Classical Myth in Four Films of Alfred Hitchcock Mark William Padilla, 2016-09-30 Classical Myth in Four Films of Alfred Hitchcock presents an original study of Alfred Hitchcock by considering how his classics informed London upbringing marks some of his films The Catholic and Irish English Hitchcock 1899 1980 was born to a mercantile family and attended a Jesuit college preparatory whose curriculum featured Latin and classical humanities An important expression of Edwardian culture at large was an appreciation for classical ideas texts images and myth Mark Padilla traces the ways that Hitchcock's films convey mythical themes patterns and symbols though they do not overtly reference them Hitchcock was a modernist who used myth in unconscious ways as he sought to tell effective stories in the film medium This book treats four representative films each from a different decade of his early career The first two movies were produced in London The Farmer's Wife 1928 and The Man Who Knew Too Much 1934 the second two in Hollywood Rebecca 1940 and Strangers on a Train 1951 In close readings of these movies Padilla discusses myths and literary texts such as the Judgment of Paris The Homeric Hymn to Demeter Aristophanes's Frogs Apuleius's tale Cupid and Psyche Homer's Odyssey and The Homeric Hymn to Hermes Additionally many Olympian deities and heroes have archetypal resonances in the films in question Padilla also presents a new reading of Hitchcock's circumstances as he entered film work in 1920 and theorizes why and how the films may be viewed as an expression of the classical tradition and of classical reception This new and important contribution to the field of classical reception in the cinema will be of great value to classicists film scholars and general readers interested in these topics
