Italian Neighbours

Virginia Moschella

Italian Neighbours:

Italian Neighbors Tim Parks, 2003 In this seductive account of an Italian neighborhood with a statue of the Virgin at one end of the street a derelict bottle factory at the other and a wealth of exotic flora and fauna in between novelist Tim Parks celebrates ten years of living with his wife in Verona Italy More than a travel book this is a tale of how the most curious people and places gradually assume the familiarity of home a work that manages to be both a portrait and an invitation for everyone who has ever dreamed about Italy From publisher description

Growing up Italian Australian Virginia Moschella, 2014-01-28 Growing Up Italian Australian is a collection of funny tales that has no qualms about parodying my Nonni my childhood Sicilian morals and archaic Sicilian traditions in contemporary Australian society These comical parodies are dedicated to my Nonna who turned ninety and to the memory of my Nonno

Crime Scenes, 2021-11-01 The essays in this collection are based on papers given at a conference on detective fiction in European culture held at the University of Exeter in September 1997 The range of topics covered is designed to show not only the presence and variety of narratives of detection across different European countries and their different media although there is a predictable emphasis on the novel It also illustrates the fertility of the genre its openness to a spectrum of readings with different emphases formal as well as thematic Approaches to detective fiction have often tended to confine them selves to symptomatic interpretation where details of the fictional world represented are used to diagnose a specific set of social preoccupations and priorities operative at the time of writing Such approaches can yield valuable insights Nonetheless there is a risk of limiting the value of the genre as a whole solely to its role as a mirror held up to society In this perspective issues of structure and style are sidelined or if addressed are praised to the extent that they approach invisibility concision sparseness realism are the qualities singled out for praise The genre also gives much scope for formal innovation and indeed has often attracted already established mainstream writers and filmmakers for just this reason The eclectic diversity of the detective narratives considered in this volume reveal the malleability of the traditional constraints of the genre The essays bear rich testimony to the value of considering the interplay of thematic and structural issues even in the most apparently unselfconscious and popular or populist forms of narrative The patterns of reassurance the triumph of intellect and the ordered rational world of old are now challenged by the need to foreground the problems ambiguities and uncertainties of the self and of society The plurality of meanings and the antithetical imperatives explored in these detective narratives confirm that the most recent forms of the genre are not mere palimpsests of their golden age precursors The subversion of traditional expectations and the implementation of diverse stylistic devices take the genre beyond mere homage and pastiche The role of the reader spectator and critic in conferring meaning is a crucial one

Border Crossings Peter Wagstaff, 2004 European Connections Studies in Comparative Literature Intermediality and Aesthetics is a peer reviewed series that focuses on the literary and artistic relations that shape European cultures It also wishes to explore relations with non European cultures with a view to fostering more equitable models of cultural exchange and transfer Neighbours of Passage Fabrice Langrognet, 2022-03-03 The book is a sociocultural microhistory of migrants From the 1880s to the 1930s it traces the lives of the occupants of a housing complex located just north of the French capital in the heart of the Plaine Saint Denis Starting in the 1870s that industrial suburb became a magnet for working class migrants of diverse origins from within France and abroad The author examines how the inhabitants of that particular place identified themselves and others The study looks at the role played in the construction of social difference by interpersonal contacts institutional interactions and migration The objective of the book is to carry out an original experiment applying microhistorical methods to the history of modern migrations Beyond its own material history the tenement is an observation point it was deliberately selected for its high degree of demographic diversity which contrasts with the typical objects of the traditional ethnicity based scholarship on migration The micro lens allows for the reconstruction of the itineraries interactions and representations of the tenement s occupants in both their singularity and their structural context Through its many individual stories the book restores a degree of complexity that is often overlooked by historical accounts at broader levels Transnational Writing on Italy Lynn Mastellotto, 2025-03-18 Relocation narratives form a distinct subgenre of contemporary travel memoirs concerned with the experiences of travellers who become settlers in foreign locales and narrate their experience of cultural accommodation in serial autobiographical accounts This book seeks to understand the discourse of identity alterity in relocation writing which focuses on the topos of everyday life from a transnational perspective one which embraces a cosmopolitan orientation of openness to cultural difference Focusing on three transnational writers in Italy and their respective relocation trilogies Frances Mayes s Tuscan memoirs Annie Hawes s Ligurian memoirs and Tim Parks s Verona memoirs the study examines the sustained engagement with place and place based practices given narrative voice through multipart works which trace the authors migrating identities These nonfiction accounts contribute to a broader polyphonic literature in which transnational writers give voice to personal stories shaped by intercultural experiences which provide a powerful localised lens to examine how identities are dialogically transformed through contact with difference in a globalised world By giving readers an opportunity to reflect on identity and diversity in local global contexts transnational literature contributes to a better understanding of cultural change in late modernity and provides an important space for critical creative and transcultural exchange "Do You Consider Yourself a Postmodern Author?" Rudolf Freiburg, 1999 This book presents a collection of twelve interviews with eminent English contemporary writers held during a period of four years The book allows an illuminating insight into a very lively and thought provoking literary culture stirred not only by recent ideas of postmodernism but also by the manifold issues of nationality culture and gender subjected to permanent redefinitions towards the end of the twentieth century The interviews with Peter Ackroyd John Banville Julian Barnes Alain de Botton Maureen Duffy Tibor Fischer John Fowles Romesh Gunasekera Tim Parks Terry Pratchett Jane Rogers and Adam Thorpe cover topics such as the relationship between writer and public the role of the literary tradition the relevance of contemporary literary theory for the production of literature images of nationality intertextuality changes in the attitude towards language and meaning and the reception of literary texts by critical reviewers and literary critics Understanding Tim Parks Gillian Fenwick, 2003 Fenwick reckons with Parks's full literary range from his novels and nonfiction books to his translations and journalism and sheds light on the work of a versatile English writer whose international recognition is steadily growing BOOK JACKET

