Governing Interests Business Associations Facing Internationalization:

Governing Interests Wolfgang Streeck, Jürgen Grote, Volker Schneider, Jelle Visser, 2006-06-07 In the current period of globalization Governing Interests presents new research on the impact of internationalization on the organization and representation of business interests through trade and employer associations By exploring ongoing gradual but nevertheless profound changes in the structures and functions of business interest associations the book develops a precise understanding of the relationship between the national and the international Both conceptual and empirical some papers included in this significant volume adopt a bird's eye view of the topic whilst others concentrate on individual industries or countries and several through examination and analysis consider the effects on interest representation and the repercussions on effective governance Contributed to and edited by leading academics the diversity of research questions and methods used in this volume provide the reader with an excellent understanding of the subject and importantly caution against rash simplifications Comprehensive and scholarly this text will be of particular relevance to political scientists and sociologists

Organized Business Interests in Changing Environments J. Grote, A. Lang, V. Schneider, 2008-11-03 A book on the path dependent and path creating structures and attitudes of business interest associations in a world of Europeanization and internationalization of markets It includes empirical data on relational information used for network analytic purposes drawn from hundreds of interviews with CEOs Handbook of Business Interest Associations, Firm Size and Governance Franz Traxler, Gerhard Huemer, 2007-05-07 This Handbook presents a theory of Business Interest Associations and fifteen empirical country by country case studies in the EU The book is organized into three main parts Part I develops a theory of business associations which centres on firm size as the key explanatory variable Part II consists of country studies covering the EU 15 which are written along strictly comparable lines of analysis Part III contains the cross nationally comparative analysis The book will make essential reading for researchers working in organization studies industrial relations industrial sociology and political science as well as practitioners in related fields The Governance of Global Industry

Associations Ronit, Karsten, 2022-08-09 This insightful book examines the role of micro politics in the life of global industry associations Karsten Ronit addresses the various rules and norms required to administer these associations highlighting the importance of managing variations in complex member demands and responding to expectations in their institutional environment

The Organization Ecology of Interest Communities Darren Halpin, David Lowery, Virginia Gray, 2016-04-29 This volume summarizes the origins and development of the organization ecology approach to the study of interest representation and lobbying and outlines an agenda for future research Multiple authors from different countries and from different perspectives contribute their analysis of this research program Breakdown and Change of Private

Interest Governments Claudius Wagemann, 2014-06-23 Examines how Private Interest Governments have changed as a form of public sector economic regulation Interest Group Politics in Europe Jan Beyers, Rainer Eising, William A.

Maloney,2013-09-13 Interest organizations have always assumed a prominent place in European politics because they link states with citizens institutionalize the resolution of social conflicts regulate important sectors of the economy and society contribute to workable policy outcomes and socialize members into democratic politics However the plethora of interest group studies that exist have not consolidated our understanding of these actors These analyses have been subject to the vagaries of different theoretical perspectives and vary greatly in their conceptual and methodological frameworks Consequently a not always complementary and fragmented series of findings has emerged This book is a systematic and comprehensive effort at investigating and integrating the state of the art in European interest group research Combining the analysis of interest group politics in the EU with the comparative study of interest organizations the book seeks to identify the areas about which there is consolidated knowledge that are marked by controversies in which considerable uncertainty exists that have been omitted from research programs and that ought to be part of future studies Thereby it provides a general reflection on how the study of interest group politics can be improved by linking it to the comparative study of governance This book was published as a special issue of West European Politics      Governing Modern Societies Hubert Heinelt,2010-02-25 This book explores democracy beyond the governmental structures and focuses on participatory governance in particular It demonstrates that we need to change the way we think about democracy and our notion of democracy has to be re conceptualised      Challenges of Global Business Authority, The Tony Porter,Karsten Ronit,2011-01-02 Business is being globalized with an immense speed but are democratic practices and decision making structures keeping pace Contrary to those who see democracy as irrelevant or impossible at the global level The Challenges of Global Business Authority analyzes three dimensions of democracy participation accountability and transparency in many transnational mechanisms that seek to align global business interests with the public interest Looking beyond these mechanisms this volume seeks to explore the fundamental issues affecting the relationship between democracy and global business authority such as the structural power of business itself and the contestations over the boundary between public and private The essays in this volume provide concrete ways that business can be made more publicly accountable to allow democratic practices to take on a more permanent role in the global business world      European Integration and Consensus Politics in the Low Countries Hans Vollaard,Jan Beyers,Patrick Dumont,2014-08-13 The Netherlands Belgium and Luxembourg are well known cases of consensus politics Decision making in the Low Countries has been characterized by broad involvement power sharing and making compromises These countries were also founding member states of the European Union EU and its predecessors However the relationship between European integration and the tradition of domestic consensus politics remains unclear In order to explore this relationship this book offers in depth studies of a wide variety of political actors such as governments parliaments political parties courts ministries and interest groups as well as key policy issues such as the ratification of EU treaties and migration policy The authors focus not only on Europeanization

