Islam And Revolution I

John L. Esposito

Islam And Revolution I:

Islam and Revolution Ruhollah Khomeini, 1981 Shi'a Islam Heinz Halm, 1997 Attempts to explain the bewildering events in the Middle East Revolution and its Discontents Eskandar Sadeghi-Boroujerdi, 2019-02-21 The death of the Islamic Republic's revolutionary patriarch Ayatollah Khomeini the bitter denouement of the Iran Iraq War and the marginalisation of leading factions within the political elite in tandem with the end of the Cold War harboured immense intellectual and political repercussions for the Iranian state and society It was these events which created the conditions for the emergence of Iran's post revolutionary reform movement as its intellectuals and political leaders sought to re evaluate the foundations of the Islamic state's political legitimacy and religious authority In this monograph Sadeghi Boroujerdi examines the rise and evolution of reformist political thought in Iran and analyses the complex network of publications study circles and think tanks that encompassed a range of prominent politicians and intellectuals in the 1990s In his meticulous account of the relationships between the post revolutionary political class and intelligentsia he explores a panoply of political and ideological issues still vital to understanding Iran's revolutionary state such as the ruling political theology of the Guardianship of the Jurist the political elite's engagement with questions of Islamic statehood democracy and constitutionalism and their critiques of revolutionary agency and social transformation The Iranian Revolution And The Muslim World David Menashri, 2019-07-09 This book delineates the Islamic revolution's impact mainly on the Muslim Middle East and examines the first decade of the revolution It deals with the repercussions of the revolution in several Shi'i communities and examines Sunni polemical writings on the Shi'a and the Iranian revolution Islam and Politics John L. Esposito, 1998-08-01 Islam and Revolution in the Middle East Henry Munson, 1988-01-01 Analyzes the role of Islam in Middle Eastern society and politics addresses the differences between the Sunni and Shi'i sects and discusses why an Islamic revolution occurred only in Iran Feminism, Law, and Religion Marie Failing, Elizabeth Schiltz, Susan J. Stabile, 2016-04-15 With contributions from some of the most prominent voices writing on gender law and religion today this book illuminates some of the conflicts at the intersection of feminism theology and law It examines a range of themes from the viewpoint of identifiable traditions such as Judaism Christianity Islam and Buddhism from a theoretical and practical perspective Among the themes discussed are the cross over between religious and secular values and assumptions in the search for a just jurisprudence for women the application of theological insights from religious traditions to legal issues at the core of feminist work feminist legal readings of scriptural texts on women's rights and the place that religious law has assigned to women in ecclesiastical life Feminists of faith face challenges from many sides patriarchal remnants in their own tradition dismissal of their faith commitments by secular feminists and balancing the conflicting loyalties of their lives The book will be essential reading for legal and religious academics and students working in the area of gender and law or law and religion Iran Rising Amin Saikal, 2019-02-05 An authoritative account of how and why the Islamic Republic has survived to become a critical player in the Middle East and the world When Iranians overthrew their monarchy rejecting a pro Western shah in favor of an Islamic regime many observers predicted that revolutionary turmoil would paralyze the country for decades to come Yet forty years after the 1978 79 revolution Iran has emerged as a critical player in the Middle East and the wider world as demonstrated in part by the 2015 international nuclear agreement In Iran Rising renowned Iran specialist Amin Saikal describes how the country has managed to survive despite ongoing domestic struggles Western sanctions and countless other serious challenges Saikal explores Iran s recent history beginning with the revolution which set in motion a number of developments including war with Iraq precarious relations with Arab neighbors and hostilities with Israel and the United States He highlights the regime s agility as it navigated a complex relationship with Afghanistan during the Soviet invasion survived the Gulf wars and handled fallout from the Iraqi and Syrian crises Such success Saikal maintains stems from a distinctive political order comprising both a supreme Islamic leader and an elected president and national assembly which can fuse religious and nationalist assertiveness with pragmatic policy actions at home and abroad But Iran s accomplishments including its nuclear development and ability to fight ISIS have cost its people who are desperately pressuring the ruling clerics for economic and social reforms changes that might in turn influence the country s foreign policy Amid heightened global anxiety over alliances terrorism and nuclear threats Iran Rising offers essential reading for understanding a country that more than ever is a force to watch

Modernist and Fundamentalist Debates in Islam M.

