Moro, 2024-02-19 Construction is the means by which designing architects and engineers transform a design idea into built reality It is from this perspective that the subject of building construction design is dealt with by the architect Jos Luis Moro in three comprehensive volumes Each is dedicated to the methodological physical and functional fundamentals the conception of a constructional solution and finally its implementation in the constructional detail Not only do the three volumes provide extensive content they also ensure the greatest possible clarity in the text and graphics in order to make it easier for learners to access the material Importantly they focus not only on conveying technical and scientific information but also on demonstrating the complex relationships and interactions between design material and construction Great importance was attached to developing consistent overarching and meaningful correlations between the numerous and highly diverse topics covered After an introduction to planning theory topics Volume 1 Fundamentals addresses sustainability issues in the context of constructional design This is followed by a discussion of the most important material related considerations and their consequences for the constructional application of the materials The range of currently available industrial building products is also presented Furthermore the essential requirements and functions that building structures must fulfill from a structural building physics building acoustics and fire protection perspective are examined In closing the book considers questions of durability Place/No-Place in Urban Asian Religiosity Joanne Punzo Waghorne,2016-07-15 This book discusses Asia's rapid pace of urbanization with a particular focus on new spaces created by and for everyday religiosity The essays in this volume covering topics from the global metropolises of Singapore Bangalore Seoul Beijing and Hong Kong to the regional centers of Gwalior Pune Jaipur and sites like Wudang Mountain examine in detail the spaces created by new or changing religious organizations that range in scope from neighborhood based to consciously global The definition of spatial aspects includes direct place making projects such as the construction of new religious buildings temples halls and other meeting sites as well as less tangible religious endeavors such as the production of new mental spaces urged by spiritual leaders or the shift from terra firma to the strangely concrete effervesce of cyberspace With this in mind it explores how distinct and blurred and open and bounded communities generate and participate in diverse practices as they deliberately engage or disengage with physical landscapes cityscapes It highlights how through these religious organizations changing class and gender configurations ongoing political and economic transformations continue as significant factors shaping and affecting Asian urban lives In addition the book goes further by exploring new and often bittersweet improvements like metro rail lines new national highways widespread internet access that bulldoze both literally and figuratively religious places and force relocations and adjustments that are often innovative and unexpected Furthermore this volume explores personal experiences within the particularities of selected religious organizations and the ways that subjects interpret or actively construct urban spaces The essays show through ethnographically and historically grounded case studies the variety of ways newly emerging religious communities or religious institutions understand value interact with or strive to ignore extreme urbanization and rapidly changing built environments The Culture of Building Howard Davis,2006-05-12 The Culture of Building describes how the built world including the vast number of buildings that are the settings for people's everyday lives is the product of building cultures complex systems of people relationships building types techniques and habits in which design and building are anchored These cultures include builders bankers architects developers clients contractors craftspeople building inspectors planners and many others The product of these cultures which operate building after building is the built world of cities and settlements In this book Howard Davis uses historical contemporary and cross cultural examples to describe the nature and influence of these cultures He shows how building cultures reflect the general cultures in which they exist how they have changed over history how they affect the form of buildings and cities and how present building cultures which are responsible for the contemporary everyday environments may be improved Following the development of the idea of building cultures using several historical examples the book lays out a framework that puts such topics as craft and professionalism the vernacular and nonvernacular and design and construction in common frameworks Although the book ranges widely over different cultures and historical periods it emphasizes the transformations that took place in architecture and building practice from the late eighteenth century to the present Finally the book uses a series of contemporary examples that demonstrate the building culture as a living concept These examples which include built work as well as innovative processes that go beyond the work of architects alone are described as the seeds that can help the emergence of a better build world This beautiful book features over 260 color and black and white illustrations most from the authors extensive collection of slides and includes photographs prints and drawings from historical archives and contemporary architectural offices

Paestum. From building site to temple Gabriel

Zuchtriegel, 2021-02-09T00:00:00+01:00 There were numerous divine dwellings at Paestum just as there were in other Greek cities around the Mediterranean The Temple of Neptune is simply the most well preserved example Next to it stands the Basilica the oldest of the three great Doric buildings at Paestum c 560-520 BC Further north beyond the Roman forum which stands on the area previously occupied by the ancient agora a marketplace and a square where assemblies and other meetings were held in the Greek period a small hill is crowned by the temple of Athena the only one for which the identity of the deity worshipped there is definitely known Gabriel Zuchtriegel A masterful rigorous and accessible guide updated to the latest archaeological discoveries of the best preserved and enhanced archaeological site of Magna Graecia
