Syntactic Pattern Recognition, Applications K.S. Fu, 2012-12-06 The many different mathematical techniques used to solve pattern recognition problems may be grouped into two general approaches the decision theoretic or discriminant approach and the syntactic or structural approach In the decision theoretic approach a set of characteristic measurements called features are extracted from the patterns Each pattern is represented by a feature vector and the recognition of each pattern is usually made by partitioning the feature space Applications of decision theoretic approach include character recognition medical diagnosis remote sensing reliability and socio economics A relatively new approach is the syntactic approach In the syntactic approach each pattern is expressed in terms of a composition of its components The recognition of a pattern is usually made by analyzing the pattern structure according to a given set of rules Earlier applications of the syntactic approach include chromosome classification English character recognition and identification of bubble and spark chamber events The purpose of this monograph is to provide a summary of the major recent applications of syntactic pattern recognition After a brief introduction of syntactic pattern recognition in Chapter 1 the nine main chapters Chapters 2-10 can be divided into three parts The first three chapters concern with the analysis of waveforms using syntactic methods Specific application examples include peak detection and interpretation of electro cardiograms and the recognition of speech patterns The next five chapters deal with the syntactic recognition of two dimensional pictorial patterns A Moeso-gothic Glossary, with an Introduction, an Outline of Moeso-gothic Grammar, and a List of Anglo-saxon and Old and Modern English Words, Etymologically Connected with Moeso-Gothic Walter William Skeat, 1868 A Mæso-Gothic Glossary Walter William Skeat, 1868 Multi-Agent Systems and Applications Michael Luck, 2001-06-20 This book presents selected tutorial lectures given at the summer school on Multi Agent Systems and Their Applications held in Prague Czech Republic in July 2001 under the sponsorship of ECCAI and Agent Link The 20 lectures by leading researchers in the field presented in the book give a competent state of the art account of research and development in the field of multi agent systems and advanced applications The book offers parts on foundations of MAS social behaviour meta reasoning and learning and applications Automatic Generation of Computer Animation Ruqian Lu, Songmao Zhang, 2003-08-06 We are both fans of watching animated stories Every evening before or after dinner we always sit in front of the television and watch the animation program which is originally produced and shown for children We find ourselves becoming younger while immersed in the interesting plot of the animation how the princess is first killed and then rescued how the little rat defeats the big cat etc But what we have found in those animation programs are not only interesting plots but also a big chance for the application of computer science and artificial intelligence techniques As is well known the cost of producing animated movies is very high even with the use of computer graphics techniques Turning a story in text form into an animated movie is a long and complicated procedure We came to the conclusion that many parts of this process could be automated by using artificial intelligence techniques It is actually a challenge and test for machine intelligence So we decided to explore the possibility of a full life cycle automation of computer animation generation By full life cycle we mean the generation process of computer animation from a children's story in natural language text form to the final animated movie It is of course a task of immense difficulty However we decided to try our best and to see how far we could go

A grammar of Gyeli Nadine Grimm ,2021 This grammar offers a grammatical description of the Ngo lo variety of Gyeli an endangered Bantu A80 language spoken by 4 000 5 000 Pygmy hunter gatherers in southern Cameroon It represents one of the most comprehensive descriptions of a northwestern Bantu language The grammatical description which is couched in a form to function approach covers all levels of language ranging from Gyeli phonology to its information structure and complex clauses It draws on nineteen months of fieldwork carried out as part of the Bagyeli Bakola DoBeS Documentation of Endangered Languages project between 2010 and 2014 The resulting multimodal corpus from that project which includes texts of diverse genres such as traditional stories narratives multi party conversations and dialogues procedural texts and songs provides the empirical basis for the grammatical description The documentary text collection supplemented by data from elicitation work questionnaires and experiments are accessible in the Bagyeli Bakola collection of The Language Archive With additional ethnographic sociolinguistic diachronic and comparative remarks the grammar may appeal to a wider audience in general linguistics typology Bantu studies and anthropology In 2019 the grammar received the Pini Award by the Association for Linguistic Typology