but also analyse whether European integration may gradually undermine the fundamental characteristics of consensus politics in the Low Countries Drawing on consociationalism and Europeanization research this volume provides a comprehensive overview of Europeanization in these three EU member states as well as a better understanding of the varieties of consensus politics across and within these countries This book will be of interest to students and scholars of European studies European integration European law political science European political economy and comparative politics

The Oxford Handbook of Swiss Politics Patrick Emmenegger, Flavia Fossati, Sijla Häusermann, Yannis Papadopoulos, Pascal Sciarini, Adrian Vatter, 2024 This volume provides a comprehensive account of the many different facets of the Swiss political system and of the major developments in modern Swiss politics The chapters offer analyses relevant not only to political science but also to international relations European studies history sociology law and economics Global Public Policy Karsten Ronit, 2006-12-12 We are in a critical period where civil society organizations actively influence business political behaviour while corporations and business associations are adopting new and flexible strategies aimed at closer contact with civil society Against the backdrop of such broad reorientations this book analyzes the new and changing roles of business and civil society actors to offer an accurate portrayal of the formation of global public policy With contributions from leading experts in the field it investigates the potential for and emergence of new policy arrangements along with their patterns of conflict and cooperation Building upon theoretical inspirations from various traditions studying international affairs this volume develops and applies the concepts of policy arrangements and countervailing power to the field of global business civil society relations A range of key issues including labour consumers global finance the mining industry climate policy and the World Economic and Social Forums are examined Global Public Policy will be of strong interest to students and researchers of international political economy international relations and international business

Inequality and the Fading of Redistributive Politics Keith Banting, John Myles, 2013-09 The redistributive state is fading in Canada Government programs are no longer offsetting the growth in inequality generated by the market In this book leading political scientists sociologists and economists point to the failure of public policy to contain surging income inequality A complex mix of forces has reshaped the politics of social policy including global economic pressures ideological change shifts in the influence of business and labour changes in the party system and the decline of equality seeking civil society organizations This volume demonstrates that action and inaction policy change and policy drift are at the heart of growing inequality in Canada Global Business Associations Karsten Ronit, 2018-10-26 Global business tends to be perceived as a number of individual but powerful multinational corporations capable of controlling markets and influencing political decisions in fact global business is highly organized through a plethora of associations that bring together competing companies and conflicting national businesses Indeed global business associations have a long history and with accelerated globalization further opportunities emerge for unified business action This book fills a significant gap in the current literature examining the pivotal role of global business associations and providing a concise and accessible overview of their different functions in a range of institutional contexts Beginning by clarifying the concept of global business associations the author puts their role into a historical and contemporary context in which their economic social and political functions are sketched Their historical origin is outlined including the proliferation of global associations in the twentieth and twenty first centuries He then moves on to explore and analyse the different types of actors explaining key categories and their place in the organization of global business with chapters on peak associations e g ICC and WEF industry associations alliances as well as clubs and think tanks and facilitators Covering the history current role and future evolution of this dynamic category of associations this work will be essential reading for students and scholars of international political economy international relations international organizations and global governance

Big Business and Economic Development Barbara Hogenboom,Alex E. Fernández Jilberto,2006-12-21 Bringing together an international and multidisciplinary group of experts this is the first comprehensive volume to analyze conglomerates and economic groups in developing countries and transition economies Using sixteen in depth case studies it provides a comparative framework for the study of contemporary process of privatization economic and

Collective Skill Formation in the Knowledge Economy Giuliano Bonoli,Patrick Emmenegger,2022-09-22 Interest in collective skill formation systems has been high for a long time but recent structural economic and societal developments have led commentators to question their viability In particular the shift towards a knowledge economy creates a number of challenges for these highly praised systems of vocational training These challenges relate to the growing importance of knowledge intensive production in advanced economies and with the accelerated pace of change due to innovation and globalization What is more these issues are compounded by coinciding developments in growing inequality and the emergence of multicultural societies Can collective skill formation systems adapt fast enough to the needs of the knowledge economy Can they continue to be as successful as they have been in the past in integrating youth in the labour market Will employers be willing to participate in the delivery of vocational training in this new context In this book a world class team of leading experts on collective skill formation systems provide a thorough discussion of these and other questions raised by the shift to a knowledge economy The book argues that collective skill formation systems remain attractive for firms and governments However continuous and profound adjustments will be needed if they are to fulfil their objectives in terms of equity and efficiency

