connectedness with inhabitants of other lands The world out there arrives next door Diversité Déconstruite Et Reconstruite de L'oeuvre de Michael Ondaatje Jean-Michel Lacroix,1999 Trading Magic for Fact, Fact for Magic Marc Colavincenzo,2003 This study brings together three major areas of interest history postmodern fiction and myth Whereas neither history and postmodern fiction nor history and myth are strangers to one another postmodernism and myth are odd bedfellows For many critics postmodern thought with its resistance to metanarratives stands in direct and deliberate contrast to myth with its apparent tendency to explain the world by means of neat complete narratives There is a strain of postmodern Canadian historical fiction in which myth actually forms a complement not only to postmodernism s suspicion of master narratives but also to its privileging of those marginal and at times ignored areas of history The fourteen works of Canadian fiction considered demonstrate a doubled impulse which at first glance seems contradictory On the one hand they go about demythologizing in the Barthesian sense various elements of historical discourse exposing its authority as not simply a natural given but as a construct This includes the fact that the view of history portrayed in the fiction has been either underrepresented or suppressed by official historiography On the other hand the history is then re mythologized in that it becomes part of a pre existing myth its mythic elements are foregrounded myth and magic are woven into the narrative or it is portrayed as extraordinary in some way The result is an empowering of these histories for the future they are made larger than life and unforgettable Not Needing All the Words Annick Hillger,2006-05-26 Reading selected texts by Michael Ondaatje including the novels In the Skin of a Lion and The English Patient and the poem Birch Bark Annick Hillger demonstrates how his writing both answers and challenges attempts to delineate the idea of a Canadian national self She sets Ondaatje s work within the context of theoretical and philosophical ideas developing the notion of a literature of silence concerned with finding a ground for self beyond the realm of language Get Smart in the Skin of a Lion Maurice Egan,2001 Chips from a German Workshop: Essays chiefly on the science of language with index to vols 3 & 4 Friedrich Max Müller,1876 In the Skin of a Beast Peggy McCracken,2017-05-17 In medieval literature when humans and animals meet whether as friends or foes issues of mastery and submission are often at stake In the Skin of a Beast shows how the concept of sovereignty comes to the fore in such narratives reflecting larger concerns about relations of authority and dominion at play in both human animal and human human interactions Peggy McCracken discusses a range of literary texts and images from medieval France including romances in which animal skins appear in symbolic displays of power fictional explorations of the wolf s desire for human domestication and tales of women and snakes converging in a representation of territorial claims and noble status These works reveal that the qualities traditionally used to define sovereignty lineage and gender among them are in fact mobile and contingent In medieval literary texts as McCracken demonstrates human dominion over animals is a disputed model for sovereign relations among people it justifies exploitation even as it mandates protection and care and it depends on reiterations of human animal difference that paradoxically expose
