In Tekst Gevat:

In tekst Gevat Maaïke Meijer, 2006-01-15 Sekse en etniciteit impliceren fundamentele hiërarchieën in onze cultuur die alle representatie doorseden. Het zijn krachten die elke tekst van binnenuit besturen: conventies van representatie die zo vanzelfsprekend zijn dat zij niet langer als conventies worden gezien. Dat verklaart waarom deze categorieën zo vaak als natuurlijk worden beschouwd en daarmee in de analyse van cultuuruitingen over het hoofd worden gezien. Sekse en etniciteit impliceren echter niet minder dan een grammatica van verschil volgens welke elke tekst en elk beeld van onze cultuur worden verbogen. In tekst gevat is een inleiding tot een kritiek van representatie. Het is een toegankelijk boek dat gevoed is door een aantal van de klassieke en eigentijdse cultuurwetenschappelijke methoden en theorieën. Deze worden helder en toepassingsgericht uitgelegd. Maaïke Meijer richt zich daarbij vooral op de methodiek van de kritische cultuuranalyse. De lezer treft veel voorbeelden van systematisch uitgevoerde analyses aan. In elk hoofdstuk staan een of meer teksten centraal die de auteur zowel onderhoudend als expliciet behandelt. Steeds gaat het om de vraag hoe het tekstanalytisch instrumentarium in concreto werkt. Het begrip tekst wordt daarbij ruim opgevat: het omvat niet alleen canonieke teksten uit de Nederlandse literatuur maar ook foto's, drinkliedjes en reclame uitingen. Het Amsterdam Academic Archive is een initiatief van Amsterdam University Press. In de serie verschijnen populair wetenschappelijke publicaties die niet meer leverbaar zijn maar waarnaar nog wel vraag is in binnen en buitenland.

Travelling the Dutch East Indies Rick Honings e.a., 2022-12-14 In 1594 the first Dutch ships sailed to the East. Throughout the seventeenth and eighteenth century almost five thousand ships were sent to the Dutch East Indies attracting a growing number of travellers with trade as one of the major incentives. In addition to Dutch missionary ambitions progress and technological innovations not only fed the growing hunger for expansion but also stirred an appetite for adventure. The hope for a life in welfare is mirrored in the growing numbers of passengers travelling East in the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century. At the same time Javanese travellers started to explore their homeland as well. Travelling the Dutch East Indies not only offers a diverse picture of travel and a critical perspective on the colonial ideology with which it is associated but also shows how the collections of Leiden University Libraries can serve as a rich source for all kinds of historical research.

Mobility and Localisation in Language Learning Jane Fenoulhet, Cristina Ros i Solé, 2010 Learning a foreign language facilitates the most intimate access one can get to the culture and society of another language community. The process of learning a foreign language always involves intercultural levels of engagement between the languages and cultures concerned. This series is not limited to the field of applied linguistics but also includes relevant research from linguistic anthropology, language learning pedagogy, translation studies and language philosophy.

Rethinking Disability Patrick Devlieger, Beatriz Miranda-Galarza, Steven E. Brown, Megan Strickfaden, 2016-06-15 The act of life is a lived experience common and unique that ties each of us to every other lived experience The fact of disability does not alter this fundamental truth In this edition of Rethinking Disability World Perspectives in Culture and Society we are presented with a system of thinking that considers the values of disability as a resource as a creative source of culture that moves disability out of the realm of victimized people and insurmountable barriers and provides opportunities to use the experience of disability to enter into networks that recognize strengths of differing abilities The authors within will intrigue you will move you will charm you but always will challenge your notion of sameness and difference as they confront the construct and deconstruct of disability and ableism They present compelling arguments for viewing disABILITY through the multiple lenses of disability culture They explore themes and issues that transcend past and origins time and place nuances of genetics to experiences of present and becoming and towards the future and beyond mere human yet always intrinsically connected to being human This book is intended for all audiences who dare to confront difference and sameness within themselves and in connection with others to inspire researchers who wish to explore and examine disability across social cultural and economic barriers It is an invitation to push away the barriers bring ableism inside to a place where the prosthesis is no longer the elephant in the room

Interface of Law and Justice Frans-Willem Korsten, 2021-02-25 This book looks at the way in which the call for justice is portrayed through art and presents a wide range of texts from film to theatre to essays and novels to interrogate the law. Calls for justice may have their positive connotations but throughout history most have caused annoyance. Art is very well suited to deal with such annoyance or to provoke it. This study shows how art operates as an interface here between two spheres: the larger realm of justice and the more specific system of law. This interface has a double potential. It can make law and justice affirm or productively disturb one another. Approaching issues of injustice that are felt globally, eight chapters focus on original works of art not dealt with before, including Milo Rau's The Congo Tribunal, Elfriede Jelinek's Ulrike Maria Stuart, Valeria Luiselli's Tell Me How It Ends, and Nicolas Winding Refn's Only God Forgives. They demonstrate how through art's interface, impassable areas are addressed, new laws are made imaginable, the span of systems of laws is explored, and the differences in what people consider to be just are brought to light. The book considers the improvement of law and justice to be a global struggle, and whilst the issues dealt with are culture specific, it argues that the logics introduced are applicable everywhere.

Character Constellations Roel Smeets, 2021-11-15 Fiction has a major social impact, not least because it co-shapes the image that society has of various social groups. Drawing on a collection of 170 contemporary Dutch language novels, Character Constellations presents a range of data-driven statistical models to study depictions of characters in terms of gender, race, ethnicity, class, age, sexuality, and other identity categories. Incorporating the tools of network analysis, each chapter highlights an aspect of fictional social networks that affects the representation of social groups: their centrality, their communities, and their conflicts. While reading individual novels in light of emerging statistical patterns, combining the formal methods of social network analysis with the interpretive tools of narratology, this study shows how central societal themes such as inequality and emancipation, integration and segregation, and social mobility and class struggle are foregrounded, replicated, or distorted in the Dutch novel. Showcasing what character-based critiques of literary representation gain by integrating data-driven methods into the practice of critical close reading, Character Constellations contributes to societal debates on cultural representation and identity and the role of fiction.

Paradoxes of Postcolonial Culture Sandra Ponzanesi, 2012-02-01 This innovative contribution to understanding the promise and contradictions of contemporary postcolonial culture applies a wide array of theoretical tools to a large body of literature. The author compares the work of established Indian writers, including Bharati Mukherjee, Meena Alexander, Sara Suleri, and Sunetra Gupta, to new writings by such Afro-Italian immigrant women as Ermina dell'Oro, Maria Abbè, Viarengo Ribka Sibhatu, and Sirad Hassan. Sandra Ponzanesi's analysis highlights a set of dissymmetrical relationships that are set in the context of different imperial linguistic and market policies. By dealing with issues of representation linked to postcolonial literary genres, to gender and ethnicity questions, and to new cartographies of diaspora, this book imbues the postcolonial debate with a new language.
