Israeli War Widows:

Israeli War Widows Lea Shamgar Handelman, 1986-07-30 An excellent well written study Unique in its sociological focus and its emphasis on young widows Choice In this intelligent and emotionally gripping book the author peels away both the cultural symbolic layer of heroism in war and the psychological layer of individual grief She presents a sensitive sociological analysis Contemporary Sociology Widows: The Middle East, Asia, and the Pacific Helena Znaniecka Lopata, 1987 What happens when the husband dies depends on the society on the location of the widow in urban rural or class terms and on the widow's own personal resources In some societies the woman is totally dependent upon a grown son and cannot remarry in others such as that in the United States she is more dependent upon her own resources and wishes For some widowhood results in a great loss of status for others it can mean loneliness and social isolation Yet widowhood can mean greater social freedom for some women a blooming of personality Even grief is experienced in various ways and degrees Thus there is no such thing as a widow type only a great heterogeneity in widowhood as in wifehood Volume I analyzes the support systems and life styles of widows in Australia the Philippines Korea Iran China a Pacific island India Turkey and Israel Volume II North America examines two communities in Canada a Florida retirement community and communities in several other locations as well as the relative situations of homeowners blacks and poor ethnic populations

Lentini, 2000 The murder of a third of Europe's Jews by the Nazis is unquestionably the worst catastrophe in the history of contemporary Judaism and a formative event in the history of Zionism and the State of Israel Understandably therefore the Shoah written about analyzed and given various political interpretations has shaped public discourse in the history of the State of Israel The key element of Shoah in the Israeli context is victimhood and as such it has become a source of shame shrouded in silence and subordinated to the dominant discourse which resulting from the construction of a new Hebrew active subjectivity taught the postwar generation of Israelis to reject diaspora Jewry and its alleged passivity in the face of catastrophe This book is the culmination of years of preoccupation with the meaning of the Shoah for the author an Israeli woman with a split subjectivity that of a daughter of a family of Shoah survivors and that of a daughter of the first Israeli born generation the culmination of her need to break the silence about the Shoah in a society which constructed itself as the Israeli antithesis to diaspora Jewry and to excavate a truth from underneath the mountain of Zionist nation building myths These myths the author argues not only had deep implication for the formation of her generation but also a profound impact on the Israeli Palestinian conflict Moreover they are shot through with images of the masculine Israeli contrasted with those of the weak passive non virile Jewish Other of the diaspora This book offers the first gendered analysis of Israeli society and the Shoah The author employs personal narratives of nine Israeli daughters of Shoah survivors writers and film makers and a feminist re reading of official and unofficial Israeli and Zionist discourses to explore the ways in which the relationship between Israel and the Shoah has been gendered in that the Shoah was feminized while Israel was masculinized This new perspective has considerable implications for the analysis of Israeli society a gendered analysis of Israeli construction of nation reveals how the Shoah and Shoah discourse are exploited to justify Israel's i.e. the new Hebrew's self perceived right of occupation Israel thus not only negated the Jewish diaspora but also stigmatized and feminized Shoah victims and survivors all the while employing Shoah discourses as an excuse for occupation both in the past and in the present

Women in Israel Yael Atzmon, Dafna N. Izraeli, 1993-01-01 This series of the Israel Sociological Association whose object is to identify and clarify the major themes that occupy social research in Israel today gathers together the best of Israeli social science investigation that was previously scattered in a wide variety of international journals Volume VI presents a composite portrait of women's lives in Israel analyzing their status in the family at work in the military and in political life The editors start from the premise that Israel is simultaneously a modern industrial society and a traditional one with regard to the structure and centrality of family life It is governed by both secular law based on the principle of equality between men and women and religious law that imposes a different legal status between the sexes Many of the contributors analyze the social contradictions of this paradox and how they shape women's options and experiences This is the first compendium offering a comprehensive account of women in Israeli society As such it should be of great interest to people in women's studies sociology and Middle Eastern affairs Contents partial Economic Growth and Female Labour The Case of Israel Gender Ethnicity and Income Inequality The Israeli Experience The Status of Women in Academia Scientists in Organizations Discrimination Processes in an Internal Labor Market Economic and Familial Roles of Women in Israel Is Resource Theory Equally Applicable to Wives and Husbands The Social Status of War Widows Getting Powerful with Age Changes in Women over the Life Cycle Family Gender and Attitudes toward Retirement Ritual Morality and Gender The Religious Lives of Oriental Jewish Women in Jerusalem Women in Legislatures Israel in a Comparative Perspective Women and Politics The Case of Israel Abortion in Israel Social Demand and Political Responses Role System under Stress Sex Roles in War Relative

From Patriarchy to Empowerment Valentine Moghadam,2007-06-18 This rich anthology offers twenty studies on instances of emerging social justice and women s empowerment in the Middle East North Africa and South Asia These areas are home to huge populations where women's rights have withered under patriarchal rule and many are beset by civic unrest. The book shows how changes are occurring as flood tides of capital, people and information erode entrenched gender regimes giving birth to energetic and forward thinking women's movements. Highly original, conceptually sophisticated and imminently readable, this book illustrates how local women are transforming their collective fates by questioning their status, forming alliances, demanding full participation in economic development and the political process and mining opportunities afforded by globalization.

Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East, A Bibliography, Volume 1 Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East 1965-1987 Strijp, 2021-12-06. During the last two decades the number of anthropologists conducting research in the Middle East has increased considerably. Together they have produced an abundance of valuable studies often based on prolonged periods of ethnographic fieldwork. This bibliography offers a comprehensive survey of their results published between 1965 and 1987. It refers to studies published in English, French and German. Geographically the bibliography covers the area from Mauritania in the West to Afghanistan in the East and from Turkey in the North to the Arab Peninsula and Northern Sudan in the South. The majority of studies inserted has been written by anthropologists. Besides a considerable number of studies related to anthropology but published by non anthropologists has been integrated as well. The majority of the monographs and volumes has been annotated.

Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East, 1992. During the last two decades the number of anthropological studies on the Middle East has increased exponentially. Kawkab: Remarkable Bedouin Women Smadar Ben-Asher, 2024-11-05. Kawkab Remarkable Bedouin Women offers an intimate glimpse into the lives of seven Bedouin women. All live in the Negev, all are active in transforming the reality of a society in transition where tradition, culture and religion are deeply intertwined yet vulnerable to the winds of change. The narratives are told in first person accounts allowing each woman to share her own journey. The three accounts in Part I are the stories of three women who pursued higher education and strived to realize abilities and rights that they were taught to confine to the privacy of their homes. Part II presents the poignant chronicles of two women who after suffering loss and bereavement managed to rebuild their lives as widows of fallen soldiers despite the social stumbling blocks they encountered. The two stories in Part III highlight the courage and leadership of women working in the shadow places where the light of an advanced society does not penetrate and from which they lead change. Each woman brings her unique one time voice, a voice that echoes that of other women. The life story of these Bedouin women reveals their childhood and youth in the wilderness of the Negev, their marriage, parenting, struggle for education and personal development alongside crises, pain, distress, disappointments and great expectations. They do not expect someone to clear the path for them It is they alone who raise the torch of the quiet revolution a torch no one can extinguish Part IV is theoretical and presents knowledge gained through research anchoring the questions raised in the stories within the growing corpus of knowledge centered on Bedouin society in Israel Professor Smadar Ben Asher expert educational psychologist is a Senior Lecturer at Kaye Academic College of Education an External Lecturer at Ben Gurion University of the Negev and a faculty member of the Mandel Center for Leadership in the Negev Ben Asher's research in social psychology investigates the exclusion of minority groups bereavement loss and personal and social crises Together with Emda Orr she co authored The familiar and the alien Social representations in Israel 2007 The Ben Gurion Institute Ben Asher is also author of The Kishon affair clear and murky 2016 MOFET Institute and Hakibbutz Hameuchad Red Line Series and Kawkab MOFET Institute 2020 Hebrew Minerva 2023 Arabic

Embattled Glory Neil J. Diamant, 2010-01-16 This groundbreaking book examines the treatment of veterans of the People's Liberation Army and military families as an illuminating window into Chinese patriotism citizenship and legitimacy Using a wealth of recently declassified archival documents and employing a wide comparative perspective Neil J Diamant presents the first large scale study of these groups in comparison to similar populations in other parts of Asia and in the West He offers an unprecedented look at the everyday interactions among veterans military families state officials and ordinary citizens as they attempted to secure urban residence jobs spouses medical care and respect Often celebrated by the government for their glorious and patriotic service veterans and military families were the beneficiaries of many policies such as affirmative action in hiring and access to political power But the author asks if veteran and military families were heroic why did many of them compare their situation to donkeys slaughtered after grinding the wheat and tossed away dirty socks And what explains the thousands of suicides among veterans rampant discrimination and ongoing protests against the government By comparing veterans in China to their counterparts in the United States the Soviet Union Israel and elsewhere this book provides important answers to the larger question of what circumstances lead to better or worse treatment of veterans and what this treatment tells us about patriotism legitimacy and respect for military service

PTSD and the Politics of Trauma in Israel Keren Friedman-Peleg, Hebrew University Magnes Press, 2017-01-18 Post Traumatic Stress Disorder or PTSD has long been defined as a mental trauma that solely affects the individual However against the backdrop of contemporary Israel what role do families health experts donors and the national community at large play in interpreting and responding to this individualized trauma In PTSD and the Politics of Trauma in Israel Keren Friedman Peleg sheds light on a new way of speaking about mental vulnerability and national belonging in contemporary Israel Based on ethnographic fieldwork conducted at The Israel Center for Victims of Terror and War and The Israel Trauma Coalition between 2004 and 2009 Friedman Peleg's rich ethnographic study challenges the traditional and limited definitions of trauma In doing so she exposes how these clinical definitions have been transformed into new categories of identity thereby raising new dynamics of power as well as new