Moaddel,K. Talattof,2016-04-30 With resurgent interest in the Muslim world and in particular political Islam this collection of translated essays by major Muslim thinkers from the Middle East and South Asia demonstrates the ongoing and contentious debate between modernizers seeking to adapt Western ways and fundamentalists who rejected them From Jamal al Din al Afghani in the nineteenth century to Ayatollah Khomeini in the twentieth the selections provide an opportunity to examine a diversity of Muslim thinkers thoughts on important topics like jurisprudence politics relations with the west and women in their own words

Rachid Ghannouchi Azzam Tamimi,2001 In fact Ghannouchi contends that civil society is an Islamic concept whereas secularism especially in the model imported to the Muslim world under the guise of modernization weakens it Jacket

No God but Man Atiya Husain,2024-12-16 Reconceptualizing the relationship between race and Islam in the United States No God but Man theorizes race as an epistemology using the FBI s post 9 11 Most Wanted Terrorist list and its posters as its starting point Atiya Husain traces the origins of the FBI wanted poster form to the work of nineteenth century social scientist Adolphe Quetelet specifically his overvalued type of human called average man Husain argues that this notion of the human continues to structure wanted posters as well as much contemporary social scientific thinking about race Focusing on the curious representations on the Most Wanted Terrorist list that range from Muslims who lack a race category on their posters to the 2013 addition of Black revolutionary Assata Shakur Husain demonstrates the ongoing influence of the average man and its relevance even today proposing a counterweight to the category by engaging Shakur s turn to Islam in the 1970s in the legal context In doing so Husain shows the limitations of race as an analytical category altogether Islam and Statecraft Jon Hoffman, 2025-01-23 Instead of religion influencing political outcomes this analysis examines how politics influences religious outcomes Dominant analyses examining the utilization of religion as a tool of statecraft in the Middle East remain overwhelmingly fixated on how Islam influences the foreign policies of different state actors not how political considerations often influence the forms Islam assumes and how religion itself is often molded according to strategic considerations of political elites That Islam due to its unique or exceptional relationship with politics drives political outcomes at the international level in the Middle East is a myth this book shatters by demonstrating how the political considerations of ruling elites specifically the intersection of domestic and foreign threats influence and constrain the kinds of religious soft power strategies adopted by states in the region This book develops a comprehensive analytical framework for the notion of religious soft power capable of incorporating power based identity based and ideational variables to examine how states couple religion with their broader foreign policy conduct This framework is applied to the Middle East through the specific examination of three countries Saudi Arabia Qatar and the United Arab Emirates in the period following the Arab Uprisings to demonstrate how specific religious narratives identities histories and ideologies are constructed by political elites in the Middle East for the advancement of what are inherently political objectives namely the imperatives of regime preservation and power projection

Creative Conformity Elizabeth M. Bucar, 2011-02-15 Much feminist scholarship has viewed Catholicism and Shi i Islam as two religious traditions that historically have greeted feminist claims with skepticism or outright hostility Creative Conformity demonstrates how certain liberal secular assumptions about these religious traditions are only partly correct and more importantly misleading In this highly original study Elizabeth Bucar compares the feminist politics of eleven US Catholic and Iranian Shi i women and explores how these women contest and affirm clerical mandates in order to expand their roles within their religious communities and national politics Using scriptural analysis and personal interviews Creative Conformity demonstrates how women contribute to the production of ethical knowledge within both religious communities in order to expand what counts as feminist action and to explain how religious authority creates an unintended diversity of moral belief and action Bucar finds that the practices of Catholic and Shi a women are not only determined by but also contribute to the ethical and political landscape in their respective religious communities She challenges the orthodoxies of liberal feminist politics and ultimately strengthens feminism as a scholarly endeavor

Religion and Nation Kathryn Spellman, Kathryn Spellman-Poots, 2004 An estimated 75 000 Iranians emigrated to Britain after the 1979 revolution and the establishment of the Islamic Republic They are politically religiously socio economically and ethnically heterogeneous and have found themselves in the ongoing process of settlement The aim of this book is to explore facets of this process by examining the ways in which religious traditions and practices have been maintained negotiated and rejected by Iranians from Muslim backgrounds and how they have served as identity building vehicles during the course of migration in relation to the political economic and social situation in Iran and Britain While the ethnographic focus is on Iranians this book touches on more general questions associated with the process of migration transnational societies Diasporas and religious as well as ethnic minorities

Stages of Islamic Revolution Kalim Siddiqui, 1996

Fighting the Last War Jeffrey M. Bale, Tamir Bar-On, 2024-01-24 The authors argue that the potential threat of a resurgence of fascism has been consistently exaggerated from 1945 until present day that the ongoing lack of conceptual and definitional clarity with respect to terms like fascism the radical right the alt right white supremacism populism racism etc has enabled ill informed or dishonest commentators to distort their meaning and abusively misapply those labels so as to delegitimize their political opponents and that the political and economic elites in charge of contemporary Western societies are now deliberately exaggerating and exploiting the threat posed by the domestic radical right in order to facilitate vilifying harassing deplatforming censoring canceling and repressing disgruntled citizens no matter where they may lie along the political spectrum who openly criticize and vigorously oppose their agendas The authors also advocate the use of well established scholarly methods for carrying out research on the right and provide precise definitions of various terms in order to facilitate the development of more accurate categorizations
