The Study of Islamic Origins Mette Bjerregaard Mortensen, Guillaume Dye, Isaac W. Oliver, Tommaso Tesei, 2021-11-08 The study of Islam's origins from a rigorous historical and social science perspective is still wanting At the same time a renewed attention is being paid to the very plausible pre canonical redactional and editorial stages of the Qur'an a book whose core many contemporary scholars agree to be formed by various independent writings in which encrypted passages from the OT Pseudepigrapha the NT Apocrypha and other ancient writings of Jewish Christian and Manichaean provenance may be found Likewise the earliest Islamic community is presently regarded by many scholars as a somewhat undetermined monotheistic group that evolved from an original Jewish Christian milieu into a distinct Muslim group perhaps much later than commonly assumed and in a rather unclear way The following volume gathers select studies that were originally shared at the Early Islamic Studies Seminar These studies aim at exploring afresh the dawn and early history of Islam with the tools of biblical criticism as well as the approaches set forth in the study of Second Temple Judaism Christian and Rabbinic origins thereby contributing to the renewed interdisciplinary study of formative Islam as part and parcel of the complex processes of religious identity formation during Late Antiquity

Epigraphy and Islamic Culture Mohammad Yusuf Siddiq, 2015-11-19 Architectural inscriptions are a fascinating aspect of Islamic cultural heritage because of their rich and diverse historical contents and artistic merits These inscriptions help us understand the advent of Islam and its gradual diffusion in Bengal which eventually resulted in a Muslim majority region making the Bengali Muslims the second largest linguistic group in the Islamic world This book is an interpretive study of the Arabic and Persian epigraphic texts of Bengal in the wider context of a rich epigraphic tradition in the Islamic world While focusing on previously untapped sources it takes a fresh look into the Islamic inscriptions of Bengal and examines the inner dynamics of the social intellectual and religious transformations of this eastern region of South Asia It explores many new inscriptions including Persian epigraphs that appeared immediately after the Muslim conquest of Bengal indicating an early introduction of Persian language in the region through a cultural interaction with Khurasan and Central Asia In addition to deciphering and editing the epigraphic texts the information derived from them has been analyzed to construct the political administrative social religious and cultural scenario of the period The first survey of the Muslim inscriptions in India ever to be attempted on this scale the book reveals the significance of epigraphy as a source for Islamic history and culture As such it will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian Studies Asian History and Islamic Studies Calligraphy and

Nees, 2015-09-17 Through its material remains Perspectives on Early Islamic Art in Jerusalem analyzes several overlooked aspects of the earliest decades of Islamic presence in Jerusalem during the seventh century CE Focusing on the Haram al Sharif also known as the Temple Mount Lawrence Nees provides the first sustained study of the Dome of the Chain a remarkable eleven sided building standing beside the slightly later Dome of the Rock and the first study of the meaning of the columns and column capitals with figures of eagles in the Dome of the Rock He also provides a new interpretation of the earliest mosque in Jerusalem the Haram as a whole with the sacred Rock at its center Inscriptions of the Medieval Islamic World Bernard O'Kane, Andrew Charles Spencer Peacock, Mark Muehlhaeusler, 2023 This volume offers an overview of the state of the field and shows the importance of Islamic inscriptions for disciplines such as art history history and literature The chapters range from surveys to detailed exploration of individual topics providing an insight to some of the most recent cutting edge work on Islamic inscriptions It focuses on the period from the rise of Islam to the fifteenth century ranging across the Islamic world from the Maghreb to India and Central Asia and inscriptions in Arabic Persian and Turkish The five sections of the book draw together some of the principal themes Royal Power investigates the role of sultanic patronage in epigraphy and the use of inscriptions for projecting royal power Piety examines the relationship between epigraphy and religious practice Epigraphic Style and Function explores the relationship between the use of specific epigraphic styles and scripts and the function of a monument Inscribed Objects moves from monumental inscriptions to those on objects such as ceramics and pen cases The final section considers the interplay between inscriptions and historical sources as well as the utility of inscriptions as historical sources Seeing Islam as Others Saw It: A Survey and Evaluation of Christian, Jewish and Zoroastrian Writings on Early Islam Robert G. Hoyland, 2014-01-10 This book offers a new approach to the vexing question of how to write the early history of Islam The first part discusses the nature of the Muslim and non Muslim source material for the seventh and eighth century Middle East and argues that by lessening the divide between these two traditions which has largely been erected by modern scholarship we can come to a better appreciation of this crucial period The second part gives a detailed survey of sources and an analysis of some 120 non Muslim texts all of which provide information about the first century and a half of Islam roughly A D 620 780 The third part furnishes examples according to the approach suggested in the first part and with the material presented in the second part how one might write the history of this time The fourth part takes the form of excurses on various topics such as the process of Islamization the phenomenon of conversion to Islam the development of techniques for determining the direction of prayer and the conquest of Egypt Because this work views Islamic history with the aid of non Muslim texts and assesses the latter in the light of Muslim writings it will be essential reading for historians of Islam Christianity Judaism or Zoroastrianism indeed for all those with an interest in cultures of the eastern Mediterranean in its traditional phase from Late Antiquity to medieval times
