Phillip A. Laplante

In The Age Of The Smart Machine:

In the Age of the Smart Machine Shoshana Zuboff, 1988 A Harvard social scientist documents the pitfalls and promise of computerized technology in business life warning that advanced information technologies present us with a fateful choice to continue automation at the risk of robbing workers of gratification and self image or to informate and empower ordinary working people to make critical and collaborative judgments

In the Age of the Smart Machine Shoshana Zuboff, 1989 A Harvard social scientist documents the pitfalls and promise of computerized technology in business life warning that advanced information technologies present us with a fateful choice to continue automation at the risk of robbing workers of gratification and self image or to informate and empower ordinary working people to make critical and collaborative judgments

In the age of the smart machine Shoshana Zuboff, 1988 Human Work in the Age of Smart Machines Jamie Merisotis, 2020-10-06 A public policy leader addresses how artificial intelligence is transforming the future of labor and what we can do to protect the role of workers As computer technology advances with dizzying speed human workers face an ever increasing threat of obsolescence In Human Work In the Age of Smart Machines Jamie Merisotis argues that we can and must rise to this challenge by preparing to work alongside smart machines doing that which only humans can thinking critically reasoning ethically interacting interpersonally and serving others with empathy The president and CEO of Lumina Foundation Merisotis offers a roadmap for the large scale radical changes we must make in order to find abundant and meaningful work for ourselves in the 21st century His vision centers on developing our unique capabilities as humans through learning opportunities that deliver fair results and offer a broad range of credentials By challenging long held assumptions and expanding our concept of work Merisotis argues that we can harness the population's potential encourage a deeper sense of community and erase a centuries long system of inequality

Values and Indigenous Psychology in the Age of the Machine and Market Alvin Dueck, Louise Sundararajan, 2024-08-07 This interdisciplinary edited collection addresses issues at the intersection of indigenous psychology market ideology values and technology The aims of this book arise from the recognition that whereas the unfolding of the agricultural revolution over thousands of years allowed for the gradual co evolution of values and technology to blossom the post industrial technological revolution is so accelerated that there has been little time for the co evolution of values To address this the chapters collected here seek to initiate a conversation that will provide the conceptual space for the evolution of values that can keep pace with contemporary developments in the machine and the market In this conversation they argue indigenous psychologies will necessarily play a central role for two reasons firstly as alternative systems of thought they enable a productive interrogation of the rationality of machine and the market and second examples of the impact of technology and the market on traditional societies hold lessons for potential future impacts on the society as a whole This timely work offers fresh insights that will appeal to students and scholars of psychology cultural and religious studies anthropology business and economics and science and technology studies

Nudging Riccardo Viale, 2022-10-04 How nudges by government can empower citizens without manipulating their preferences or exploiting their biases We re all familiar with the idea of nudging using behavioral mechanisms to encourage people to make certain choices popularized by Richard Thaler and Cass Sunstein in their bestselling 2008 book Nudge This approach also known as libertarian paternalism goes beyond typical programs that simply provide information and incentives nudges can range from automatic enrollment in a pension plan to flu shot scheduling In Nudging Riccardo Viale explores the evolution of nudging and proposes new approaches that would empower citizens without manipulating them paternalistically He shows that we can use the tools of the behavioral sciences without abandoning the principle of conscious decision making Viale discusses the work of Herbert Simon Gerd Gigerenzer Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky that laid the foundation of behavioral economics describes how policy makers have sought to help people avoid bad decisions offers examples of effective nudging and considers how to nudge the nudgers How can we tell good nudges from bad nudges Viale explains that good nudges help us avoid bias and encourage deliberate decision making bad nudges on the other hand use bias to nudge people unconsciously into unintentional behaviors Bad nudges attempt to compel decisions based on economic rationality Good nudges encourage decisions based on a pragmatic adaptive ecological kind of rationality Policy makers should take note
