In Search of Colchester's Past Philip Crummy,1979      In Search of Colchester's Past Philip Crummy,1984      Pinning Down the Past Mike Corbishley,2014-04-17 In a relatively short period of time the pursuit of archaeology has evolved from an antiquarian interest to a specialised scientific activity Part of this evolution has always included the interest of the public and archaeologists efforts to educate them As each new method and technique is developed and each new specialism is created the challenge of making archaeology available as a learning resource grows with it Today for example the issues which surround archaeology and heritage such as the pressures of tourism on sites now form part of many formal educational curricula This book the first to deal with the subject in such depth examines the place of education and outreach within the wider archaeological community Written by one of Britain s leading archaeological educationalists it charts the sometimes difficult and painful growth and development of education and archaeology Packed full of informative and enlightening case studies from the circus at Colchester to Sutton Hoo and Hadrian s Wall this work examines exactly how we have reached the point we are at where that place is and suggests areas for future development By drawing upon many decades of experience at the front line of archaeological education the author has produced a key text that will play a major role in the on going development of the heritage industry Publisher s website      The History and Description of Colchester Benjamin Strutt,1803

Colchester in the Great War Andrew Phillips,2017-01-31 Few towns equalled Colchester in their role in the Great War In this expert account Colchester historian Andrew Phillips records four of the most dramatic years in the towns history As Headquarters of Eastern Region Colchesters garrison supplied many of the men who prevented the early defeat of France The town then became a training area for at least 100 000 recruits While training guns on the Western Front could often be heard At times Colchesters civilian population of 40 000 was equalled by 40 000 troops who often billeted with local families or housed in large tent cities which then became hut cities With 20 000 troops to feed on average long food queues became a daily experience until rationing was introduced and soon thousands of requisitioned horses trucks artillery pieces and munitions were also assembled in the town As the war took its deadly toll Colchester became one vast hospital as the wounded arrived by train An enlarged garrison hospital an enlarged civilian hospital and six Red Cross Hospitals nursed at least 110 000 men Colchester women made huge quantities of bandages splints and gowns to alleviate the suffering of the war wounded Colchester factories produced uniforms guns shells mines compressors and engines Paxmans the largest firm of the town produced a staggering 20 million precision machined parts Over 10 per cent of Colchesters adult men died in the conflict the highest in eastern England and twice the national average Small wonder the town built one of the finest civic war memorials in England

The diary and correspondance of ---, Lord Colchester, speaker of the House of Commons 1802-1817 Charles ABBOT,1861 Colchester, Fortress of the War God David Radford,Adrian Gascoyne,2013-07-19 This volume is a critical assessment of the current state of archaeological knowledge of the settlement originally called Camulodunon and now known as Colchester The town has been the subject of antiquarian interest since the late 16th century and the first modern archaeological excavations occurred in 1845 close to Colchester Castle the towns most prominent historic site The earliest significant human occupation recorded from Colchester dates to the late Neolithic but it was only towards the end of the 1st century BC that an oppidum was established in the area This was superseded initially by a Roman legionary fortress and then the colonia of Camulodunum on a hilltop bounded on the north and east by the river Colne There is little evidence for continuing occupation here in the early post Roman period but in 917 the town was re established as a burgh and gradually grew in importance After the Norman Conquest a castle was built on the foundations of the ruined Roman Temple of Claudius and a priory and an abbey were established just to the south of the walled town Although the town as elsewhere was affected by the Dissolution of the Monasteries and the English Civil War it remained essentially medieval in character until the 18th century During the 19th century this process of change was accelerated by the arrival of the railway industrialisation and the establishment of the military garrison Since the 1960s Colchester has been subject to recurring phases of re development the most recent having ended only in 2007 which have had a significant impact on the historic environment Fortunately the town is one of the best studied in the country     Animal Bones from Excavations in Colchester, 1971-85 Rosemary-Margaret Luff,Don R. Brothwell,1993     The Gardens at Colchester Royal Grammar School Trevor Hearn,2014-07 This book follows the journey of the development of the gardens at Colchester Royal Grammar School from 1853 when the school moved to its present site in Lexden Road to the beautiful landscaped grounds of today It explores the transformations that have taken place and describes some of the evocative plants to be found within the gardens
