Tenderness and Sweetness in the Shura Field. Ryan Cooper, 2019-10-14 The streets are bustling neon lights flicker in the night and the electronic screens change pictures from time to time The night view of the city is beautiful but unfortunately even if I walk through these noisy streets every day I still understand that these superficial glammers do not belong to me The bicycle I bought from the second hand market has been with me for three years The jingle sound that never stops is my only companion when I travel far away I don't feel lonely so even if it can be repaired maybe I can't bear to let this sound disappear The place where I went to work today is far away There is no way The salary for tutoring in this company is very good It pays 60 yuan an hour and meals are provided I go twice a week and teach for three hours each time so I can earn 360 yuan a week So since I took this job I quit all other part time jobs I am already a junior If I don't study hard learn more and enhance my personal competitiveness it will be difficult to find a good job and stay in the city after graduation Especially since I am studying medicine If you want to enter a good hospital or pharmaceutical factory you must have strong strength without connections After a big downhill the street gradually darkened I rode my bike through a small road There were almost no pedestrians or vehicles here at night It was very quiet Every time I passed by here I felt a little depressed Think about the family where I tutored Both parents were senior white collar workers Needless to say the family was well off The food clothes and food of the child were all high end goods but he just didn't study hard His parents were almost worried to death They spent a lot of money to buy him books and CDs and hired tutors
