In Search of the Unknown (dungeons and Dragons Module) Robert William Chambers,2021 In Search of the Unknown Chambers Robert William,2017-06-24 In Search of the Unknown was an introductory scenario intended to teach Dungeon Masters DMs how to create dungeons Mike Carr intended it for use as an instructional adventure for new players The module is a beginner s scenario which allows the DM to add their own choice of monsters and treasure The module is coded B1 because it was created as the first adventure for the Dungeons Dragons Basic Set though it is possible to convert it to Advanced Dungeons Dragons The adventure is designed for characters of first to third level and was written for DMs and players with little or no gaming experience In Search of the Unknown Mike Carr,1981 In Search of Unknown Britain James Wellard,1983 In Search of the Unknown Robert W Chambers,2021-03-05 In Search of the Unknown by Robert W Chambers Many years ago two wealthy adventurers Rogahn the Fearless and Zelligar the Unknown built a hidden complex known as Quasqueton Caves From this base they conducted their business away from the prying eyes of civilization Although of questionable ethical standing the two repulsed a barbaric invasion and gained support from the locals Eventually they gathered their army and set out on an expedition against said enemies where they met their disappearance The player characters PCs enter the story at this point by listening to a series of voices provided on the module Each PC knows one or more stories although their veracity is somewhat questionable The rumors are mainly about a great treasure hidden somewhere in the Quasqueton Caves which the PCs can enter through a cave like opening A variety of monsters wander through the finished upper level of the dungeon including orcs troglodytes and giant mice The DM periodically checks to see if the group encounters these threats as well as the dangers in each individual room Most of the rooms have empty spaces in which the DM places whatever monster or treasure is best suited to his campaign The finished upper level served as home for Rogahn and Zelligar and contains much of their personal possessions A number of traps await an unwary group Some of these rooms include an area full of swimming pools some dangerous and some not and a wizard s laboratory The randomly generated monsters in the lower and unfinished level differ from the ones above and include zombies and goblins Some of the pre filled rooms at this level include a museum arena and large cave but many of the caves at this level do not include any description and the DM must devise the contents for these areas The end of the module includes a list of enemies and treasures that the group must fight and find It also includes a list of characters from various classes that the party may encounter while exploring the dungeon Also included are a number of pre generated characters that the party could use to play in the adventure In search of the castaways: South America, Australia, New Zealand Jules Verne,1911 The American Catalogue ,1905 Finding List ,1908 The Bookman ,1904 In Search of a Soul Horatio Willis
