M. Ballantyne, 2018-02 Excerpt from In the Track of the Troops A Tale of Modern War Jeffry Childers the hero and narrator of this tale was introduced to me by Mr Brain a friend Who in the course of a pretty long acquaintance has favoured me With numerous introductions to people of varied character good bad and in different Mr Childers was so importunate and urged me With so much fervour to supervise his work to point his moral and adorn his tale that I consented to do so on the distinct understanding that I should be entitled to verify all his facts modify his sentences reverse his objectionable judgments and exclude everything that should in any degree savour of exaggeration The intelligent reader will thus easily understand the relation that subsists between Jeffry Childers and myself About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction

In the Track of the Troops Robert Michael Ballantyne,2020-05-12 The remarkable I might even say amazing personal adventures which I am about to relate occurred quite recently They are so full of interest to myself and to my old mother that I hasten to write them down while yet vivid and fresh in my memory in the hope that they may prove interesting to say nothing of elevating and instructive to the English speaking portions of the human race throughout the world The dear old lady to whom I have just referred my mother is one of the gentlest meekest tenderest beings of my acquaintance Her regard for me is almost idolatrous My feelings towards her are tinged with adoration From my earliest years I have been addicted to analysis Some of my younger readers may not perhaps know that by analysis is meant the reduction of compound things to their elements the turning of things as it were inside out and tearing them to pieces All the complex toys of infancy I was wont to reduce to their elements I turned them inside out to see what they were made of and how they worked A doll not my own but my sister Bella s which had moveable eyelids and a musical stomach was treated by me in this manner the result being that I learned little while my poor sister suffered much Everything in my father s house suffered more or less from this inquiring tendency of my mind In the Track of the Troops Robert Michael Ballantyne, James Nisbet, T and a Constable, 2015-02-19 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant In the Track of the Troops R.
