Literary Trails British Writers In Their Landscapes:

Literary Trails Christina Hardyment, 2000 Literary Trails Christina Hardyment, 2000 This volume traces the many literary associations of famous writers with locations in Great Britain Combined with descriptions of each place it shows how to get to each one using all types of transport The Literary Tourist N. Watson, 2006-10-10 This original witty illustrated study offers the first analytical history of the rise and development of literary tourism in nineteenth century Britain associated with authors from Shakespeare Gray Keats Burns and Scott the Bront sisters and Thomas Hardy Invaluable for the student of travel and literature of the nineteenth century The Routledge Handbook of Literature and Space Robert Tally Jr., 2017-01-06 The spatial turn in literary studies is transforming the way we think of the field The Routledge Handbook of Literature and Space maps the key areas of spatiality within literary studies offering a comprehensive overview but also pointing towards new and exciting directions of study The interdisciplinary and global approach provides a thorough introduction and includes thirty two essays on topics such as Spatial theory and practice Critical methodologies Work sites Cities and the geography of urban experience Maps territories readings The contributors to this volume demonstrate how a variety of romantic realist modernist and postmodernist narratives represent the changing social spaces of their world and of our own world system today Spirit of Place Susan Owens, 2020-09-15 Lyrical and compelling Spirit of Place examines the British landscape as it is portrayed in literature and art English landscape painting is often said to be an eighteenth century invention yet when we look for representations of the countryside in British art and literature we find a story that begins with Old English poetry and winds its way through history all the way up to the present day In Spirit of Place Susan Owens illuminates how the British landscape has been framed reimagined and reshaped by generations of creative thinkers To offer a panoramic view of the countryside throughout history Owens dives into the work of writers and artists from Bede and the Gawain Poet to Thomas Gainsborough Jane Austen J M W Turner and John Constable and from Paul Nash and Barbara Hepworth to Robert Macfarlane Richly illustrated including manuscript pages early maps paintings film stills and photographs Spirit of Place is a compelling narrative of how we have been shown the British landscape Writing Britain Christina Hardyment, 2012 Writing Britain celebrates some of the most dazzling treasures of English literature showcasing how Britain's greatest authors have been inspired by and have even redefined their country From Chaucer's pilgrims journeying from Southwark to Canterbury to the twenty first century suburban hinterlands of J G Ballard this book explores how the places and landscapes of Britain permeate the nation's great literary works and how these works have in turn helped shape our perception and understanding of landscape and place both real and imagined In addition to celebrating the traditional British landscape the book also examines the literary construction of the city following the mysterious fog filled streets that stretch from the London of Dickens and Robert Louis Stevenson's Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde to the urban underworlds revealed by contemporary writers such as Neil Gaiman and Iain Sinclair Featuring such diverse landscapes as Emily Brontë's wild and windy Yorkshire Moors Wordsworth's Lake District Elizabeth Gaskell's industrial northern towns the seaside turned nightmare of Bram Stoker's Dracula Graham Greene's seedy and menacing Brighton Virginia Woolf's Bond Street and Hanif Kureishi's suburbia Writing Britain describes and illustrates the work of over one hundred of the greatest British writers who have been inspired by place spanning the Middle Ages to the twenty first century

Places of the Imagination Stijn Reijnders, 2011 Places of the Imagination presents a timely and insightful analysis of the increasing popularity of media tourism within contemporary culture Drawing on extensive empirical and interview material this book examines the representation of landscapes in popular narratives that have inspired media tourism whilst also investigating the effects over time of such tourism on local landscapes and the processes by which tourists appropriate the landscape experiencing and accommodating them into their imagination Oriented around three central case studies of popular television detective shows famous films and classic literature Places of the Imagination develops a new theoretical understanding of media tourism

Homes and Haunts Alison Booth, 2016-09-09 This is the first full length study of literary tourism in North America as well as Britain and a unique exploration of popular response to writers literary house museums and the landscapes or countries associated with their lives and works An interdisciplinary study ranging from 1820 1940 Homes and Haunts Touring Writers Shrines and Countries unites museum and tourism studies book history narrative theory theories of gender space and things and other approaches to depict and interpret the haunting experiences of exhibited houses and the curious history of topo biographical writing about famous authors In illustrated chapters that blend Victorian and recent first person encounters that range from literary shrines and plaques to guidebooks memoirs portraits and monuments Alison Booth discusses pilgrims such as William and Mary Howitt Anna Maria and Samuel Hall and Elbert Hubbard and magnetic hosts and guests as Washington Irving Wordsworth Martineau Longfellow Hawthorne James and Dickens Virginia Woolf's feminist response to homes and haunts shapes a chapter on Mary Russell Mitford Gaskell and the Brontës and another on the Carlyles house and Monk's House Booth rediscovers collections of personalities haunted shrines and imaginative re enactments that have been submerged by a century of academic literary criticism

