Ecophysiology of Small Desert Mammals Allan A. Degen, 2012-12-06 Since small mammals have a large surface to mass ratio one would expect them to quickly dehydrate and perish at high environmental temperatures Nonetheless a large number of small mammal species inhabit deserts This fascinating phenomenon is investigated by Prof A Allan Degen in his book The majority of small desert mammals are rodents but shrews of several grams and small foxes of 1 kg are also present Their survival is due mainly to behavioural adaptations and habitat selection however physiological adaptations also contribute to the success Interestingly many small mammals that live in different deserts of the world show similarities in their adaptive traits although they have different taxonomic affinities History of the Australian Environment Movement Drew Hutton, Libby Connors, 1999-04-13 This book presents a history of the value of the Australian environment and the struggles to protect it Plant Explorations George H.
