Florentine Painting And Its Social Background:

Florentine Painting and Its Social Background Frederick Antal, 1986 An eminent art historian gives us here a full account of the history of Florentine art in the fourteenth and early fifteenth centuries as well as a stimulating exploration of questions about the social content of art Frederick Antal sketches a portrait of Florence in this richly productive period the economic and social conditions as well as religious tenets and intellectual controversies He traces the course of painting and sculpture from Giotto to Brunelleschi and Masaccio and shows how major stylistic developments are related to changing economic and social structures His analysis is fully illustrated by 210 halftones Florentine Painting and Its Social Background Frederick Antal, 2012-01-11 High quality reprint of Florentine Painting And Its Social Background by Frederick Antal Review Theodor E. Mommsen, 1950 Frederick Antal : Florentine painting and its social background. London 1947. XIV and Early XV Centuries Frederick Antal, 1947 Modern Perspectives in Western Art History W. Eugene Kleinbauer, Medieval Academy of America, 1989-01-01 A collection of essays that reflect the breadth of twentieth century scholarship in art history Kleinbauer has sought to illustrate the variety of methods scholars have developed for conveying the unfolding of the arts in the Western world Originally published by Holt Rinehart and Winston 1971 Images and Identity in Fifteenth-century Florence Patricia Lee Rubin, 2007-01-01 An exploration of ways of looking in Renaissance Florence where works of art were part of a complex process of social exchange Renaissance Florence of endless fascination for the beauty of its art and architecture is no less intriguing for its dynamic political economic and social life In this book Patricia Lee Rubin crosses the boundaries of all these areas to arrive at an original and comprehensive view of the place of images in Florentine society The author asks an array of questions Why were works of art made Who were the artists who made them and who commissioned them How did they look and how were they looked at She demonstrates that the answers to such questions illuminate the contexts in which works of art were created and how they were valued and viewed Rubin seeks out the meeting places of meaning in churches in palaces in piazzas places of exchange where identities were taken on and transformed often with the mediation of images She concentrates on questions of vision and visibility on seeing and being seen With a blend of exceptional illustrations close analyses of sacred and secular paintings by artists including Fra Angelico Fra Filippo Lippi Filippino Lippi and Botticelli and wide ranging bibliographic essays the book shines new light on fifteenth century Florence a special place that made beauty one of its defining features Migrating Histories of Art Maria Teresa Costa, Hans Christian Hönes, 2018-12-03 Art historians have been facing the challenge even from before the advent of globalization of writing for an international audience and translating their own work into a foreign language whether forced by exile voluntary migration or simply in order to reach wider audiences Migrating Histories of Art aims to study the biographical and academic impact of these self translations and how the adoption and processing of foreign language texts and their corresponding methodologies have been fundamental to the disciplinary discourse of art history While often creating distinctly multifaceted personal biographies and establishing an international disciplinary discourse self translation also fosters the creation of instances of linguistic and methodological hegemony

Merchants and Marvels Pamela Smith,Paula Findlen,2013-10-18 The beginning of global commerce in the early modern period had an enormous impact on European culture changing the very way people perceived the world around them Merchants and Marvels assembles essays by leading scholars of cultural history art history and the history of science and technology to show how ideas about the representation of nature in both art and science underwent a profound transformation between the age of the Renaissance and the early 1700s

The Routledge History of the Renaissance William Caferro,2017-03-27 Drawing together the latest research in the field The Routledge History of the Renaissance treats the Renaissance not as a static concept but as one of ongoing change within an international framework It takes as its unifying theme the idea of exchange and interchange through the movement of goods ideas disease and people across social religious political and physical boundaries Covering a broad range of temporal periods and geographic regions the chapters discuss topics such as the material cultures of Renaissance societies the increased popularity of shopping as a pastime in fourteenth century Italy military entrepreneurs and their networks across Europe the emergence and development of the Ottoman empire from the early fourteenth to the late sixteenth century and women and humanism in Renaissance Europe The volume is interdisciplinary in nature combining historical methodology with techniques from the fields of anthropology sociology psychology and literary criticism It allows for juxtapositions of approaches that are usually segregated into traditional subfields such as intellectual political gender military and economic history Capturing dynamic new approaches to the study of this fascinating period and illustrated throughout with images figures and tables this comprehensive volume is a valuable resource for all students and scholars of the Renaissance

