Cities as Multiple Landscapes Christina

Antenhofer, Günter Bischof, Robert L. Dupont, Ulrich Leitner, 2016-10-13 Cities are composed of a combination of urban and rural spaces buildings and boundaries and human bodies engaged in political social and cultural discourses Together these combine to create what the contributors to this volume call multiple landscapes Developing a new theoretical conceptualization of cities this book unites American and European approaches to comparative urban studies by investigating the concept of multiple landscapes in two sister cities New Orleans and Innsbruck As the essays reveal both New Orleans and Innsbruck have long been centers of multicultural exchange have strong senses of historical heritage and profit from the spectacular geographies in which they are situated Geography in particular links both cities to environmental technological and security challenges that must be considered in connection with aesthetic cultural and ecological debates Exploring the many connections between New Orleans and Innsbruck the interdisciplinary essays in this book will change the way we think about cities both local and abroad Performance, Space, Utopia S. Jestrovic, 2012-11-13 Over 20 years after the war in Yugoslavia this book looks back at its two most iconic cities and the phenomenon of exile emerging as a consequence of living in them in the 1990s It uses examples ranging from street interventions to theatre performances to explore the making of urban counter sites through theatricality and utopian performatives On the Move Timothy Cresswell, 2012-11-12 On the Move presents a rich history of one of the key concepts of modern life mobility Increasing mobility has been a constant throughout the modern era evident in mass car ownership plane travel and the rise of the Internet Typically people have equated increasing mobility with increasing freedom However as Cresswell shows while mobility has certainly increased in modern times attempts to control and restrict mobility are just as characteristic of modernity Through a series of fascinating historical episodes Cresswell shows how mobility and its regulation have been central to the experience of modernity The Sociology of the Body Kate Cregan, 2006-03-31 Through a provocative analysis this book contextualizes explicates and critically analyses the work of those key theorists and texts that have been most influential in refocusing our gaze on human embodiment Upon this foundation the author builds her own distinctive theoretical framework towards the analysis of embodiment This is a valuable addition to the field of body studies Chris Shilling University of Kent Over the last 20 years the social sciences have witnessed a remarkable inter disciplinary surge of interest in the body The latter is now recognized as a core concept and is the subject of intensive study at undergraduate and postgraduate levels But how can we map this work What are the contributions and differences of the various approaches This lucid and authoritative text Provides a critical evaluation of the work of Elias Aries Foucault Bourdieu Mary Douglas Kristeva Butler Haraway and Bordo Guides the reader through the inter disciplinary influence of these ideas Gives a clear and compelling analysis of the significance of the turn towards the body Explains the complex way in which embodiment is formed across different social formations Clearly organized and powerfully expressed the book provides the best available guide to the turn to the body in the social sciences Writing the New Berlin Katharina Gerstenberger, 2008 The Body Tiffany Atkinson, 2005-09-11 What do we mean when we talk about the body This Reader challenges the assumption that it can be invoked as a neutral or indeed natural point of reference in critical discussion or cultural practice The essays collected here foreground the historical construction of the body throughout a range of discourses from the modern to the postmodern and seek to present it not as a biological given but as a contestable signifier in the articulation of identities