Travel, Writing and the Media Barbara Korte, Anna Karina Sennefelder, 2022-03-03 The nexus between travel writing and media in the contemporary world is dense travel practice is increasingly interwoven with media representations in old and new media are co present and converge Digitisation has had a profound impact on the practice and mediation of travel but this volume aims to show that travel and its representation have always been enlaced with media With contributions by experts in literary and cultural studies journalism studies and informatics the book takes a multi and interdisciplinary approach and covers a wide range of media from the hand crafted album to social media It illustrates how current transformations invite us to revisit earlier periods of travel writing and their media environments and to explore the ways in which contemporary forms of mediation are prefigured by earlier practices and forms The book addresses readers interested in travel writing travel

Liar's Landscape Malcolm Bradbury, 2011-06-01 What is written lives far longer than we do or so we would like to think From unfinished novel to unsent letters from prose to play from Macclesfield to the New Year's Honours List Liar's Landscape is evidence of the late great author's versatility wit and passion for the written word When Sir Malcolm Bradbury died in 2000 he left behind a lifetime's work some of it published and some of it not fiction and non fiction short stories and novels completed work work in progress work barely begun plans sketches notes titles Given shape and coherence by his son Dominic that work has now become Liar's Landscape a book about books about writing and writers about being a writer and of course about being Malcolm Bradbury Liar's Landscape is essential reading for all admirers of Malcolm Bradbury and for those who don't know his work an invaluable sampler of his worldly wise humour and satirical wit Tom Rosenthal Independent

On the Writer's Trail, 2002 Literary Trails published by the National Trust in 2000 is a richly illustrated entertaining and informative read It provides a fascinating insight into the lives of some of Britain's greatest writers by focusing on the places where they lived and the landscapes houses and gardens that inspired them The twenty themed trails cover a wide variety of locations throughout the British Isles from Hardy's Wessex Jane Austen's Hampshire and the Lake District of Coleridge and Wordsworth to the Cornish coastline running like a golden thread through the history of English literature the Arthurian romances of medieval times to the poetry of Tennyson and the novels of Virginia Woolf and Daphne du Maurier This handbook provides the reader with the best of both worlds a fund of background knowledge and insight into writers lives and work and a practical easy to follow guidebook Each trail is illustrated by color photographs and maps and contains detailed instructions for routes to follow The book also contains a comprehensive gazetteer of all National Trust properties with literary connections

YOCOCU 2014 Simone Cagno, Andrea Macchia, Fernanda Prestileo, 2016-02-29 This volume is a collection of contributions presented at the 4th YOCOCU Youth in Conservation of Cultural Heritage

Conference held in Agsu Azerbaijan in May 2014 The driving force behind YOCOCU 2014 was to transcend geographical boundaries and encourage every participant to define their contribution and role within the cultural heritage community The book starts by reflecting on the present politics strategies and methods of cultural heritage conservation and demonstrates new ideas and multidisciplinary approaches to conservation needs This is not only a creative and passionate examination of cultural heritage conservation but also examines how YOCOCU 2014 was and continues to be a vector for the development of young professionals a bridge between cultures and different levels of expertise

Contemporary Literary Landscapes

Daniel Weston, 2017-05-15 Writing landscapes inevitably occurs in dialogue with a long textual and pictorial tradition but first hand experience also provides key stimuli to many writers accounts This monograph employs a comparative lens to offer an intervention in debates between literary scholars who focus on genre and those cultural geographers who are concerned that self perpetuating literary tropes marginalize practical engagements Suggesting that representation and experience are not competing paradigms for landscape Daniel Weston argues that in the hands of contemporary writers they are complementary forces building composite articulations of place In five case studies Weston matches a writer to a mode of apprehending place W G Sebald with picturing Ciaran Carson with mapping Iain Sinclair with walking Robert Macfarlane with engaging Kathleen Jamie with noticing Drawing out a range of sites at which representation and experience interact Weston s argument is twofold first interaction between traditions of landscape writing and direct experience of landscapes are mutually influential and second writers increasingly deploy style form and descriptive aesthetics to recover the experience of place in the poetics of the text itself As Weston shows emergent landscape writing shuttles across generic boundaries reflecting the fact that the landscapes traversed are built out of a combination of real and imaginary sources
