Hound And The Hawk:

The Hound and the Hawk John Cummins,1988      The Art of Medieval Hunting John G. Cummins,2003 The gentlemen of medieval and Renaissance Europe had three all consuming passions warfare courtly love and hunting with a hawk or hound and the philosophy behind the last of the trio really encompasses them all Hunting the sport of kings served as training for battle a rite of manhood and a powerful ritualistic pastime In vivid and engrossing detail here are all the appropriate methods for hunting deer boar wolves foxes bears otters birds hares even unicorns A dazzling diversity of sources poems ballads letters court directives royal accounts gamekeepers handbooks psalters illustrate how hunting and hawking appear throughout medieval art and literature as metaphors and motifs for everything from romance to combat

The Beast Within Joyce E. Salisbury,2022-03-09 The third edition of The Beast Within has been updated throughout to include current scholarship new discussion of definitions and fresh perspectives on critical animal theory that places animals rather than humans at the center of the discourse Organized thematically Salisbury incorporates many new sections and subsections to reveal the multifaceted history of the relationship between humans and animals domestication animal diseases and pandemics dogfights cockfights Islamic dietary restrictions menageries and zoos and animals as entertainers To show how modern concerns have been informed by medieval precedents sections have been expanded to uncover medieval understandings of animal sexuality animals before the law and vegetarianism and modern fake meat The logical narrative concludes with chapters on Animals as Humans and Humans as Animals demonstrating that the lines between humans and animals have become increasingly blurred from the fourth to the twenty first century With an interdisciplinary approach that discusses humans and animals in relation to domestication symbolism science law religion food and diet sexuality and entertainment The Beast Within is an essential resource for all students of animal history literature and art in the Middle Ages

RED CATHEDRAL K. CLOPTON,2024      Pleasure and Leisure in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen,2019-08-05 Jan Huizinga and Roger Caillois have already taught us to realize how important games and play have been for pre modern civilization Recent research has begun to acknowledge the fundamental importance of these aspects in cultural religious philosophical and literary terms This volume expands on the traditional approach still very much focused on the materiality of game toys cards dice falcons dolls etc and acknowledges that game constituted also a form of coming to terms with human existence in an unstable and volatile world determined by universal randomness and fortune Whether considering blessings or horse fighting falconry or card games playing with dice or dolls we can gain a much deeper understanding of medieval and early modern society when we consider how people pursued pleasure and how they structured their leisure time The contributions examine a wide gamut of approaches to pleasure considering health issues eroticism tournaments playing music reading and listening drinking alcohol gambling and throwing dice This large issue was also relevant of course in non Christian societies and constitutes a critical concern both for the past and the present because we are all homines ludentes      Vanity Fair ,1915      The English and Scottish Popular Ballads Francis James Child,1892      The Wit and Humour of the Persians Mehrjibhai Noshervanji Kuka,1894      The Bayeux Tapestry Gale R. Owen-Crocker,2023-05-31 This collection of fifteen papers ranges from the author's initial interest in the Tapestry as a source of information on early medieval dress through to her startling recognition of the embroidery's sophisticated narrative structure. Developing the work of previous authors who had identified graphic models for some of the images she argues that not just the images themselves but the contexts from which they were drawn should be taken in to account in reading the messages of the Tapestry. In further investigating the minds and hands behind this the largest non architectural artefact surviving from the Middle Ages she ranges over the seams the embroidery stitches the language and artistry of the inscription the potential significance of borders and the gestures of the figures in the main register always scrutinising detail informatively. She identifies an overriding conception and house style in the Tapestry but also sees different hands at work in both needlecraft and graphics. Most intriguingly she recognises a sub contractor with a Roman source and a clownish wit. The author is Professor of Anglo Saxon Culture at The University of Manchester UK a specialist in Old English poetry Anglo Saxon material culture and medieval dress and textiles      The Gentleman's Magazine ,1879      "The" English and Scottish Popular Ballads Child,1892      Musical Times and Singing Class Circular ,1899      The Musical Times and Singing-class Circular ,1899      The Dog Book James Watson,1905      The dog book. A popular history of the dog James Watson,1906      The Master of Game: The Oldest English Book on Hunting Of Norwich Edward, Count of Foix Gaston III Phoebus,2023-10-21 The Master of Game The Oldest English Book on Hunting stands as a seminal anthology in the annals of English literature offering readers a profound glimpse into the medieval ethos of hunting nature and the chivalric code. This collection boasts an exquisite range of literary styles from the didactic to the vividly descriptive showcasing the era's intricate relationship between man and the natural world. Its pieces rooted in the extensive traditions of European hunting literature reveal the diversity and depth of medieval thought on fauna conservation and the moral dimensions of hunting making significant contributions to our understanding of medieval cultural and environmental history. The anthology derives its richness from the contributions of Edward of Norwich and Gaston III Phoebus Count of Foix both renowned figures in their respective domains. Edward an avid hunter and scholar and Gaston a celebrated figure in the discourse of pre modern hunting literature bring together a spectrum of perspectives that are as educative as they are enthralling. Their collective work situated within the broader currents of medieval literary and societal movements emphasizes the multifaceted ways in which hunting was intertwined with social identity ethical considerations and the feudal economy enriching our knowledge of medieval life and its reflections in literature. This anthology is a must read for those keen on exploring the confluence of literature history and environmental studies within the medieval context. It offers not just an entertaining read but a scholarly gateway into understanding the nuanced relationships between humans and their environment in historical settings. For students historians and literary enthusiasts alike The Master of Game presents an unparalleled opportunity to dive into a world where literature serves as a mirror to the complexities of human nature interactions seen through the lens of hunting the sport of kings a significant element of medieval culture and literature      Representing Scotland in Literature, Popular Culture and Iconography A. Riach, 2004-12-10 This fascinating new study is about cultural change and continuities At the core of the book are discrete literary studies of Scotland and Shakespeare Walter Scott R L Stevenson Arthur Conan Doyle the modern Scottish Renaissance of the 1920s and more recent cultural and literary phenomena The central theme of literature and popular representation recontextualises literary analysis in a broader multi faceted picture involving all the arts and the changing sense of what the popular might be in a modern nation New technologies alter forms of cultural production and the book charts a way through these forms from oral poetry and song to the novel and includes studies of paintings classical music socialist drama TV film and comic books The international context for mass media cultural production is examined as the story of the intrinsic curiosity of the imagination and the intensely local aspect of Scotland s cultural self representation unfolds      The Hedaya, Or Guide 'Alī ibn Abī Bakr Marghīnānī, 1870      The Apple and the Spectroscope (Routledge Revivals) T Henn, 2013-10-14 First published in 1951 this book is based on a course of lectures on poetry and prose given at Cambridge University during the long vacations of 1946 1950 A request for lectures of this kind came originally from a group of science students and the response was such that a course of this nature ran yearly The purpose was to provide students from disciplines other than the humanities with the opportunity to feed their interest in English poetry and literature      Shadowlands Violette Malan, 2013-08-06 Stormwolf a former Hound who has been restored to his rightful state as a Rider scours the Shadowlands for members of a rogue Hound tribe who are draining humans of their souls
