Housing An Aging Society Issues Alternatives And Policy:

Housing an Aging Society Robert J. Newcomer, Mortimer Powell Lawton, Thomas O. Byerts, 1986 Legislative Agenda for an Aging Society, 1988 and Beyond ,1988 Housing Decisions for the Elderly Leon A Pastalan, 1995-09-25

Because many elderly wish to age in place they typically give little thought to the future of their housing options Housing Decisions for the Elderly articulates the relevant issues regarding the diversity and complexity of housing decisions in terms of moving or not moving To move or not to move is really part of the aging in place debate In this guidebook the authors deal with such issues as changes in economic income and stances changes in household composition and health and the psychosocial and metaphysical significance of house This treatment of housing decisions regarding aging in place serves to assist professionals and laypersons to help the elderly make more informed choices and to plan better for the future Housing Decisions for the Elderly reminds those who work with elderly persons community organization workers housing counselors and specialists home health care agencies and gerontologists that the proportion of persons living in family settings decreases with age so that the older the person the more likely he or she will be living alone or with nonrelatives in institutional or quasi institutional settings While changes in household composition typically occur at one or more points in the aging process such as death of spouse incapacitating illness or loss of income other housing issues to consider are addressed why socioeconomic determinants of housing decisions of elderly homeowners focuses primarily on housing characteristics owning vs renting length of housing tenure age and support from relatives how elderly housing assistance programs affect housing tenure deals with age as the single most important factor factors that influence pre retiree s propensity to move at retirement access to health care freedom from house maintenance and supportive services as the main determinants of moving to a continuing care retirement community Housing as Sustenance for an Aging Society Amy Marie Miller, 1993 Aging , Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 23, 2003 Hans-Werner Wahl, PhD, Rick Scheidt, PhD, Paul Windley, PhD, 2003-11-12 In this volume dedicated to M Powell Lawton the editors emphasize the need to create new bridges to connect research studies focusing on objective physical environments and other studies mainly addressing subjective person environment components Thus the major goal of this volume is to provide and stimulate multi directional bridge building from the perspectives of multidisciplinary contributors Comprehensively addressed subjects include Aging in Context Across the Adult Life The General Ecological Model Revisited The Fit Between Older People and Their Environments Domestic Arrangements The Impact of Population Migration Interior Environments Residential Satisfaction Technology Based Products Selected Resources on Aging Billie H. Frazier, 1990 Planning for an Aging Society Deborah A. Howe, Nancy J. Chapman, Sharon Baggett, 1994 The demographics of the United States are gradually changing Americans are living longer and having fewer children By the year 2030 more than 20 percent of the population will be age 65 or older As a result society faces a newly pressing need for elder housing This report explains the physical and psychological needs of the elderly The authors give an overview of the processes that affect perception and ability as we age They then move to the wants and needs of the elderly most notably the desire to remain in their own homes or neighborhoods Strategies such as elder cottages accessory apartments and innovative financial plans are presented as ways for seniors to both remain independent and enjoy a high standard of living Sections on manufactured housing site planning transit and the fiscal impact of high concentrations of elderly persons complete the discussion A great overview of possible options on a topic that every planner should be considering Understanding Old Age Gail Wilson,2000-02-28

Providing a comprehensive overview of issues of ageing from a global perspective this ambitious text introduces the reader to a wide range of issues and policies on ageing Topics examined include theoretical perspectives on ageing in society demographic trends roles played by older people as political actors migration health pensions family and institutional care and elder abuse This will be an essential text for students of social gerontology as well as an invaluable resource for students of nursing social work social policy and development studies Special Reference Briefs ,1983 Issues in Aging Mark Novak,2015-07-22

Opportunities and optimism in Aging Issues in Aging 3rd edition takes an optimistic view of aging and human potential in later life This book presents the most up to date facts on aging today the issues raised by these facts and the societal and individual responses that will create a successful old age for us all Mark Novak presents the full picture of aging exhibiting both the problems and the opportunities that accompany older age The text illustrates how generations are dependent on one another and how social conditions affect both the individual and social institutions Learning Goals Upon completing this book readers will be able to Understand how large scale social issues social attitudes the study of aging and demographic issues affect individuals and social institutions Identify the political responses to aging and how individuals can create a better old age for themselves and the people they know Separate the myths from the realities of aging Recognize the human side of aging Trace the transformation of pension plans health and opportunities for personal expression and social engagement to the new ecology of aging today The Columbia Retirement Handbook Abraham Monk,2010-06-01

The Columbia Retirement Handbook Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Environmental Practice in the Human Services Bernard Neugeboren,2013-01-11

Environmental Practice in the Human Services points to the need for the human services to return to their historic mission of environmental change It moves beyond the more general conceptual emphasis on person in environment toward the development of an environmental practice technology based on an intervention model which prescribes specific micro and macro roles and functions It may open the way to recapturing the conceptual breadth which characterized the first 40 years of social work as a professional and occupational entity The ecological perspective in social work has fostered an interest in the impact of social environments on service consumers Environmental Practice in the Human Services tries to rectify the historical imbalance in the human services that has emphasized people changing methods giving secondary emphasis to environmental change It instructs students preparing for practice in the human services as well as agency practitioners in the knowledge and skills necessary in environmental practice Cases in environmental practice are used to illustrate how these skills are utilized in actual practice situations The book s scope includes practice at the direct service administration planning and social policy levels it integrates micro and macro practice and shows how these two levels of practice are interdependent This enables human service practitioners to create and or modify social environments to enhance the functioning of clients being served in human service programs Topics covered include important skills in environmental practice including decisionmaking negotiating and leadership community practice and resource coordination social support the impact of organizational environments on practice environmental practice for the chronically disabled Author Neugeboren s approach is unique in its in depth focus on environmental practice applying concepts of social environment to specific practice roles This practice specific content which provides tools needed for environmental practice is in contrast to existing texts on the social environment which are very theoretical and not integrated with practice He includes material from the field of social ecology which has not been included in existing texts It shows how practitioners and administrators planners and policymakers can facilitate and support each other s work Reading Environmental Practice in the Human Services will enlighten students and practitioners with specific skills for impacting on different social environments to enhance client benefit It tells how a direct service practitioner can determine which organizational environments are suitable for particular client needs in making agency referrals It also provides administrators with information about designing planning and managing agencies with functional organizational environments which achieve effective services

Handbook on Aging and Place Malcolm Cutchin, Graham D. Rowles, 2024-04-12 Moving away from studies of aging in place this forward looking Handbook focuses on aging and place offering a broader scope and more nuanced complex and enlightening understanding of these two intertwined universals of human experience Not only examining the latest literature the chapters also challenge current thinking on the many intersections opportunities and issues around place and aging that need to be addressed through policy and practice

Caring for the Disabled Elderly Alice M. Rivlin, Joshua M. Wiener, 2001-06-29 Caring for the Disabled Elderly analyzes the major options for reforming the way long term care is financed It first explores the potential market for private long term care insurance and other private sector initiatives Then it turns to the advantages and disadvantages of various public sector programs The study recommends both a greatly expanded role for the private sector in financing long term care and a new public insurance program
