In The Great Meadow:

The Great Meadow Brian Donahue, 2004-01-01 Employing precise geographical information system GIS mapping of land ownership and land use Donahue describes how the land was settled and how mixed husbandry was developed in Concord By reconstructing several farm neighborhoods and following them through many generations he reveals a diverse sustainable farming system of tillage orchards pastures hay meadows and woodlots that required careful management of soil and water Donahue concludes that ecological degradation came to Concord only later when nineteenth century economic and social forces undercut the environmental balance that earlier colonial farmers had nurtured BOOK JACKET Colonial America on Film and Television Bertil O. Österberg, 2018-01-16 The early history of American settlement pioneering and independence is marked by fascinating characters and events often shrouded in legend Filmmakers have sought to capture these characters as diverse as Daniel Boone Francis Marion and Pocahontas and events as disparate as the Lost Colony the Boston Tea Party and the French and Indian War This comprehensive filmography provides production information and commentary on all films and television episodes set during the years between the first settlements in the future United States and the fledgling country's War of 1812 with Britain Films are arranged alphabetically and a detailed introduction provides a thorough overview of the period with references to films chronicling specific events History of Hadley Sylvester

New York District, 1978 Coxsackie Joseph F. Spillane, 2014-06-15 How progressive good intentions failed at Coxsackie once a model New York State prison for youth offenders Should prisons attempt reform and uplift inmates or by means of principled punishment deter them from further wrongdoing This debate has raged in Western Europe and in the United States at least since the late eighteenth century Joseph F Spillane examines the failure of progressive reform in New York State by focusing on Coxsackie a New Deal reformatory built for young male offenders Opened in 1935 to serve adolescents adrift Coxsackie instead became an unstable and brutalizing prison From the start the liberal impulse underpinning the prison's mission was overwhelmed by challenges it was unequipped or unwilling to face drugs gangs and racial conflict Spillane draws on detailed prison records to reconstruct a life behind bars in which ungovernable young men posed constant challenges to racial and cultural order The New Deal order of the prison was unstable from the start the politics of punishment quickly became the politics of race and social exclusion and efforts to save liberal reform in postwar New York only deepened its failures In 1977 inmates took hostages to focus attention on their grievances The result was stricter discipline and an end to any pretense that Coxsackie was a reform institution Why did the prison fail For answers Spillane immerses readers in the changing culture and racial makeup of the U S prison system and borrows from studies of colonial prisons which emblemized efforts by an exploitative regime to impose cultural and racial restraint on others In today s era of mass incarceration prisons have become conflict ridden warehouses and powerful symbols of racism and inequality This account challenges the conventional wisdom that America s prison crisis is of comparatively recent vintage showing instead how a racial and punitive system of control emerged from the ashes of a progressive ideal