Performing National Identity, 2008-01-01 National identity is not some naturally given or metaphysically sanctioned racial or territorial essence that only needs to be conceptualised or spelt out in discursive texts it emerges from takes shape in and is constantly defined and redefined in individual and collective performances It is in performances ranging from the scenarios of everyday interactions to cultural performances such as pageants festivals political manifestations or sports to the artistic performances of music dance theatre literature the visual and culinary arts and more recent media that cultural identity and a sense of nationhood are fashioned National identity is not an essence one is born with but something acquired in and through performances Particularly important here are intercultural performances and transactions and that not only in a colonial and postcolonial dimension where such performative aspects have already been considered but also in inner European transactions Englishness or Britishness and Italianity the subject of this anthology are staged both within each culture and more importantly in joint performances of difference across cultural borders Performing difference highlights differences that make a difference it draws a line between self and other boundary lines that are however constantly being redrawn and renegotiated and remain instable and shifting

The Rise of Rome Kathryn Lomas, 2018-02-26 By the third century BC the once modest settlement of Rome had conquered most of Italy and was poised to build an empire throughout the Mediterranean basin What transformed a humble city into the preeminent power of the region In The Rise of Rome the historian and archaeologist Kathryn Lomas reconstructs the diplomatic ploys political stratagems and cultural exchanges whereby Rome established itself as a dominant player in a region already brimming with competitors The Latin world she argues was not so much subjugated by Rome as unified by it This new type of society that emerged from Rome's conquest and unification of Italy would serve as a political model for centuries to come Archaic Italy was home to a vast range of ethnic communities each with its own language and customs Some such as the Etruscans and later the Samnites were major rivals of Rome From the late Iron Age onward these groups interacted in increasingly dynamic ways within Italy and beyond expanding trade and influencing religion dress architecture weaponry and government throughout the region Rome manipulated preexisting social and political structures in the conquered territories with great care extending strategic invitations to citizenship and thereby allowing a degree of local independence while also fostering a sense of imperial belonging In the story of Rome's rise Lomas identifies nascent political structures that unified the empire's diverse populations and finds the beginnings of Italian peoplehood Such Hardworking People Franca Iacovetta, 1992-03-24 Iacovetta examines the changes many had to face during the transition from peasant worker in an under developed rural economy to wage earner in an urban industrial society Their experiences in Canada she reveals were shaped by class gender and ethnicity as well as familial responsibilities government policies and racism In addition to conducting numerous interviews Iacovetta has drawn on recent scholarship in immigration family labour studies oral history and women's history Although both women and men struggled and were exploited Iacovetta shows that they found innovative ways to recreate cherished rituals and customs from their homeland and managed to derive a sense of dignity and honour from the labours they performed A Bowl of Cherries Jules Legal, 2020-04-17 A Bowl of Cherries is a vivid personal account of Canada's early twentieth century history spanning from the late 1800s when Jules Legal's grandparents built a homestead in the harsh scrublands of Southeastern Manitoba to the author's own upbringing during the Great Depression the war years and beyond Set against the backdrop of an industrializing modernizing nation Jules shares his family's story describing with striking detail and emotional resonance the challenges his parents face as they struggle to raise their family through times of economic upheaval The bulk of the anecdotes take place between 1937 and 1953 as Jules follows the ever winding often hazardous river of life From the suburbs of St Catharines to the backwaters of rural Manitoba Jules describes the joys of boyhood friendships and how easily best buddies can lead each other astray He is also exposed to the religious politics of the time when the segregation between Catholics and Protestants in the school system leads to dramatic conflicts Jules navigates his way through the challenges of puberty and ongoing relocations as his family moves yet again in order to stay afloat in a still struggling economy While Jules strives to make his mark wherever his parents take him he forever maintains his curiosity and enthusiasm for life Throughout it all Jules is constantly reminded by his family by himself and by the titular song that life is just a bowl of cherries an experience to be embraced not taken too seriously and most importantly to be enjoyed German and Ladin South-Tyrol Hans von Voltelini, Emil von Ottenthal, 1919

This book examines the migration of Indians mainly from the Punjab region in north India to parts of northern Italy especially the Emilia Romagna region It analyzes the mobility patterns of migrants who occupy a niche in the labour market and unpacks the forward and backward linkages that migrants imagine experience and endure not only in the context of the materiality of livelihood opportunities and income generation in Italy but also through affect as potential immigrants and then as migrants in a territorial and imagined space The book unravels uncertainties and anxieties about identity among youth women and men through in depth interviews It also examines a reassertion of cultural tropes that portray identity in marked and vexed ways The book brings a mutual recognition and acceptance of diversity or its lack in a European nation It stands out for its nuanced ethnographic detail its attention to the voices of youth and women and exploration of their relationship with the host community The book therefore is a must read for everybody interested in a better understanding of migration and the culture of migration in different countries Insight Guides: Explore Dubrovnik Insight

Black Girls Sabrina Marchetti, 2014-06-26 In today's Europe migrant domestic workers are indispensable in supporting many households which without their employment would lack sufficient domestic and care labour Black Girls collects and explores the stories of some of the first among these workers They are the Afro Surinamese and the Eritrean women who in the 1960s and 70s migrated to the former colonising country the Netherlands and Italy respectively and there became domestic and care workers Sabrina Marchetti analyses the narratives of some of these women in order to powerfully demonstrate how the legacies of the colonial past have been at the same time both their tool of resistance and the reason for their subordination
