Reading Textual Encounters in Medieval Women's Visions and Vitae explores the ways that women mystics sought to make their books into vehicles for the reader's spiritual transformation Jessica Barr argues that the cognitive work of reading these texts was meant to stimulate intensely personal responses and that the very materiality of the book can produce an intimate encounter with God She thus explores the differences between mystics' biographies and their self presentation analyzing as well the complex rhetorical moves that medieval women writers employ to render their accounts more effective This new volume is structured around five case studies Chapters consider the biographies of 13th century holy women from Li ge the writings of Margery Kempe Gertrude of Helfta Mechthild of Magdeburg Marguerite Porete and Julian of Norwich At the heart of Intimate Reading is the question of how reading works what it means to enter imaginatively and intellectually into the words of another The volume showcases the complexity of medieval understandings of the work of reading deepening our perception of the written word's capacity to signify something that lies even beyond rational comprehension

The Church of the Word Incarnate: Vol. 2 The Internal Structure of the Church Charles Journet, 2025-08-08 The monumental work of renowned twentieth century Swiss ecclesiologist Charles Journet The Church of the Word Incarnate is among the most comprehensive and spiritually profound studies of the mystery of the Church Presented here for the first time in English translation is Journet's complete five volume essay in speculative theology in which he undertakes a Thomistic presentation of the Church in light of her four causes efficient material formal and final corresponding to her four marks of apostolicity catholicity unity and sanctity In this second volume Journet commences his examination of divine grace and charity as the Church's inherent formal cause setting the stage for a consideration of the unity and catholicity of the Church in volume three Foregrounded and developed here is his account of the Church's interior structure relative to Christ as her head the Blessed Virgin Mary as her exemplar and the Holy Spirit as her Uncreated Soul This theological grounding of ecclesiology in connection to the Incarnation Mary and the sending of the Spirit concludes with Journet's reflection on the various central definitions of the Church

Words Ernst van den Hemel, Asja Szafraniec, 2016-06-15 It is said that words are like people One can encounter them daily yet never come to know their true selves This volume examines what words are how they exist in religious phenomena Going beyond the common idea that language merely describes states of mind beliefs and intentions the book looks at words in their performative and material specificity The contributions in the volume develop the insight that our implicit assumptions about what language does guide the way we understand and experience religious phenomena They also explore the possibility that insights about the particular status of religious utterances may in turn influence the way we think about words in our language

A Sacerdotal Poetics Kathryn Wills, 2023-03-06 This book offers a new way of understanding the old conflict between iconophiles and iconoclasts by exploring the way images in poetry are used by one poet W B Yeats and his translator Yves Bonnefoy Using the phenomenology of Jean Luc Marion as a tool of interpretation the book suggests further that translation is a significant act in which one entire theological world of a Protestant poet may become a completely different Catholic one when the translation is performed by a culturally Catholic poet For Bonnefoy therefore the act of translation becomes a profound act of hope

The New American Studies Philip Fisher, 1991-01-01 A gathering of major importance Fisher brilliantly articulates the distinctive work of new historicism in treating American texts and circumstances His introduction together with the consistently high quality of the essays and their remarkable range of approaches makes this dramatically superior to earlier collections As a help to working scholars trying to sort out new developments and as an introduction for graduate students this will be the best available guide T Walter Herbert author of Marquesan Encounters Melville and the Meaning of Civilization