Lobbying the European Union David Coen,Jeremy Richardson,2009-06-04 It is universally accepted that there has been a huge growth in EU lobbying over the past few decades There is now a dense EU interest group system This entirely new volume inspired by Mazey Richardson s 1993 book Lobbying in the European Community seeks to understand the role of interest groups in the policy process from agenda setting to implementation Specifically the book is interested in observing how interest groups organise to influence the EU institutions and how they select different coalitions along the policy process and in different policy domains In looking at 20 years of change the book

captures processes of institutional and actor learning professionalisation of lobbying and the possible emergence of a distinct EU public policy style More specifically from the actors perspective the editors are interested in assessing how the rise of direct lobbying and the emergence of fluid issue based coalitions has changed the logic of collective action and what is the potential impact of venue shopping on reputation and influence From an institutional perspective the contributors explore resource and legitimacy demands and the practical impact of consultation processes on the emergence of a distinct EU lobbying relationship It will be essential reading for academics and practitioners alike Insiders Versus Outsiders Andreas Dür, Gemma Mateo, 2016 What explains differences in the lobbying behaviour of interest groups And what consequences do these differences have for the access that interest groups can gain to decision makers and the influence that they can exert on policy outcomes Building on an unprecedented amount of empirical evidence on lobbying in Europe this book puts forward a distinction between lobbying insiders and lobbying outsiders Lobbying insiders most prominently business interests try to establish direct contacts with decision makers enjoy good access to executive institutions and manage to shape policy outcomes when mobilizing the public on an issue is difficult Lobbying outsiders in particular citizen groups such as consumer environmental or health non governmental organizations put greater emphasis on mobilizing the public or changing public attitudes find it easier to gain access to legislative decision makers and have the greatest impact on outcomes on issues that are amenable to an outside lobbying campaign The book shows that a single argument building on group type as the main variable can explain variation across interest groups in their choice of strategy their access to decision makers and the conditions under which they can exert influence The existence of lobbying insiders and lobbying outsiders has important implications for both our understanding of political decision making and the normative appraisal of contemporary democracy

The Oxford Handbook of Dutch Politics, 2024-10-06 The Oxford Handbook of Dutch Politics provides a comprehensive longitudinal overview of the state of the art of academic research on the Dutch political system its origins and historical development its key institutions main fault lines pivotal processes and key public policy dynamics In each of the chapters researchers take stock of what if anything has changed over time how scholars have conceptualized and studied these dynamics and what key factors can account for the developmental patterns found to be at play Notwithstanding its considerable degree of constitutional and institutional stability Dutch politics has seen considerable step changes and occasional upheavals across the last half century Influenced by long term demographic socio economic and cultural shifts the old social cleavages have waned New social identities and dividing lines such as ethnicity education place and gender have influenced Dutch citizens political attitudes and behaviours including their voting patterns The media landscape and the information environment have been altered by new technologies that politicians and citizens alike have to navigate This has produced changes in such pivotal components as the party system coalition formation and management process and executive legislative relations and many others Moreover public policy paradigms and the political coalitions that sustained them have ascended and lost traction in most of the eleven policy domains discussed in the Handbook In all this volume provides unique and indispensable insights into stability and change in a political system that once gained notoriety as an archetype of a consensual or consociational democracy Social Movements and Europeanization Donatella della Porta, Manuela Caiani, 2011-06-23 Are social movement organizations euro sceptical euro pragmatic or euro opportunist Or do they accept the EU as a new level of governance to place pressure on Do they provide a critical capital necessary for the political structuring of the EU or do they disrupt the process of EU integration This book includes surveys of activists at international protest events targeting the European Union for a total of about 5000 interviews a discourse analysis of documents and transcripts of debates on European politics and policies conducted during the four European social forums held between 2002 and 2006 and involving hundreds of social movement organizations and tens of thousands of activists from all European countries about 320 interviews with representatives of civil society organizations in six EU countries France Germany the United Kingdom the Netherlands Spain and Italy and one non member state Switzerland and a systematic claims analysis of the daily press in selected years between 1990 and 2003 The empirical research shows the different paths of Europeanization taken by social movements and civil society organizations
