In Search Of More Productive Schools:

In Search of More Productive Schools Lawrence O. Picus, 2001 In Search of More Effective Service Hendrik D. Gideonse, 1983 School and District Leadership in an Era of Accountability Bruce G. Barnett, Alan R. Shoho, Alex J. Bowers, 2013-09-01

Our fourth book in the International Research on School Leadership series focuses on school leadership in an era of high stakes accountability. Fueled by sweeping federal education accountability reforms such as the United States No Child Left Behind NCLB and Race to the Top R2T and Australia's Performance Measurement and Reporting Taskforce, school systems around the world are being forced to increase academic standards, participate in high stakes testing, and raise evaluation standards for teachers and principals. These results-driven reforms are intended to hold educators accountable for student learning and accountable to the public. Anderson 2005 p 2 emphasis in original. While policymakers and the public debate the merits of student achievement accountability measures, P-12 educational leaders do not have the luxury to wait for clear guidance and resources to improve their schools and operating systems. Instead, successful leaders must balance the need to create learning communities, manage the organizational climate, and encourage community involvement with the consequences testing has on teacher morale and public scrutiny. The chapters in this volume clearly indicate that as school leaders attend to these potentially competing forces, this affects their problem-solving strategies, ability to facilitate change, and encourage community involvement. We were delighted with the responses from colleagues around the world who were eager to share their research dealing with how leaders are functioning effectively within a high accountability environment. The nine chapters in this volume provide empirical evidence of the strategies school leaders use to cope with problems and negotiate external demands while improving student performance. In particular, the voices and actions of principals, superintendents, and school board members are captured in a blend of quantitative and qualitative studies. The breadth of studies is impressive, ranging from case studies of individual principals to cross-district comparisons to national data from the National Center for Education Statistics. To highlight important findings, we have organized the book into five sections. The first section, Chapters 2, 3, and 4, highlights the problem-solving strategies used by principals and superintendents when pressured to turn around low-performing schools. In the second section, Chapters 5 and 6, attention is devoted to ways in which school leaders act as buffers by reducing the impact of external demands within their local school contexts. Next, Chapters 7 and 8 explore creative ways in which financial analyses can be used to assess the cost-effectiveness of programs and services. Chapters 9 and 10 examine how principals enact their instructional leadership roles in managing curriculum reforms and evaluating teachers. Finally, in the last section, Chapter 11, Kenneth Leithwood synthesizes the major themes and ideas emerging across these chapters, paying particular attention to practical issues influencing school leaders in this era of school reform and accountability, as well as promising areas for future research.

Schools Dennis M. McInerney, Martin Dowson, Shawn Van Etten, 2006-04-01 Students arrive in our classrooms with complex sociocultural histories that include family cultural physical social emotional and prior learning experiences In order to be effective schools must directly address these complex histories in meaningful relevant and creative ways The aim of this volume is to examine research on effective schooling from a sociocultural perspective with a focus on developing the capacities of diverse students in diverse educational contexts The chapters in this volume cover a wide range of important topics as listed below Aligning Student Support With Achievement Goals Karen Seashore Louis, Molly F.

Gordon, 2006 Fully integrate your school s support community and watch achievement levels and morale soar Many principals feel they lack the personnel necessary to raise student achievement to mandated levels Yet as school leaders seek to improve educational outcomes one of the most underutilized groups remains student support professionals the counselors social workers and nurses already on site Karen Seashore Louis and Molly F Gordon offer a practical approach to creating a fully integrated student support community that contributes to increasing achievement levels Incorporating research and practical strategies into a broader paradigm of leadership they offer directives for implementing reform initiatives and rigorously assessing their effectiveness Bridging theory and practice this book provides An examination of emerging models linking student support programs and academic achievement Guidelines and resources for overcoming barriers to reform Exercises and suggestions to help start the change process Case studies of principals who have successfully integrated their student support services An expanded comprehensive support model CSP that considers the multi professional nature of student support activities Reorganizing existing resources is the most efficient path to school reform Rather than limiting the counselor or social worker s role use it to form a comprehensive support program to help improve school achievement

Fiscal Policy in Urban Education Christopher Roellke, Jennifer King Rice, 2002-10-01 Mission Statement The current education policy emphasis on higher performance standards school level accountability and market based reform presents important research challenges within the field of school finance The simultaneous pursuit of both equity and efficiency within this policy context creates an unprecedented demand for rigorous timely and field relevant research on fiscal practices in schools This book series is intended to help meet this demand Specifically the series provides a scholarly forum for interdisciplinary research on the financing of public private and higher education in the United States and abroad The series is committed to disseminating high quality empirical studies policy analyses theoretical models and literature reviews on contemporary issues in fiscal policy and practice Each themed volume is intended for a diversity of readers including academic researchers policy makers and school practitioners Information Technology in Educational Management for the Schools of the Future A. Fung, A.J. Visscher, Ben-Zion Barta, David Teather, 2013-03-09 This book is for both specialist and generalist For Information Technology IT and Educational Management EM researchers it brings together the latest information and analysis of ITEM projects in eleven countries But the issues raised by this collection of papers are so important for schools school systems and the future of education that it is essential reading not only for researchers but also for teachers administrators and all concerned with the planning and governance of our education systems New technologies may improve our lives in two ways by enabling us to do things better accomplishing what we do already more efficiently and by enabling us to do better things accomplishing new things that we were not able to do before Sometimes doing things better merges into doing better things Thus in the 19th century the coming of the railway enabled our forbears to accomplish their existing journeys in less time and in greater comfort But it also opened up the prospect of new journeys to more distant places and led ultimately to far reaching changes in lifestyles in new commuter settlements far from the old city centres So it is in the present day with Information Technology in Educational Management Some of the papers in this volume focus on specialist tasks for example how to develop a computer based decision support system to help those drawing up school timetables Others address situations in which the power of the technology offers us the potential to change radically what we do