Critical Terms for Art History, Second Edition Robert S. Nelson,Richard Shiff,2010-03-15 Art has always been contested terrain whether the object in question is a medieval tapestry or Duchamp's Fountain But questions about the categories of art and art history acquired increased urgency during the 1970s when new developments in critical theory and other intellectual projects dramatically transformed the discipline The first edition of Critical Terms for Art History both mapped and contributed to those transformations offering a spirited reassessment of the field's methods and terminology Art history as a field has kept pace with debates over globalization and other social and political issues in recent years making a second edition of this book not just timely but crucial Like its predecessor this new edition consists of essays that cover a wide variety of loaded terms in the history of art from sign to meaning ritual to commodity Each essay explains and comments on a single term discussing the issues the term raises and putting the term into practice as an interpretive framework for a specific work of art For example Richard Shiff discusses Originality in Vija Celmins's To Fix the Image in Memory a work made of eleven pairs of stones each consisting of one original stone and one painted bronze replica In addition to the twenty two original essays this edition includes nine new ones performance style memory monument body beauty ugliness identity visual culture visual studies and social history of art as well as new introductory material All help expand the book's scope while retaining its central goal of stimulating discussion of theoretical issues in art history and making that discussion accessible to both beginning students and senior scholars Contributors Mark Antliff Nina Athanassoglou Kallmyer Stephen Bann Homi K Bhabha Suzanne Preston Blier Michael Camille David Carrier Craig Clunas Whitney Davis Jas Elsner Ivan Gaskell Ann Gibson Charles Harrison James D Herbert Amelia Jones Wolfgang Kemp Joseph Leo Koerner Patricia Leighton Paul Mattick Jr Richard Meyer W J T Mitchell Robert S Nelson Margaret Olin William Pietz Alex Potts Donald Preziosi Lisbet Rausing Richard Shiff Terry Smith Kristine Stiles David Summers Paul Wood James E Young

The Renaissance Hospital Fellow at King's College Cambridge and Teaches Classics John Henderson, John Henderson, Reader in Latin Literature Cambridge University and Fellow John Henderson, 2006-01-01 John Henderson takes us into the Renaissance hospitals of Florence recreating the enormous barn like wards and exploring the lives of those who received and those who administered treatment there

The Longman Companion to Renaissance Europe, 1390-1530 Stella Fletcher, 2014-02-04 This new Companion is the ideal reference guide It fills a gap by providing an authoritative but accessible reference on political economic religious social as well as cultural developments in this crucial period It contains information on all major topics including the church war and diplomacy civic life learning and letters printing the economy science and technology the arts across Europe and the wider world

Routledge Revivals: Medieval Italy (2004) Christopher Kleinhenz, 2017-07-05 First published in 2004 Medieval Italy An Encyclopedia provides an introduction to the many and diverse facets of Italian civilization from the late Roman empire to the end of the fourteenth century It presents in two volumes articles on a wide range of topics including history literature art music urban development commerce and economics social and political institutions religion and hagiography philosophy and science This illustrated A Z reference is a cross disciplinary resource and will be of key interest not only to students and scholars of history but also to those studying a range of subjects as well as the general reader

Creating the "Divine" Artist Patricia A. Emison, 2004 An investigation of why Michelangelo first and then many other Renaissance artists and works were called divine by contemporaries this study ranges from fourteenth century praise of Dante to a variety of sixteenth century habits of courtly compliment

Desire in Language Julia Kristeva, 1980 Desire in Language traces the path of an investigation extending over a period of ten years into the semiotics of literature and the arts But the essays of Julia Kristeva in this volume though they often deal with literature and art do not amount to either literary criticism or art criticism Their concern writes Kristeva remains intratheoretical they are based on art and literature in order to subvert the very theoretical philosophical or semiological apparatus Probing beyond the discoveries of Sigmund Freud Jacques Lacan Roman Jakobson and others Julia Kristeva proposes and tests theories centered on the nature and development of the novel and on what she has defined as a signifying practice in poetic language and pictorial works Desire in Language fully shows what Roman Jakobson has called Kristeva's genuine gift of questioning generally adopted axioms and her contrary gift of releasing various damned questions from their traditional question marks
